VOLUME LXIV • NUMBER 1 • JANUARY 2012

Objective and Purpose:

To promote cooperation and friendship among the breeders and owners of Brittanys and to encourage higher standards in breeding, training and showing of Brittanys in the field and in the show ring; to discourage the breed from becoming split into groups of "field dogs" and "show dogs" and to strive to keep it forever a "dual dog".

Issues and Opportunities: A Report from the President

By the time this issue of The American Brittany is mailed, the mantle of leadership of the ABC will have passed from Hank Hartnek to yours truly, Ken Windom. With the beginning of a new administration, I want to begin a new tradition: A monthly column in the Magazine to keep the membership informed of important matters within the club. My understanding is that this has not been done before, so it will be on a trial basis for a while until I can judge how well it is accomplishing the objective I hope it will meet. I have chosen to call this column "Issues and Opportunities" because I believe there is an opportunity to do something positive for the club, and the beloved breed we champion, as we address some of the issues that will affect us in the upcoming years. Often it is mainly a matter of getting people actively involved by defining what the issues are and developing a strategy to address them. I certainly hope the membership of ABC will agree and rally to tackle some of the challenges as they come up.

While many of you know me, I realize there are at least as many, and probably more, who do not. I bought my first Brittany almost 20 years ago so I would have a good hunting dog. Competing with this dog in any manner other than hunting was not on my "to do" list and it was only because of the guidance of the breeders and the dog trainer I finally chose that convinced me to get involved with shows, hunt tests, and later field trials. My first taste of competition was at a fun trial where he got a ribbon in the Pre-Puppy (less than 6 months old) category. I guess I was hooked from that moment on. That dog ended up earning his Dual Championship and Amateur Field Championship. I realize, however, that regardless of the dog's abilities, he would never have been given the chance to compete if it were not for the mentoring by several different people to convince me to give him the opportunities. This is the experience I hope other new Brittany owners can have; it is up to the existing membership to entice them and give them opportunities to enjoy the same kinds of activities we have with our dogs.

My sincere thanks go to Hank Hartnek for the many years he has devoted to ABC already, first as a Director and later as President, and his willingness to continue with selected committees. Hank has represented us well and has been generous with his time and knowledge of the inner workings of the ABC to make the transition in administrations as smooth as possible. Please join me in letting him know how much his efforts are appreciated by dropping him a line or shaking his hand when you see him next.

Let me end by reminding everyone that it is easy to spot problems, but it is much more difficult to come up with workable solutions. My sincere hope is that all ABC members will attempt to work together toward maintaining a strong club and promoting our wonderful breed. We owe it to the dogs.

FOGGY MEMORY

by T.D. Lambert

Illinois' opening day of quail season was November 5. As some of the few quail hunters left in our area, my brother-in-law, Tom, and I felt obligated to go. Maybe obligated is the wrong word. We wanted to go, more than anything in fact, but finding places to hunt in a world gone crazy with deer hunting in general and bow hunting specifically is a tall task these days. Time was when quail hunters had only the shotgun deer season to be concerned with other hunters. Now, bow hunters start a full month before quail season and end their season near the same time (in the "if you can't beat them join them" category, I went bow hunting for the first time ever a week later).

I remember years when I couldn't sleep the night before opening day because of the anticipation. Would my dogs perform well? Did the birds make it through the winter snows and spring rains? Would my shooting improve from can't-hit-the-broad-side-of-a-barn to I-think-I-might-have-winged-one?

Anyway, that Saturday was quite foggy. Very foggy. Think pea soup. But because it was opening day, we were going quail hunting unless the Pope himself called it off.

We arrived at our destination on an isolated farm owned by a friend of mine. We had hunted there many times before. Sometimes we came up empty-handed, but most of the time we had good success. Then there was The Day. It hadn't happened before or since, but one January day I found 6 coveys here in a short afternoon hunt. Lots of fence rows, old-time farming practices and very little hunting pressure make this a real honey hole.

As we pulled up to the farm and parked, I told Tom I didn't feel comfortable hunting when I couldn't see 10 feet in front of me. I wasn't going to shoot a gun into a sea of clouds not knowing what lay within. So we waited. And then we waited some more. Surely the fog would pass. It didn't. Finally at 8:30, Tom announced that if we weren't going to hunt we should just go home. Evidently an hour of conversation with me in a truck isn't nearly as entertaining as I think it is. So we got our guns, lowered the tailgate and off we went.

Our bird dogs, like their owners, are aging. We had each lost our Brittany's over the last couple of years, and hunting without them had not been the same. Maggie, my Brittany, had died a few years before. Tom lost his Brittany, Jake, this fall. Each dog had its own unique qualities.

