2010 Election of ABC Officers and Directors
SUBMISSION OF AGENDA ITEMS
DEADLINE FOR AGENDA ITEMS: SEPTEMBER 15, 2010

All Agenda Items, officer and committee reports for the ABC Board Meeting to be conducted at the AA National Championships in Booneville, AR, must be submitted by September 15, 2010, to be included in the Agenda Book and put up for consideration at the meeting as per policy book stipulations. Early submission allows us to put the topics for consideration on the website and to get books to the Directors in time for meaningful input from the general membership. Action items submitted late and not in writing should not be considered as they are often not well thought out causing many problems after the fact. Reports that cannot be completed such as the Treasurer's Financial Statement and Futurity Stats, may be submitted by bringing 20 copies to the meeting, but any Action Items from any officer or director, committee chair, etc. should be submitted by the deadline

PLEASE NOTE NEW POLICY FOR SUBMITTING AGENDA ITEMS:

Items must be from an ABC officer or Committee Chair, or from a Board Member or Regional Club which has first voted on the item by that club's members. Items from individual members should first be discussed with one or more of that person's Regional Directors before being submitted and will be supported by fifteen (15) different actual signatures of ABC members. Since agenda items need to be presented by someone to the Board, one of the regional directors shall present the Agenda Item to the Board of Directors. (1992) (2008)

Please include a copy of the current policy in the Policy Book along with suggested wording changes.

We have always published Officer and Committee Reports in the ABC Magazine. This can be a very difficult task to accomplish since most of the reports have to be retyped. Please help us by sending your Agenda Reports in a .doc or .rtf format by email to:

ABC Agenda Chairman Dee Hartnek
DHartnek@gmail.com

It would also expedite matters if you would also CC to the following:

Mary Jo Trimble: trimnatchbritts@midamer.net (for compiling list for ABC Website before meeting).

Dee Hempfield: ambritteditor@roadrunner.com (for publication in the magazine)

President Hank Hartnek: HankHartnek@gmail.com (who will be putting together the Agenda Disk for publication.)

If you cannot send as a .doc or .rtf file, mail to Dee Hartnek at 6909 E. Camino Garcia, Sierra Vista, AZ 85650 or fax to her at 520-803-9696 but please call first.

YOUR COOPERATION IN WRITING YOUR REPORTS, MEETING DEADLINES, SENDING THEM IN .DOC OR .RTF FORMATS WILL GREATLY HELP THOSE OF US WHO MUST DEAL WITH THEM AFTER THE MEETING IS OVER AND WILL HELP US HAVE A MORE INFORMED MEMBERSHIP BOTH BEFORE AND AFTER THE ABC BOARD MEETING.

Dear Parent Club Officer or Delegate,

We wanted to extend our congratulations on your breed's first ever AKC Grand Champion, GCH CH GOURLEY'S DFL 99 CARAT DIAMOND, who earned the title on May 29, 2010 to become the first ever Grand Champion in your breed.

This new title is available to AKC Champions of Record, creating the opportunity for Champion dog owners to return to the show ring with their dogs and further showcase the quality of their breeding stock. Competition for this new title began at AKC all-breed, group and specialty shows on May 12, 2010, concurrent with the implementation of the 2010-2011 AKC Point Schedule.

The AKC Electronic Reports Department offers a variety of competition results reports with special pricing for all parent clubs. Custom reports are also available which can research other title firsts in your breed across many of our sanctioned events. For more information on report pricing and availability, or for assistance with our free New Titles of Record report or the Electronic Studbook subscription, please contact the Electronic Reports Department directly via email at reports@akc.org

Articles from the Dr. David Kenney Collection

I recently attended a ceremony in Carbondale, IL, honoring Dr. David Kenney. I asked Dr. David if I could bring out some of his articles for publication in the ABC Magazine and he graciously agreed. Many were published years ago and then collected into a book which he dubs Fact and Fiction. From time to time I hope to send some of these to the magazine. He is an ABC Life Member and a member of the Brittany Field Trial Hall of Fame. He served as Director of both the Illinois Department of Conservation and Historic Sites. He campaigned his dogs on the Brittany circuit, ran locally against the pointers and setters as well and has been a stalwart of the Illinois Brittany Club and Illinois Brittany Championship for many years. David currently resides near his nieces in the St. Louis area.

The Other Duality – To Hunt and to Trial

Reprinted from:

THE LAST BOBWHITE, DAVE KENNEY'S OUTDOORS IN FACT AND FICTION

When we think of the “dual dog” it is usually in the context of field trialing and showing for conformation. Each is a great sport in its own right, as the popularity of both showing and trialing attests. Certainly nothing in these remarks is intended to disparage the splendid sport of showing the Brittany in formal competition.

Still there is another duality that deserves our attention – to hunt the trial dog to enjoy its company in the field under informal conditions and in doing so to contribute to its fullest development as a field trial competitor.

This writer has lived for many years in a hot bed of major circuit field trialing where it was generally assumed by quail hunters that the pointers and setters that performed in these contests simply were not suited to be foot handled gun dogs. Probably some of them were not, for lack of opportunity more than native capacity. Many of them were.

But the same should not be said of the field trial Brittany. In most cases its physical and mental endowments fit it admirably to become a fine hunting companion as well as a competitor in trials. The proud owner of a field trial winner will find that his/her feeling for the dog will become even deeper after the two have been together during a season of bird hunting.

That is true whether the dog is trialed by its owner or for him/her by one of the professional corps. The person who has his or her dog with a professional during the months of trialing has even more to gain from making the dog a gunning companion, than does the owner/handler.