Maggie was both a bird-finding machine and a queen. Her objective was to stay in front of the more common dogs, find birds and point royally. She had little time for such mundane notions as retrieving or hunting dead. Those tasks, she felt, were beneath her. If she hadn't been one of the best bird finders I've ever witnessed, I might have found a new dog to hunt with early on. In fairness to her, though, if it wasn't for the way I pampered her, she might have found a new owner who was a better shot.

Jake was also a good bird finder, but his forte was hunting dead or downed birds. In that category he had no equal. At times it seemed as if he had a tracking device in his nose. On a few occasions when Jake hadn't accompanied us on a hunt and we had searched relentlessly for a downed bird, Tom traveled all the way back to his kennel to get Jake. Tom is tighter than two coats of paint but he would sooner take a lashing than lose a dead bird. Jake never disappointed.

So Freckles, Tom's English setter bitch, was the starter for this day's hunt. My sister had purchased Freckles as a Christmas present for Tom several years ago, and she's been a good one ever since. Of course, a lesser man might point out to his brother-in-law that it took my sister who had never hunted over a dog in her life to find one of the best pointers he's ever owned. But I was bigger than that - most days.

We proceeded into a large field which until recently had held rows of soybeans. Freckles ran down a long fence row headed north. The fog had subsided so much that I could now make out things 11 feet in front of me. It didn't take long for Freckles to lock up on point. Standing in the northwest corner of the field, tail high, nose down, she looked like she was cut straight out of a magazine. She must have run past the birds because she was somewhat contorted in her point, but majestic nonetheless. Our hearts were pounding as we approached. Of course, given our middle age, our "approach" wasn't nearly as fast as it used to be. Luckily, Freckles can hold her point longer than a Hollywood marriage.

This is what we've waited for all year, and it was about to happen for real. When Freckles points, birds are near. But as we walked closer to her, I had a real sinking feeling. I told Tom that although we couldn't see it, I was certain there was a house behind a stand of trees off to our left. Though it was located well over a hundred yards away, I still didn't feel comfortable shooting that close to a house. Tom had hunted with me here many times before, but he didn't know the farm as well as me, so he agreed if that was the case we shouldn't shoot. Maybe, he said, we could flush the birds back south where we could hunt them.

Getting quail to fly where you want them to fly is like herding cats. As we walked near, guns at our sides, the covey flushed. Of course, they didn't fly south where we could hunt them, they flew north into a field we couldn't hunt and landed in a field of small weeds. Why do birds always land in little to no cover when you can't hunt them, but will fly into jungles of thorny thickets the size of Texas when you are hunting them? Mother Nature, like God, has a wonderful sense of humor.

We turned to walk south, complimenting Freckles on her nice find, and commenting on how picturesque the flush had been. It seems birds which aren't being shot at also tend to fly low and straight away where a shooter would have no problem picking out several. Well, most shooters.

Over the next half hour or so we made our way to the southwest corner of the field. Then it hit me. Though the fog was still quite thick, I was sure. So sure, in fact, that I was afraid to say it out loud. Swallowing hard, I turned to Tom and told him that the corner where the small house was located was not in the northwest corner of the field like I had proclaimed, but in the southwest corner. Which means we could have shot at those birds. Which means we would go home with empty vests. Which means I'm an idiot. Tom said it was okay and that he was just thinking the same thing. Was he talking about the location of the house or me?

We finished our hunt without another point. But we were satisfied knowing we had found birds, and left hoping this would be a good year.

For me, I guess I better keep my day job and leave the guiding to professionals. As for Tom, well, you can't pick your in-laws.

MOTION TO MOVE MISSOURI CLUB TO MIDWEST REGION

Discussion: December 1 - 7, 2011

Votes May be Cast: December 8 - 12, 2011

Motion made 11/29/11 by Steve Ralph, Central Director

Motion Seconded 11/30/11 by Mary Karbiner, Midwest Director

Motion: I move to move the Missouri club to the Midwest region

Rationale:

Currently the Missouri club is in the Central region, however most of it's members are in the Midwest region (Kansas) and it holds it's field trials in the Midwest region (Yates Center, KS). In the past it has had to get permission from both the Central & Midwest dates coordinators to host it's trial in KS. To prevent multi-regional date coordination, the Missouri club is requesting that their club be moved to the Midwest region. This has been approved by both the Central & Midwest dates coordinators and Missouri club officers.

Motion Defeated: 5 Yes Votes: Rankin, Ralph, Henderson, Gorman, Karbiner.

9 No Votes: Brigham, Truksa, Janulis, Dow, Kerns, Robin, Pollock, Ackerman, Patterson.

The Right Stuff by Jessica Hlebak

In any sport, you need to have the right equipment to successfully compete. Field trials are no different. There are some items that can make you and your horse's weekend much better. It is important to keep your horse's safety and comfort in mind when you will be riding for long hours. A happy horse makes a happy rider!

One item that deserves a fair amount of attention is a quality saddle pad. This is the only buffer between your horse's back and the saddle. A good saddle pad will help evenly distribute the weight of the rider and saddle, which will eliminate pressure points. It will also relieve pressure on the horse's spine and withers, allow air flow and promote sweating. Saddle pads can also be used to aid with the fit of the saddle. For example, if your horse has high withers, there are pads with extra padding around the withers and right behind the shoulders. This extra padding in key areas will help fill in low spots and relieve pressure.

There are numerous types of pads on the market and it pays to shop around. Two brands that I personally recommend are Professionals Choice and Classic Equine. The price range of a quality saddle pad will typically start around $75 and can go up from there. This is one area where it will pay to spend a little extra. Your horse will be happier and more comfortable, making your ride even better.

Leg protection is something that should not go overlooked. A horse carries 65% of his weight on his front legs and if a problem is going to occur, that is usually where it will happen. Splints and wind puffs can commonly occur, more so in horses that are ridden for long periods of time and through rough terrain. To help protect your horse's front legs I recommend the use of splint boots when riding. A splint boot will provide support for the front leg structures and will also aid in protection of the leg over difficult terrain. Splint boots are rather inexpensive ($20-40) and will be a worthwhile item to add to your tack box.

To go along with the splint boots, bell boots are another indispensable item. Bell boots protect and cover the horse's pastern, coronet band and hoof. They are especially helpful for horses with a large overstride or horses that are prone to pulling their shoes off. Bell boots will help prevent the horse from stepping on themselves or their shoes. Again, this is not an expensive item ($15-$30) and they have saved many a shoe.

Continuing with the subject of leg protection, we come to shipping boots. When trailering a horse it never hurts to protect their legs. There are many injuries that can occur in the trailer especially with horses being with each other in close quarters. Shipping boots are for wearing when being hauled only and will protect your horse's legs from cuts, kicks and getting banged up. Shipping boots are easy to put on, most attach with Velcro and after your horse becomes accustomed to them they typically wear the boots with no problems.

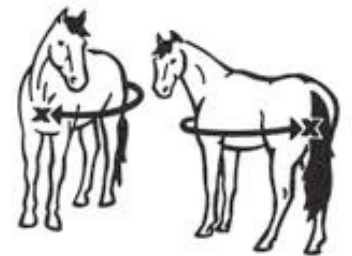

Moving up from the legs we come to Bit Guards. These are a must have item. When you will be riding for long periods of time the corners of your horse's mouth will take a lot of wear and tear, even beginning to crack and bleed. Bit guards will help to eliminate that. They offer a buffer between the shank of the bit and the corners of the mouth. Rubber is the most common material for these to be made out of. The newer trend is neoprene, which I prefer. They are easier to take on and off, usually using Velcro, and offer greater protection for the horse.

A quick tip for helping to keep the corners of the mouth soft or to heal dry cracked corners is to use Desitin or any similar type diaper rash cream. These creams will work wonders for healing that area right up.

One more item that I do not leave home without is a blanket. When a barn is not available I like to have the ability to still keep my horse warm and dry during inclement weather. There are many different options. The most important feature is the blanket needs to be waterproof. Blankets can range from waterproof sheets to heavier blankets with insulating filling. The climate you plan to be in will dictate how light or heavy of a blanket you will need. To measure your horse for a blanket, measure from the center of the chest to the center of the tail head, this number in inches will be the blanket size.

The safety and comfort of your horse when travelling and riding should always be a high priority. Horses are a partner and should be treated as such. When your horse is comfortable and happy it shows, he will be much more relaxed and willing to work for you. Always remember to seek professional advice on any equipment that you may have a question about.

Open All Age first place wins Scipio's Mister Chips! They are the 2012 Brittany Field Trial Hall of Fame's newest elected members having earned their way into the Hall of Fame by making a positive and long lasting difference for the betterment of the Brittany breed.