Field trial competition can be a great thrill, even when one does not handle the dog personally; but there is at least an equal payoff in the excitement and pleasure of a successful hunting partnership between the owner and the dog. And a great deal more healthful exercise can be obtained from the hunt than from arm chair field trialing.

But at least as important as the benefits that the owner may derive from hunting his or her field trial dog is the benefit to the dog itself, as an individual and a competitor. The intelligent hunting dog comes to realize that in order to fill the game bag it must do its job just right. It develops a desire, an ardor for the hunt that no amount of trialing can impart. With maturity the dog that is hunted achieves a quality of field trial performance that could not be attained through trialing alone.

Those who own field trial dogs and pay the many costs of their development need not fear that somehow hunting will spoil the dog for trials. If the dog is worth developing to the level of adult competition, it will only benefit in the long run from being hunted.

We have all seen the impressive derby with much promise that goes on to become an all-age or trial gun dog with only indifferent results. Somehow, the dog never quite seems to exhibit the maturity that might make it great. There have been many field champions that never did become all that they might have been as trial dogs or companion of the hunting fields. Exercise of the latter role might have enhanced the former.

So, when the trial season and another round of classics, regional trials, and national championships are finished, take that field trial dog of yours, of any age, to the gunning covers. If you have not had that pleasure before you will find that to hunt your dog will pay rich rewards to both members of the gunning team. Make the dog a shining example of that other duality – to hunt and to trial.

Conditionally Registered Dogs Eligible to Participate in Field Trials

Starting July 1, 2010 a dog with conditional registration may participate in field trials provided the dog has a DNA profile recorded in the AKC DNA data base. Conditional registration is for dogs that had full AKC registration and subsequent DNA testing indicated one of the dog's ancestors is unknown. In this case the dog's registration status is changed from full to conditional. Conditionally registered dogs appear to be and are believed to be purebred. The AKC Board in January 2010 approved a recommendation from the Performance Events Department to allow conditionally registered dogs to enter field trials. They have always been able to enter all other types of AKC performance events.

Full eligibility requirements can be found on the website for each type of Performance Event. Click on the left hand column topic entitled "Eligible Breeds."

MARY JO TRIMBLE

The Legacy of A Worker Bee

There is a rule of management that says, "No person in an organization is indispensable."

However, in most organizations, with apologies to Orwell, "Some are more indispensable than others."

In the American Brittany Club, There is one person about which this can be truthfully said. That person is MARY JO TRIMBLE, Club Executive Secretary among other duties mostly uncompensated, and often unrecognized.

Most of our members realize that Mary Jo attends all Board Meetings, takes and disseminates minutes, contacts or arranges to contact the membership to apprise them of all policy changes. She travels when necessary to do these and other things. She lobbies legislators in several states and lobbies the lobbyists who lobby the legislators, and recruits volunteers to contact legislators or other important officials. Most members know that, too.

Unless you are a member club secretary or an event secretary, you might have no idea that she processes, corrects if needed, and liaises concerning all member club events with AKC and she processes the reports for each and every one. If she sees a problem she calls you – or AKC if need be. She knows who to talk to. And they listen to her with respect.

If you frequent the Brittany Lists, you often see a "heads up" from Mary Jo on rule changes and new or proposed dog legislation in states and cities all over the country. The amount of time this takes is enormous. Just knowing who to listen to or who to call takes effort and is dependent on a large network of friends, allies, and lobbyists all over the country. Mary Jo gets these things done because she took the time to build this network.

These abilities and accomplishments did not materialize out of thin air. They came about because of years of work applied to the cause of all who own, hunt, show, enjoy, or otherwise compete with Brittanys.

The ability to get things done to help and promote the breed came about because a young teacher with a National Field Champion Brittany named Franklin County Bandit, having benefitted, knew the truth: If you prosper in any endeavor, what benefitted you came with an obligation to benefit others.

Consider the awards received and the activities undertaken over the following years, and recognize how fully, in Mary Jo's case, that obligation was filled:

Currently:

- Executive Secretary of the American Brittany Club, since 1998
- Director, Field Trial Clubs of Illinois since 2007 and Chairman of the Legislative Committee since 2009
- Director, Illinois Federation of Outdoor Resources
- Treasurer, Illinois Brittany Club

Illinois Department of Natural Resources Director Marc Miller presents Hall of Fame Award to Mary Jo Trimble.

Honors and Awards:

- 2010 Inducted into the Illinois Outdoor Hall of Fame
- 2009 AKC Lifetime Achievement Award, Performance Dogs
- 2007 – Field Trial Clubs of Illinois Honor Roll
- 2006 – Mary Jo with husband Ray were honored when the Illinois Legislature issued a proclamation declaring May 28th as Trimble Day to recognize the contributions of Ray and Mary Jo in making the Pyramid Park field trial venue a reality
- 2004 – Mary Jo was named a Life Member of ABC
- 2001 – Mary Jo was elected to the ABC Hall of Fame
- Selected Delegate to 5 sessions of Illinois Conservation Congress
- Selected member of Joint Committee (with the Illinois Legislature) to review and edit proposed dog legislation; her efforts were instrumental in causing unfavorable legislation to be dropped for the time being. This was in 2009.

These accomplishments were earned with a tremendous amount of work. You don't get all those awards without giving a huge amount of effort and time to the cause.

The result directly benefits the American Brittany Club, making it a stronger organization. And to stay effective, the organization must have "up-and-comers" showing the same level of dedication and sustained effort.