On February 11, 2012 in Grand Junction, TN at The Bird Dog Museum, these three will be inducted into the Brittany Field Trial Hall of Fame. Everyone is invited to attend the ceremony that will honor these most worthy of candidates and also visit the brand new Brittany Field Trial Hall of Fame space that will be ready for all of us to enjoy. The Brittany community has already paid for the space but we need to build our endowment fund to sustain it. Please consider being a part of this fund raising effort.

The Dog Doc Will See Me Now

Pheasants Forever Blog

Last week, I asked visitors to my blog “Is Your Bird Dog Insured?” Later in the week, I enjoyed the company of Charlie Payne, Pheasants Forever’s new regional field representative for the state of Ohio. Turns out, Charlie’s dad is one of the nation’s foremost surgeons on canine athletes. Charlie had read my blog and suggested an interview with his dad.

What follows is my interview with Dr. John Payne on the topic of dog health and pet insurance. However, let me first give you a few of the good doc’s credentials.

Dr. John Payne is a board certified veterinary surgeon and partner at Pittsburgh Veterinary Specialty and Emergency Center. Dr. Payne specializes in orthopedic surgery and sports medicine of working and performance dogs. He is most known for his contributions to arthroscopic and minimally invasive orthopedic surgery. Dr. Payne has published numerous scientific articles in many journals related to veterinary orthopedics and authored numerous book chapters. Dr. Payne is a frequent speaker at national and international veterinary meetings

St.Pierre: What is the most common injury for a dog associated with bird hunting?

Dr. Payne: The most common injuries seen in bird hunting dogs are probably lacerations caused by jumping barbed wire fences and running into sharp sticks. Other common injuries would include cranial (anterior) cruciate ligament ruptures in the knee, Achilles tendon injuries in the hocks, eye injuries, and occasionally fractured bones.

St.Pierre: Is there an injury that hunters should be better educated about in order to avoid when afield?

Dr. Payne: As far as education about injuries, it all comes down to prevention. To avoid orthopedic injuries, it is important that your dog be fit and well conditioned for the hunting season. Canine athletes need regular exercise and proper diets all year round to keep their muscles and joints healthy. Obesity is a major problem in dogs, as it is in humans, and an overweight, poorly conditioned hunting dog is an accident waiting to happen. For lacerations, these are harder to prevent but common sense would recommend that dogs be helped over fences, particularly barbed wire fences. I would recommend all hunters carry some basic bandage materials and antiseptics with them into the field so that lacerations can be cleaned and protected until they are able to get the dog to a veterinarian. A laceration that is clean and minimally contaminated will have a much shorter healing time than one that is heavily contaminated. It is also helpful to know where your closest emergency veterinary facility is so when an accident occurs, one is prepared.

St.Pierre: Recently, I’ve been contemplating getting my dog vaccinated against rattle snakes for trips out west and south. However, I’ve heard a lot of skepticism about the success of such a vaccine. Do you have an opinion on snake vaccination?

Dr.Payne: Rattlesnake vaccination remains a controversial subject for several reasons. There are (to my knowledge) no controlled studies that prove the vaccine is effective in reducing the severity of symptoms seen after envenomation. There are certainly anecdotal stories from people who feel the vaccine may be beneficial. There have been few serious side effects reported as a result of vaccination and the vaccine is not very expensive. I think the most important thing to realize is that even if your dog is vaccinated, it is still imperative that the dog has medical attention as soon as possible after a venomous snakebite. Another concern is that the vaccine is made only from western diamondback venom. This means that if your dog is bitten by any other type of snake, the vaccine will likely be less effective, if it has any value at all. Western Diamondback venom is very different from Mohave Rattlesnake venom and Cottonmouth or Copperhead venom. If your dog is bitten, try to identify the type of snake without putting yourself at risk and seek medical attention immediately.

St.Pierre: When it comes to pet insurance, I’ve heard it’s difficult to get providers to pay for the medical expenses after procedures occur. What has been your experience in dealing with pet insurance coverage of bird dog injuries?

Dr.Payne: There are numerous companies providing pet health insurance at this time and there are significant differences among the companies so reading the fine print is important. My experience is that most of the companies pay for injuries such as fracture repair as they are supposed to. Most will not cover pre-existing or inherited conditions at all. Many will exclude the opposite knee if you buy it after your dog already has had a knee injury.

St.Pierre: If a person is interested in purchasing pet insurance, what guidance would you offer to the consumer in selecting a provider and policy that is going to cover their expectations?

Dr.Payne: If you are going to buy pet health insurance, read the policy carefully to see what is covered and what is not. Recognize they will usually not pay for conditions that are inherited or congenital such as hip dysplasia, elbow dysplasia, or patellar luxation. They will never pay for preexisting conditions. Make sure that you know if any types of surgeries are excluded. For example, in the past, some companies have excluded the TPLO procedure for repair of cranial cruciate ligament injuries and this is usually the best procedure for this injury if you want your dog to perform at a high level after healing. You don’t want a policy that specifically excludes this or any other surgical procedure. If you are going to buy this, it is probably best to buy it when your dog is young and healthy before they sustain any injuries.

Skunk-Proofing Your Recall by Carla Simon

Will your Brittany come when called even if a skunk runs by?

One night, my Brittany was out in the yard for potty. When I looked over, he was nose to nose with a skunk. I called him and he came! I was delighted and nobody was sprayed. Having said that, my younger pups have some work to do before reaching that level of reliability.

Having a reliable recall allows freedom to enjoy spending time with your Brittany. You probably spend a large amount of time teaching your dog skills such as the recall. Once your dog understands the skills, appropriate proofing challenges the dog, increasing the likelihood that he will ignore distractions and perform the skill under a wide variety of conditions.

Proofing Guidelines

If you're not sure you can call your dog off of a skunk, effective proofing is a critically important training tool. Here are some general guidelines:

- Where appropriate, use a leash to ensure success in unfamiliar, unfenced and distracting locations
- Training in a new location is proofing, even if you don't realize or intend so
- Control your environment. Start easy and gradually increase the distractions
- When your dog performs correctly, reward (so he's more likely to repeat that behavior)
- When the dog fails, undesirable consequences make it less likely he will repeat that behavior
- You need to read your own dog and choose proofing scenarios most beneficial for him e.g. food, toys, people, locations and other animals
- Challenge your dog, while making it possible for him to win at the game
- Don't scare the dog or push so hard he shuts down
- Start by positioning the distraction at a comfortable distance from your dog while you remain very close. Slowly move the distraction closer, while you move further away
- Eventually you should be able to recall your dog at a large distance, on leash, despite distractions.

Set Up Challenges

In Novice Obedience competition, the recall begins with the dog sitting in heel position. Upon telling the dog to stay, the handler walks across the ring and gives the dog ONE command to come. The dog should run directly to the handler and sit close, facing toe to toe, regardless of the distractions.

Based on a picture of ideal performance, here are some ideas for proofing your recall:

Stay and Recall on Cue

- Leave your dog in a stay, walk away, and say words other than the release e.g. fir, spruce, elm... (to see if he anticipates the release)
- When you stand completely frozen, say the release word and see what happens
- Keep moving away from your dog and call him while you're back is turned
- While the dog's in a stay, praise him in a loud excited voice
- Stay while you talk to a stranger and ignore your dog
- Put your dog on a flexi so there is gentle pressure on his lead while you're walking away
- Stay as you walk, jog, or run away
- Walk away dragging a furry toy behind you
- Walk away, look at dog, say nothing. Walk further away, say "don't cheat", then recall
- Whisper and act like you're sneaking away
- Leave your dog in a stay next to another dog and wait while the other dog is called
- Call in a loud, firm voice (like you would if the dog was jumping out of your vehicle)
- Recall while your helper empties a box of toys nearby, in both noisy and very quiet locations

While Running Towards You

- Recall your dog with his 6 foot lead dragging behind him
- While another person says "down" in a firm voice
- While a helper is playing with your dog
- Next to a cafeteria
- While you're standing in a doorway or next to a wall
- With distracting person standing very close or in the dog's path
- With distracting food or toy near the dog's path. If he goes off course, put mesh or plastic wrap on top of the food and work through it. If this is too easy, use tastier food e.g. cat food or liver
- After you call your dog, toss a cookie/toy behind him (in the opposite direction)
- While your helper waves wieners in front of the dog
- While you throw a toy over the dog's path
- With a vacuum nearby
- While stroller, skateboarder or bike moving parallel to his path
- With other dogs playing
- Near a female in heat
- Through a chute of people, pylons, chairs, dogs
- While you sit on a chair or kneel on the ground
- From another room in the house (it's a hide and seek game where the dog has to find you)

In all scenarios, if he doesn't come right away, make it easier e.g. move further away, and work through it. Over time, your dog's reliability will increase with every success.

Hopefully this article inspires you to proof effectively and achieve a reliable recall even if a skunk happens by. For more information on proofing obedience skills, check out "Success is in the Proofing; A Guide for Creative and Effective Training", by D. Quigley and J. Ramsey.