How about YOU?

The Silence of the Brittanys

By Larry Bates

The crisp fall weather, the planted rows of pines, the whir of grouse wings through the painted oak leaves, the whistle of rising woodcock, all accented by the staunch points of a pair of orange and white Brittanys, made for a full day of hunting on this fallow dairy farm on the sandy soils of central Wisconsin. The two weary hunters backed up to the big barn doors, which opened into the haymow. The walls were old, red cedar boards in need of paint and the roof was shingled with weathered cedar shakes. It was an old barn built on two levels on the side of a hill. At the top of the hill, the big barn doors opened to the east. The lower level was made of fieldstone, mortared together. Its doors opened to the west. They were long gone and the barn now belonged to the raccoons and the ghosts of bygone milk cows. The farm, inherited by a friend, had not been worked for several years. The house had been boarded up after a fire but the hunters were welcome to sleep on the old hay in the upper level of the barn.

The door of the pickup cap was lifted and the tailgate dropped. Sleeping bags were unfurled and spread on the old hay just inside the big barn doors. The dog crates were brought in and the cased shotguns were laid next to the sleeping bags. The dogs were walked and put to bed in their crates. The two hunters sat on the tailgate and enjoyed a beer as they looked up through the trees into the star filled October sky.

"It's so calm and peaceful here. I'm sure glad the moon isn't out tonight."

"Why's that?"

"That's when Eddie used to come out and do his dance."

"Come on. Let's not bring him up. We have to sleep in this old barn tonight. You know, he lived just down the road a ways."

In 1957, Plainfield was in the news. Located in Waushara County, one of the sand counties of Wisconsin it was the home of Ed Guin. He lived by himself on a small dairy farm with no electricity or indoor plumbing. His mother had died several years before.

"That's the hardware store in town where his last victim disappeared. He took the cash register too."

"It's one thing for a person to disappear, but when you start taking the money, they're going to start looking for you."

During the deer season, a local hunter had seen Ed's truck going down the sand road with a tarp covering its cargo. He thought he saw a cash register sticking out from the back of the tarp. The local sheriff went out to investigate. What he found made the news services all over the world. Over the years, several ladies from this area had disappeared without a trace. The mystery had just been solved. Ed Guin's house was a house of horrors.

"You know he made soup bowls from human skulls and lampshades from skin. He had a body suit of human skin. They think it was his mother and he would put it on and run through the woods howling on moonlit nights. I guess there's not a lot to do in Plainfield."

"Would you knock it off. We have to sleep out here tonight."

"Hey, don't worry. I'll protect you. I've got my dad's old 38.

Besides, we have these two, fine guard dogs"

"Yeah, Brittanys make such great guard dogs. They'd probably lick someone to death. But you go right ahead and protect me with that old 38. I left my shells in the truck."

"Want another beer?"

"Sure. I'll have just one more and then I'm going to hit the hay."

They continued telling stories of Ed Guin- the cannibalism, the heart the sheriff found on the stove, and the "venison steaks" Ed shared with his unknowing neighbors. They were like two kids telling ghost stories, but these were real and they happened just down the road.

"That's it. I've had enough beer. I'm beat and I'm going to bed."

Larry stripped off his boots and crawled into his sleeping bag as Rich pulled the big doors shut. Rich had the lone flashlight and he shined it around the haymow.

"There's a ladder over there that goes down to the milk parlor. I'm going down and check it out."

"Hey man, have a ball," Larry said in a low voice.

Rich disappeared down the ladder, the flashlight in one hand and his Colt snub nose in the other. The beam of the flashlight could be seen moving back and forth across the opening leading to the lower level.

"Man, you should see the set up down here. This is really neat."

"Yeah, ok. I'll see it in the morning," Larry said in a sleepy voice.

"Hey, who's there?" Rich's voice rose with excitement.

Larry could see the beam of the flashlight as it swung towards the outside doors of the stone foundation. Rich's voice turned to fear. "No! Get back. No!"

The flashlight beam went out. There was a loud crack and a flash of fire from the barrel of the old 38, towards one of the lower doors. Both Brits jumped to attention in their crates.

After a few moments, Larry said in a wide-awake voice, "Rich? Rich? Come on. I know you're screwing around."

There was no answer. It was so dark, that you could not see your hand in front of your face.

"Rich?" There was still no answer. He made a final try. "Rich?" Nothing.

More moments passed. Larry, sitting up in his sleeping bag, fumbled in the dark for the shotgun case. He unzipped the case, pulled out the pump gun and worked the action. It was all a bluff of course, since the shells were in the pickup. A low growl came from both Brittanys. Something rustled in the weeds on the hillside next to the barn. Brush rubbed up against the old cedar boards on the side of the barn. Someone or something was coming up the hill. The rusty hinges of the big barn door creaked slightly. And then, the barn doors flew open and a screaming, howling black silhouette came charging through the door.

"Eddie Guin! Eddie Guin!"

"You son-of-a...."

"Gotcha!"

The two hunters lay in their sleeping bags starring up into the blackness of the barns rafters. Soon their eyes adjusted to the dark and they could see little slivers of astral light through the knotholes and cracks of the aged boards.

"I knew it was you all the time."

"Sure you did."

"No, when the dogs stopped growling and were quiet, I knew it was you. Then they started crying, and then I really knew it was you. They must have had your scent."

"Don't worry. I'm not going to tell anyone how freaked out you were...well maybe just a few people... just kidding. Hey, lets talk about what we're going to do tomorrow?"

They planned their hunt for the next day. One would take the dogs through the wood lot, north of the house. The other would circle around, cross the old pasture and take a stand in the pines across from the wood lot. The dogs could never get that old, wood lot grouse pointed. He always heard them coming and flushed ahead, escaping into the pines. This time, there'd be someone there to greet him.

"Sounds like it'll work. Why don't you push the woods since the dogs listen to you better and I'll shoot."

"Why don't we talk about it tomorrow? You know you drank a lot of beer. You're going to be making some trips outside tonight. Watch out for Eddie! If you're still alive in the morning, we'll flip to see who gets to shoot. Sleep tight."

Author's Note: Ed Guin was found guilty of murder, a verdict that was later overturned by reason of insanity. He spent the rest of his life in the Central Hospital for the Criminally Insane where he died July 26, 1984. He was said to be a model prisoner. His story was the inspiration for the characters Norman Bates in Psycho and Buffalo Bill in Silence of the Lambs. Most important, Rich won the toss but Al and Freckles got that old wood lot grouse pointed and he ended up on my table.

Hunt Tests

EDITORS NOTE: This write-up was overlooked when the results were put together on page 23 of the June issue under San Diego & California.

The FIFTH annual jointly sponsored Hunt Tests, held by the California Brittany Club and the San Diego Brittany Club in California City was excellent from start to finish. The outstanding California weather was evident with very warm days and cool evenings. The biggest challenge was getting to the grounds over and around huge mud holes from the previous weeks rain. (lots of fun) Each club held their Hunt Tests adjacent to each other's events so that participants could test at four different events. This concept works well for both the clubs in that sharing and cooperation is foremost and the participants can earn titles in one weekend. Several titles were completed.

Delicious food was provided by Laurie Blanton and her crew of helpers. Lunches were hot, delicious, and just plain great. Dinner was a delicious trip dinner prepared by Heather Valentine treats/delicacies were prepared by Debra Frane. Rave reviews were heard about the camp.

A large entry of Brittans and many other pointing breeds was well managed by our competent judges and Hunt Test Committee. Illness afflicted one of our judges for day #2 and thankfully Leslie Truncala willingly volunteered to complete the assignment with very little notice.

The experienced gunners, Bill Leffingwell (a last minute fill-in) and Charlie Lucitra for CBC and Guy Ward and Justin D'Alessandro for SDBC were consistently on the mark. Mike Frane of CBC and Mark Ambre of SDBC were efficient and hard working Marshalls. The Secretaries, Linda McDonald of CBC and Laurie Blanton of SDBC Completed all the necessary details without a hitch. The chair persons were Sheri Harder of CBC and Mary Brown of SDBC. It was obvious that all committee members worked efficiently on the assigned tasks and cooperation and support within both clubs was great.

The dogs of course totally enjoyed the event and will be ready for the next level next year.

SHADY'S TIA MARIA

Painting by Ross Young

It is with heavy hearts that we share the loss of Shady's Tia Maria with our Brittany friends. A little over a year ago, she was initially diagnosed with SARs (Sudden Acquired Retinal Degeneration Syndrome). Early last June, she was accurately diagnosed with Immune-Mediated Retinitis (IMR) at Iowa State University. For those of you who are like us and have never heard of SARs and IMR, they are both auto-immune diseases. An auto-immune disease is a disease in which the body forms anti-bodies to attack its own cells. In the case of SARs/IMR, the body produces antibodies that attack its own retinal cells, ultimately causing the onset of sudden blindness. In Tia's case her IMR was untreatable and the result was sudden complete blindness. She actually handled her disability much better than we did. Her vocabulary grew to 14 words, she completely mapped the backyard, kitchen and breakfast room and was comfortable negotiating her way around familiar territory. We discovered many helpful hints to make life easier for a blind dog. Although we are heartbroken by her loss, we truly believe she is in a much better place now where she can see and run in field trials again.

Tia was a fairly solemn little puppy, always studying her surroundings and figuring out what was expected of her. She almost seemed to be asking, "what do you want me to do, oh yeah, I can do that" no matter what we asked of her. In field trials, the handler didn't handle Tia, she handled the handler almost on a string, usually between 11:00 & 1:00, always knowing where you were. She was the kind of dog most everyone wants, we were just lucky she was ours. Some of the highlights of her outstanding career are, winning the 2006 ABC National Open All Age Championship, 2007 Purina Dog of the Year, Runner-Up 2004 ABC National Amateur All Age Championship, 3rd Place 2008 ABC National Amateur All Age

Championship, Winner 2002 ABC Western All Age Futurity and 2002 ABC All Age Futurity Run-Off. She was an 8 x American Field Champion with 24 hour wins to her credit. She earned 14 first place ribbons out of her 24 hour placements and 53 first place ribbons out of 106 AKC placements. During her career she set 3 records in the Brittany world, she won the ABC Chukar Classic 3 times in 2002, 2003 & 2007, she won the Western All Age Championship twice in 2006 & 2007, and became the youngest Dual Champion Brittany in Brittany history at 23 months of age.

She only had one litter of puppies, our fault, not hers, she loved her babies. We were too busy having fun with her and working on her career. We thought we had placed all of her babies in field trial homes, but everyone who has ever had litters knows how that goes, they don't always get trialed. She produced FC/AFC Cruz Control, Double Up's TNT Tori (RU 2005 Eastern Gun Dog Futurity), Desert Rose IV (RU 2005 Victoire Nationale), Shady's Jack Daniel, Shady's Drambuie, and Shady's Little Lady Dogg, all are field pointed and Boozer is also show pointed.