TRAININ' DOGS

with Rick Smith

By Rick Smith & Sharon Potter

THE WHOA POST

Rick Smith has spent a lifetime breeding, training, and handling National Championship bird dogs. His highly popular training seminars teach the "Silent Command System" to dog owners world-wide. During hunting season, Rick can be found on the Mariposa Ranch in south Texas.

Sharon Potter has a strong background in animal behavior, and has been training both horses and dogs for many years, with several National titles to her credit. She is an avid hunter and archer, and in her spare time is working on the first of a series of books on bird dog training with Rick Smith.

Probably the most important word your dog will ever learn is "whoa." "Whoa" doesn't mean stay put for a few seconds, and it doesn't mean slow down or hesitate – it means "freeze right where you are, grow roots, and don't move until I say so." What's so important about this command? Obviously, we want a dog to hold steady on point until we've had our chance at the birds, and depending on individual hunting preferences, we want it to be steady to wing and shot. "Whoa" training makes this not just possible; it makes it dependable.

Aside from the obvious, the word "whoa" may save your dog's life someday. Suppose the dog is on the other side of a busy road, heading toward you, and is in danger of becoming roadkill. If you call the dog to get its attention, it is likely to come across the road to you and get hit by traffic. On the other hand, if you can say, "Whoa" and stop the dog in its tracks at a distance, that one word just saved your dog's life.

So how do we teach this? There are many ways, all of which have merit.

Our method uses a "whoa post," and is effective for us because, with today's technology, we can make it work just as well at 200 yards as we can at two yards. The concept of the post is nothing new; it's been around for well over a hundred years and then some, being referred to as a "whoa peg." The method has evolved through many stages since then, but all around, we feel it's the surest way to teach the command.

Before we get into details, we want to make one thing very clear: The whoa post is not about birds, nor is it to be worked with birds. The whoa post is about one thing and one thing only – it's about standing still. It has absolutely nothing to do with birds! If you work birds while on the whoa post and have to make corrections, your dog will tie the correction to the birds, and you will create a major training mess. For those of you who have attended a seminar and seen Rick work a dog on the whoa post with a pigeon, keep in mind that he is just demonstrating so you can see the end result; the real training is never, ever done with birds.

As you work through the steps of the Silent Command System, the whoa post is where everything finally comes together and you catch a glimpse of the possibilities of the finished product.

This is where many people crash in their training. They rush to get to this point, and the dog is not properly prepared, resulting in confusion. If there is any one spot in training where being able to read your dog is critical, this is that spot. Don't be afraid to back off, or go back and rework some of the other steps if your dog isn't handling this part. You cannot make a mistake by going too slow!

Now that we've managed to scare you completely, let's go into the process in detail. You'll need a few things to begin with: your regular checkcord, which will attach to the collar as usual; a length of softer rope in a similar diameter and approximately 25 feet long, with a brass bolt snap at one end and a larger loop tied in the other end with a non-slip knot (this will allow the rope to move freely around the post); and a post that can be easily moved, such as a steel T-post.

Place the post in the ground far enough that it won't be easily dislodged. The area you will work in needs to give you room to use the entire area around the post, so plan on plenty of space. As you progress, you'll be moving the post to different areas to help the dog learn the cue and point of contact, and this requires fresh locations.

Take your soft rope and drop the large loop over the post. Lay the balance out straight, with the snap at the end farthest from the post. Take your dog from the stakeout chain, using the command lead just as you normally would, then move to the checkcord, doing a brief quartering drill as you have been in your training. If these steps are still not perfect, don't move on to the whoa post. If you've done your homework, your dog should comply quickly from the chain through the checkcord drills with no resistance.

Lead your dog, using the checkcord, to the rope on the whoa post. Stop the dog parallel to the rope near the end but leaving plenty of slack to work with. Place the snap end of the whoa rope on the ground between the dog's hind legs, then toward you and over the top of the back and down the side away from you. Bring the snap end under the belly, and behind the rope draped over the back. You will have a loop going around the flank area, but never a knot. Correctly done, this forms a half-hitch. This is important since the half-hitch will release quickly, while a knot will tighten and defeat the purpose.

Pull the snap end up toward the dog's front legs, keeping it under the chest, and snap it to the same D-ring your checkcord is hooked to. Using the same D-ring will take the action of the checkcord from the neck to the flank as the dog applies pressure. As you work the dog on the post, be sure the rope stays between the hind legs. If you need to replace it, do so, since proper placement is critical in helping your dog understand the stimulation.

The whoa post works by teaching the dog how to turn off stimulation at a point of contact (the flank). It is not about the sex of the dog, nor is it about holding the dog in place with a rope. It is all about turning off stimulation, and that happens when the dog learns how to release all tension on the rope. If the rope is even slightly snug, the dog is not complying.