She left us with so many wonderful memories of field trials, shows, driving us crazy in the middle of the night on the bed making her talking frog toy "croak", and especially this past year squeaking her talking chicken toy to tell us it was time for her to go outside. We're so thankful she chose us to share her life with. We miss you "Missy Tia", may you always have plenty of room to run, lots of quail & chukar to find and win lots of blue ribbons in that better place where you are now. We'll meet ya at the gate when it's our turn, wait for us and, yes, I'll bring the damn frog with me.

Marilynne & Clem Little

What the Average Dog Owner Needs to Know About SARDs and IMR

Shady's Tia Maria's Journey with IMR

Have you heard of Sudden Acquired Retinal Degeneration Syndrome (SARDs) or Immune Mediated Retinitis (IMR)? We were at a complete loss when the neurologist said, "I think she has SARDs". I promised Tia when this journey was over, I would try to write an article for the Brittany population in an effort to share what we have learned about SARDs and IMR and what the average dog owner should know. Understand we are not vets, nor do we pretend to be authorities on this subject. The following is what we have learned and an accounting of Tia's final journey with IMR.

Sudden Acquired Retinal Degeneration Syndrome (SARDs) and Immune-Mediated Retinitis (IMR) are both auto-immune diseases. An auto-immune disease is a disease in which the body forms anti-bodies to attack its own cells. In the case of SARDs/IMR, the body produces antibodies that attack its own retinal cells, ultimately causing the onset of sudden blindness. In SARDs, it is believed that retinal auto-antibodies are formed locally within the eye. Whereas with IMR, it is believed that the retinal auto-antibodies are formed elsewhere in the body, and through circulation, reach the eyes. Both SARDs and IMR can cause sudden blindness, studies have shown that it is also an indicator of potentially life-threatening systemic issues. SARDs and IMR should not be confused with PRA (Progressive Retinal Atrophy) or PRD (Progressive Retinal Degeneration) both of which are considered to be genetic, this is not the case with SARDs and IMR. Approximately 4000 SARDs/IMR cases are seen in the United States annually. They are generally, but not limited to, ages of 7 to 14, with females being more susceptible over males.

One major problem with SARDs/IMR is that quick action is crucial. If left untreated, SARDs/IMR may cause your dog to go blind literally within a few days to a few weeks. If you don't recognize the symptoms and act fast, any or all chance of possible recovery may be lost. If you notice any of the following symptoms, take your dog to a vet and vet ophthalmologist immediately; reluctance to jump on/off beds or sofas in dim light conditions, reluctance to walk down stairs in dim light conditions, reluctance to chase a ball, abnormally dilated pupils, polyphagia (excessive eating), polydypsia (excessive drinking), polyuria (excessive urinating), hypersalivation, and/or excessive tearing eyes. A veterinary ophthalmologist will conduct a maze test, and an Electroretinogram (ERG) test. The ERG test will indicate a flat line for SARDs patients, for IMR patients, the ERG test may or may not be flat lined. Very few veterinary ophthalmologists have the Red Light/Blue Light Pupil Light Reflex (PLR) test equipment called Melan-100 Light Source due to the expense of the equipment. Both SARDs and IMR patients will have a good Blue Light PLR response. If there is no response to blue light, the patient does not have SARDs or IMR. There will be no response to the Red Light PLR in SARDs patients, the pupils will remain dilated and will not constrict. In IMR patients, there will be some pupil response to the Red Light PLR test.

Currently there are two forms of treatments for SARDs and IMR patients. Immediate treatment is a strong prescription combination of steroids and antibiotics (prednisone and doxycycline) to help suppress the auto-immune response and assist in stopping the rapid deterioration of vision to preserve what vision the dog currently has. There is also an experimental treatment using human immunoglobulins (IVIg) to help restore or maintain additional sight capability. The IVIg can be administered intravenously or a localized intraocular treatment can be administered directly into the eye with an injection. IVIg treatment for SARDs was first successfully performed at Iowa State University in April 2007 by Dr. Sinisa Grozdanic, DVM, PhD. Since then, there have been some additional successful treated cases. The IVIg treatment is so new that there is no data showing the long term effects on dogs receiving this treatment. Any IMR patients having a history of previous or current neoplasia (tumors) are not eligible for this treatment as it will rapidly accelerate the tumor growth.

To recount Tia's final journey, a year ago last April 2009, during the ABC Chukar Classic, we noticed Tia was basically running in small circles during her brace, never getting too far away from the handler's horse. Dumb as we were, we thought she was coming in season since she was always a little squirrely during her heat cycles. We thought, great, as we were planning to breed her. We finished the field trial circuit and returned home. We did pick up on Tia coming through the kennel doggy door very hesitantly as if she couldn't see. She didn't appear to have cataracts, but something was definitely wrong with her vision.

The first step was our local vet for a skull x-ray which showed nothing. Two days later, we were at the neurologist's office for her MRI test and heard the word SARDs for the first time ever. Two days after that we were at the veterinary ophthalmologist's office for the initial visit and maze test which Tia flunked miserably and confirmed that she could not see anything. She was scheduled for an Electroretinogram (ERG) test the next day. Her ERG test result indicated a flat line leading the doctor to conclude SARDs as the diagnosis. A heavy dosage of prednisone & doxycycline was prescribed to help suppress the auto-immune response and we were told to revisit the doctor in two weeks to see if there was any response to the drug treatment.