To begin working exercise, lead your dog at heel, using the checkcord.

As the dog reaches the end of the whoa rope, it will usually stop with some tension on the whoa rope. Drop your checkcord and walk to your dog. Pick up the dog under the chest and between the hind legs, and drop it lightly about three feet back. Dropping it instead of setting it down helps the dog because it will brace its legs to steady itself as it hits the ground and it is more likely to stand still. This will help set the dog up for success by showing it what we expect. The rope should be quite slack, with a little of it lying on the ground straight down behind the dog's hind legs.

Let your dog stand there for a few seconds to understand what you want. Some dogs will immediately walk back out to the end of the rope as you move away. Pick up the dog and replace it as before until the dog stays put. Once this is working, pick up the checkcord and lead your dog in the opposite direction, moving to the other side of the whoa post. Again, the dog will probably lean on the whoa rope a bit. Set it up for success by dropping it in the place you want it, just like before. Often, a dog will insist on keeping tension on the rope even after several repetitions. If this is occurring, walk to the end of the checkcord and pick it up. Apply steady pulling pressure, gently at first and gradually increasing the level of stimulation until your dog reacts.

This is where things can get a little wild; the reactions range from what's been called a "musky roll" or "alligator roll," to lying down and refusing to move, to biting at the rope and pitching a major fit. When you are doing this, be sure there is no anger involved, and never jerk or yank on the checkcord. Maintain a steady pull, but be prepared for the reaction you will probably see. If you stop at the first sign of trouble, your dog learns that the way to stop the stimulation is to pitch a fit; and if you jerk or yank, you don't give the dog the opportunity to turn off the stimulation. Watch your dog's attitude through all this. During the rolling or biting the rope part, the tail is almost always up and the dog will show defiance.

Keep applying stimulation until your dog stops rolling and jumps up, then immediately give enough slack to allow the dog to stand and back up. Place the dog if you need to, to show it that you want slack in the rope. If the dog decides to lie down and quit, apply stimulation, increasing the levels until the dog reacts, usually by standing up.

It usually takes only a few times before the dog begins anticipating the stimulation. It will stop long before it gets to the rope and even back up a few steps. This is a good sign, as it shows the dog understands how to turn off the stimulation. Continue to work this drill, moving the whoa post to different locations so the dog doesn't learn to respond to just one area (they will do this, and will act like they are untrained in a different location).

The next step is the e-collar. If you've properly developed the flank as a point of contact, the e-collar step is simple because the dog knows how to turn off stimulation on the flank: Just stand still. Place the collar around the dog's flank with the contact points under the belly (if it is a big dog, you may need to add a leather collar to extend the e-collar to fit) and use the checkcord to walk the dog around. The collar on the flank feels funny at first, and most dogs will need to learn to move with it there. Ideally, just letting your dog run with the e-collar on the flank is very helpful, and you can do this when taking your dog for walks in the field. Don't stimulate using the e-collar until the dog is comfortable wearing it.

To use the e-collar on the flank (replacing the whoa post), lead your dog using the checkcord, always starting with the lowest level of stimulation you have available, using constant stimulation, not momentary. Apply level one to stop your dog, being sure you are not giving conflicting signals by asking it to move with the checkcord. Your dog will probably stop, but if it doesn't, move up a level. The level of distraction dictates the level of stimulation. Do not use the "hot" button; if the lower levels aren't working, you will need to go back to the whoa post and work more.

Once your dog is responding will to the stimulation on the flank, drop the checkcord and walk away. Apply stimulation if the dog moves, and also if the dog lies down or sits. You may need to gently life the checkcord to help with this.

Continue this drill over a few weeks until your dog will stay in place, adding some distraction – a Frisbee or tennis ball works well, but anything that would normally cause a dog to move or give chase will do. Once the dog is showing willing compliance, give the cue a name: "Whoa." Overlay the "whoa" command with the stimulation, and you will have the ability to stop your dog anywhere. The e-collar gives us the control to stop a dog at a hundred yards while training this command, and is much easier on both dog and trainer as opposed to the old method of having to run to the dog or ride it down on horseback to give a correction.

Take your time, be sure the dog completely understands each step before moving to the next one, and be consistent. The end result will be a pleasure to hunt with because it won't be breaking, busting birds, and costing you shots.

Hunt Tests

GREATER ST. LOUIS

Farmland Conservation Club
Farmland Indiana
October 15-16, 2011

The Greater Indianapolis Brittany Club held their Fall hunt test at the beautiful Farmland Conservation Club in Farmland, Indiana. The weather was cool with extremely windy conditions. The wind played havoc with both the dogs and gunners.