We went home in a state of shock with a blind dog and a great book we bought at the ophthalmologist's office titled, "Living With Blind Dogs" by Caroline D. Levin, RN, published by Lantern Publications. The first thing we did was follow many of the suggestions in the book, blind-proofed the backyard so she couldn't get hurt, left the grass surrounding the fence borders longer so she would know when she was approaching it, taught her how to negotiate steps and began teaching her a whole new vocabulary. In the house, we used different scented air fresheners on her crate, the back door, above the elevated water dish, etc. so she would know where she was. We also used different textured rugs leading to her crate, back door, water dish, etc. I think during this time period all three of us were depressed, Tia was not only depressed but very confused ...who wouldn't be with your whole world suddenly dark.

I started looking on the internet for anything related to SARDs, I was lucky, I found a wonderful website produced by Suzanne & Jay, a couple in Southern California with a Dachshund named Oscar, who had been diagnosed with SARDs 2 months before Tia. They had just been through what we were going through and shared their findings. Oscar had recently been treated for SARDs by Dr. Sinisa Grozdanic, DVM, PhD at Iowa State University and was regaining limited vision. After talking with Jay about Oscar's treatment, I immediately contacted Dr. G. at ISU with Tia's symptoms & test results. We scheduled an appointment with Dr. G. at Iowa State for the Monday following her next ophthalmologist visit, depending on the outcome. Our ophthalmologist is a terrific professional, she urged us to go to ISU in hopes of saving some of Tia's sight. We were already packed and left for Iowa that afternoon. The last thing I did prior to leaving was to fax Tia's complete medical history to Dr. G.'s office.

While driving to Iowa from Washington state, we stayed at Motel 6's since the room layouts are all the same and would make it easier on Tia. Due to the different scents in each room, she had to "map" each new room, but the furniture was all in the same place. We arrived bright & early at ISU for our 8:00 am appointment with Dr. G. filled with optimism. We were committed to do everything within our power to restore Tia's vision. Dr. G.'s first concern was learning that Tia had had two tiny little "be be" sized tumors removed from a mammary gland in 2006. We contacted our local vet who in turn faxed all the pertinent paperwork & test results immediately. After thoroughly examining Tia, Dr. G. commented that physically, her eyes were in great shape and we had gotten her to him in time. Dr. G. proceeded with the Red Light/Blue Light PLR test and sure enough, the Red Light PLR indicated pupil response in both eyes. She had IMR, not SARDs. He explained the disastrous results of the proposed IVIg treatments in IMR patients with any possible residual tumor cells. The IVIg treatments effectively shut down the immune system and will cause any cancer cells to explode and grow at a phenomenal rate. Before he completely ruled Tia out as a treatment candidate, he performed an extensive ultrasound and located two more tiny, tiny tumors. They were so small, I never would have found them manually until they grew quite a bit. So it turned out to be a bittersweet trip, we couldn't save or correct her sight, but we did save her from cancer.

Sadly, we returned home and scheduled the surgery to remove the tumors and spay her at the same time. We also returned for a follow-up visit to our ophthalmologist. We informed her ISU had determined Tia had IMR, not SARDs based on the Red Light/Blue Light test. She purchased the Melan-100 Light Source equipment following Tia's IMR diagnosis at Iowa State University. Once the machine arrived, Tia came back in to be tested and used as the baseline, tests results were identical to the ISU test results.

The next few months passed slowly, Tia's vocabulary grew rapidly and she seemed, if not happy, at least content as she adjusted to her new life. Clem & I were in a state of devastated shock and found it hard to believe something so terrible could happen to this great athlete. During this time, we heard all kinds of standard phrases like, "blind dogs can live just as happy lives as sighted dogs" – tell that one to an athlete that can't see to run anymore, "SARDs/IMR isn't painful" – how do they know, "as long as she doesn't fall in the pool, she'll live a happy, healthy life" – great. Listening to these comments did nothing but make us feel worse. If you know of a SARDs/IMR dog, please don't say any of these comments to the poor owners that are trying to cope with the disease and care for their blind dog.

September '09 came and we decided since Tia was doing so well, we would take her on our regional field trial circuit, BIG mistake! She was thrown into unfamiliar surroundings, forgot most of her vocabulary during that time span and obviously wanted to go home where she felt "safe". She did enjoy the pets from her many visitors that stopped by to see her. We kept her at home where she was comfortable after that trip.

Her basic health seemed fine for months, she was used to her harness instead of the collar, making it easier for us to help guide her around when necessary. She lost the desire to play with the onset of IMR, but she did enjoy quietly squeaking her "talking" toys while laying on her bed in the breakfast room. A year passed and in early June 2010, we began to notice subtle changes and similar symptoms she exhibited at the start of her IMR; increased thirst, no appetite, confusion, incontinence, lethargy and depression. She went downhill so quickly and was gone one year & 23 days following the diagnosis of IMR, her journey completed.

After reading other case histories of SARDs/IMR victims, SARDs and IMR seem to be the beginning of other immune diseases & systemic issues. At the end, many of Tia's symptoms indicated Cushing's Disease, however, all test results were negative. All of her last blood & urinalysis tests were within the normal range.

We hope this article has been helpful, if anyone has questions, comments or would like to know about the SARDs Awareness website or Dr. Grozdanic at ISU, please feel free to contact us. It's been extremely difficult and emotional to write and relive the past year with Tia, but I felt it was important to list some of the clinical aspects, and also some of the things the dogs and people experience with SARDs & IMR.

Please remember, watch your dogs for any odd or unusual behavior, timing is critical with SARDs/IMR.

HUDSON VALLEY

April 29, 2010
Norwich, NY

Respectfully, Tony & Nancy Morabito

To promote cooperation and friendship among the breeders and owners of Brittany's and to encourage higher standards in breeding, training and showing of Brittany's in the field and in the show ring; to discourage the breed from becoming split into groups of "field dogs" and "show dogs" and to strive to keep it forever a "dual dog".

Not only was the Hudson Valley Brittany Club proud to have celebrated our 25th Solo Specialty, but also to have had the honor, once again to host the Eastern Futurity, so we saw it fit to include the code of ethics, since for us this is what it was all about. First of all, we want to say, THANK YOU to so many of the amazing Brittany people who stepped up and helped us to make this event run so smoothly and successfully. Having come off an extremely difficult health event, it truly amazed us to see it all fall together, with not only the hard work of the members, but also their contributions towards the raffle and the beautiful trophies that indeed expressed the pride and talent in their work. The amazing and awesome exhibitors from other clubs who worked so hard with us, putting this event together THANK YOU for not only helping out with our show, but with the field event as well. It was truly remarkable, now onto the results.

Valley Center, California

The San Diego Brittany Club's thirty-sixth (36th) annual Specialty Show was held in conjunction with the Mt. Palomar Kennel Club all breed show on May 22. Last year was our first year at this location, "Bates Nut Farm was really nice with lots of shade trees and we needed them - although the temperature was only listed as in the mid 80's it felt like triple digits". What a difference a year makes! The shade trees were necessary as umbrellas! This year was very cold (for southern California) and windy. Needless to say we dressed for last year's weather. We shouldn't complain too much as it hailed on Sunday before the SDBC supported entry. After the sweepstakes and regular classes we all sat down to a delicious potluck.

Our gratitude to our two judges and all those who supported our show and congratulations to all the winners

SOUTHEASTERN

Hoffman, NC

January 15 - 17, 2010

What a change from one weekend to the next. Tarheel had temps from the teens to low 40's and we had temps from the high 20's early to mid 60's. Bird finding was spotty due to weather and those darned temperamental wild birds. Our trial cannot be complete without thanks to the many people that assisted with the trial. Richard Christopher helped get dogs on the wagon, got dogs on the line promptly and assisted breaking away dogs for many handlers. The lunch kitchen was staffed by Sandra Leavens on Friday, Beth Rosener and Tina Odum on Saturday and a non-member, Barbara Pepin, assisted me on Sunday. Great meals and thanks to all. Sunday was an unusual day as rain was predicted but rained mostly overnight Saturday into Sunday early morning. Lunchtime we had a heavy shower while no one was running. BUT, the next to last brace it started raining just as they were putting their dogs down and poured the next half hour. As they picked up the dogs, the skys cleared with a beautiful rainbow in sight. One judge who dismounted at the end of the brace, showed everyone present how to remount with everything soaked - right Joe? Our club dinner Saturday night was served by the Pik'n Pig which was enjoyed by all. Thanks to all the judges and handlers, without whom we would not have a field trial. BLUEBONNET
November 13 - 15, 2009

By David Downing

The Bluebonnet Brittany Club fall field trial was held on the Porter 3 Ranch. The grounds were in excellent condition, which contributed to lots of bird work. Multiple finds were common even in the All Age. The weather turned out to be enjoyable for all of us.

There are a lot of people to thank for making this trial such a success. First of all the judges, J. C. Woodall, David Jones, David Quijano, Charlie and Sandy Clock, Allen Norman, Ben Kuykendall, and Charles Rose, Grant Stanfill which stepped in when we need some help due to injuries. All our judges put a lot of hours in the saddle and are greatly appreciated. Janeen Schneider and Tom Longfellow provided lunch and dinner for the trial. Cindy Mantler came through with a desert to die for, as always. Janeen also helped out with the dog wagon duties with Sandra Frost and of course, my wife, Teresa Downing. Teresa also handled all the paperwork and financial ends of the trial. Without her there would be no trial. Big thanks to the ones that help marshal and planted birds.

Our professional handlers Ed Wild, Vic Carrington, Sherry Ebert, Charles Rose and David Downing brought along some nice strings of dogs, making for some very competitive stakes. Tina Travis got a big thrill by winning the Amateur All Age, with her dog "Dub" in about only the 3rd trial that she ever handled a dog. It was her first blue ribbon. Allen Norman came down, all the way from Washington State, to receive a blue ribbon for "Zoomer" in the Open All Age. David Quijano's dog "Chacho" won his blue ribbon in Amateur Gun Dog, even though, he ran into a wire and was injured but finished, his race strong.

Congratulations to all the winners and hope to see you in the spring.

SUNLAND

Ladder Ranch, Caballo, NM
January 20 - 23, 2010

Submitted by Bobby Morris

The Ladder Ranch is located west of Caballo Lake in South Central New Mexico. The Field Trial was held on a beautiful high mesa with good grasslands in a setting with the Gila Mountains to the west. The ranch is owned by Ted Turner, and we thank him for allowing us to use this area for our trial. Also, thanks to Steve Dobrott, Ranch Manager, and George Richards for their support to make our trial a success.

Tuesday night, January 19th, dangerously high winds swept through the area. Field triallers were concerned that their campers and rigs might be blown over, but all were safe. January 20th, the winds blew strong all day making dog work very challenging. Thursday brought cold rain with sunshine in the afternoon. Friday and Saturday, the weather was very windy.

We thank all of the triallers from Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and Colorado who participated in the event. A special thanks to Bernice and Jerry Williams for the New Mexico-type burritos that we enjoyed each day for lunch.

FORT WORTH
Wortham, TX

January 22 - 23, 2010

The Fort Worth Brittany Club held their Spring Trial January 22-23, 2010. A big thank-you goes out to our four very fine Texas judges who joined us to watch over the trial. J.C. Woodall, Ben Kuykendall, Ed Cowling and Wesley Felt spent their Friday and Saturday judging the seven events.

This year, we tried a couple of things to try to add to our count of entries. We opened the Amateur Gun Dog to all pointing breeds and added Amateur Walking Puppy and Amateur Walking Derby also opened to all breeds. The numbers in the Amateur Gun Dog grew to 13 dogs and a three-point major. We ran four fine Amateur Walking Derby dogs but failed to get the numbers to put on the Amateur Walking Puppy.

Frank Campbell from Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, handled CHIEF'S NUBBINS MY LIL LADY to the win in the Open All-Age. This dual was also clicking in the Amateur All-Age and will reward her owner Matt Kitchen of Pittsburg, Kansas, with two blue ribbons. Frank also won the Amateur Walking Derby with his dog, CAMPBELL'S RAZZ-MA-TAZZ.

Jim Crawford from Houston, Texas, took home the blue in the Open Gun Dog with his dog, J & M BLAZEN DIXIE CHIK. Open Puppy winner was FLYING DOG JUST DIAMOND GUS, owned and handled by Fort Worth, Texas, resident Mike Noyes.

When our judges were not in the saddle, they were running their fine dogs. In fact, we had two blue ribbons won by our judge's panel. Amateur Gun Dog winner SOUTHERN STAR, handled by his owner Ben Kuykendall from Ferris, Texas. J.C. Woodall from Brookshire, Texas, brought home the Open Derby win with WOODSONG'S MEDICINE MAN.

You could not carry out a field trial without our fine club members, volunteers and Mary Felt who came to help.

TEXAS COASTAL Boyd Ranch Wortham, TX January 29 - 31, 2010

Our spring (IF you can all it that!) trial was held on grounds close to Mexia, Texas, leased by the Four Corners Association for trials and training. We thank this group of people for providing trial grounds to local clubs. The weather was unbelievable with a cold front arriving Thursday evening accompanied by tropical storm winds and rains. The grounds were a lake the next morning, with the running delayed until noon due to rain. Temperatures in the high 20's finally arrived, and water puddles were freezing as the dogs ran the course. Brrrr! It was cold. Birds were plentiful, however, and they survived the cold weather during the trial days (maybe too plentiful for some competitors).

The entry was small, and we are thankful that our friends with other pointing breeds supported our trial. The competition from breeds other than Brittanys was fierce, as indicated by the placements! But they were well-received, and we sincerely thank our judges: E.J. Hall, Kim Ochoa, Tom Longfellow, Dave Jones, Terry Bomer and Jim Crawford. Thank you, especially, to Tom Longfellow who came only to assist our club, and didn't even run a Britt, since his dogs were with his trainer. Cindy Findley, from Iowa, attended with her very competitive Gordon Setters and was speaking Texan with "ya'll" before she left.

Club members pitched in and helped where needed. Larry and Patricia Mankin cooked soup, prepared and served the meals, and with Robert Power, worked during the entire trial. Sue & Bobby Armstrong brought home-baked brownies for dessert, and we had a terrific happy hour.

A huge "thank you" to all who attended and helped put on the trial; we hope to see you again in November.

Changes to Pointing Breed Hunting Test Regulations (August 2010)

The AKC Board recently approved two changes to the Pointing Breed Hunting Test Regulations. The first change is that gallery wagons are now allowed. A gallery wagon is used to carry spectators out on course to better view the action. Where gallery wagons are allowed by the land owner, they can serve to make an event more interesting for spectators. The new Regulation, which is effective immediately, will read:

A gallery wagon to allow spectators a better view of the action is allowed if it permitted by the land owner/managing agency. A gallery wagon may be a motorized vehicle used to haul spectators or a wagon pulled by a vehicle. The gallery wagon must be approved by the event committee. It must be handled in a manner that will not interfere with the working dogs, judges or gunners. A gallery wagon is not allowed in a bird field.

The second change is that Spinones must pass an AKC water test in order to earn a Senior Hunter or Master Hunter title. This is the same requirement as currently applies to German Wirehaired Pointers. This change becomes effective January 1, 2011.

In addition it should be noted that the Garmin DC 40 Tracking Collar – Astro 220 Receiver has been approved for use in AKC pointing breed field trials and hunting tests. Complete rules pertaining to the use of tracking devices may be found at www.akc.org/trackingdevices/.

MEMBERS OF THE AMERICAN BRITTANY CLUB

Give the gift of a new membership... to give the opportunity to someone to learn about and participate in the American Brittany Club.

This membership campaign is really quite simple, we are asking every member to donate/sponsor a membership in the American Brittany Club. This "gifted" membership might be to a puppy purchaser, or a friend/acquaintance who has a Brittany. All of us encounter people who may just need a little encouragement to become members.

This can work, but it is totally dependent upon your support. Please use the ABC application form in the back of the magazine to enroll a new member today. You may donate/sponsor multiple new memberships. The names of new members & ABC sponsors will be published in the magazine on a quarterly basis.

THIS IS OUR CHANCE TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE!