The club also provided a great evening meal on Saturday for everyone who wished to stay. Thanks to the ladies who worked hard in the kitchen.

Thanks go to Eddie Manifold & Nickie Redick for providing the horses; Bird planers-Marc Redick, Ken Mewbourn and Tim Piotrkowski; Gunners-Herbie Manifold, Chuck Schaefer and Jeff Parks; Kitchen Staff-Vickie Manifold, Jill Schaefer, Sandy Mewbourn and Shelia Becker.

A special thanks to Lisa Cleveland for stepping in and judging for Mark Holzinger who couldn't sit in the saddle. (or anywhere else for that matter.) Also thank you to Ben and Paula Blanco and Susan Covault for doing a fine job of judging.

Sincerely, Brent Becker - Secretary

2012 FUTURITIES

11xCh, 10xRu Ch, NFC, RU NAFC, FC, AFC Shambo's Dark Shadow

8/25/96 - 10/28/11

Shambo's Dark Shadow, one of the most prolific and significant Brittans in the history of the sport has passed. Shadow amassed a record over his career that elevated him to the Brittany elite, with 115 field trial placements, defeating 3,715 dogs, forty-four were in one hour stakes, the record at retirement. In 2002 he won the lams All Age Award for the top point earning Brittany in hour trials and holds the record for career scoring. He was named National Field Champion in 2001. He won the US Open Championship in 2002 and 2006 and was runner up in that event in 2001 and 2005. Under the long time guidance of trainer Jim John of Yates Center, Kansas Shadow won Championships in Alabama, Tennessee, Missouri, Iowa, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, and Oklahoma, and Arkansas.

Shadow was front running with a flowing ground eating gait and drive that allowed him to reach places that other dogs didn't. He would keep the judges and gallery up in their saddles as he applied himself to the task, he was seldom lost but often reached the end of a stretched "string". He always tried hard and exhibited heart and courage in his competitive efforts. He was blessed with great nose and was statuesque on point. The gallery often buzzed when he was leashed.

It is the qualities of his performances that will long be remembered as we continue to ride the courses he ran. He will live in the memories of many in the Brittany community, to which he really belonged.

Shadow was bred by Charles Schultheis of Brooksville Florida, the only male in a litter of five by Camsham's Shambozo x Star's Aapricot Lulu and raised and started by Philip Dangerfield who recognized his talent and initiated his field trial efforts in juvenile stakes, then placing him with Jim John he maintained him through Shadow's national title and first US Open win. Bernie Crain of Raymore, Missouri took the helm in the spring of 2002 and guided the rest of his career. Shadow was often ably handled in amateur stakes by his buddy Ed Tillson of Albuquerque, New Mexico. He retired near the top of his game in December 2006 having been named Runner Up National Amateur Champion and placing fourth in the National Open Championship as the oldest dog entered in both stakes. He spent his retirement as a beloved member of the Crain family, entertaining the grand kids and making sure the squirrels stayed in the trees. He will be missed not only by those whose life he touched personally but also those who thrilled at the performances he gave.

ABC National Open Gun Dog Championship

Ionia, Michigan
October 25- 28, 2011

Standing: Tim Carwile, Mark Johnson, Joe Sikorski, Art Cohen, Judy Cohen, Kyle Merrill, Jeff Currier, Jim Yates, and Joe Luisi

Once again, Ionia Michigan was host to the American Brittany Club National Open Gun Dog Championship that ran from Oct 25, 2011 to conclusion. 24 braces, and a total of 45 dogs came to line in the quest to reign supreme. A great big thank you to the event sponsors, Purina & Tri-Tronics/Garmin and a special thank you to the trophy sponsorship of The Saddle Guy, for his beautifully made trophy saddle too.

All of the hard work that is put in over the last 12 months by Chairman Jim Carter, Secretary Darlene Dow, stakes manager Lisa Pollack and of course the rest of Field Trial Team did not go unnoticed. It was a smoothly run event with weather that ranged from rainy and cold to beautiful fall sunshine with light breezes, to bitter cold frosty, fog and back again.

Each day, judges Tim Carwile, Mark Johnson and Jim Yates gave each and every dog their full attention with an eye always to the positive no matter how disappointing Lady Luck tossed the circumstances within each given hour. They were looking for a true championship performance and were granted several to choose from. It must be noted that they remarked several times on the over all quality of the stake and many of the dogs that came to the line could easily have garnered the win on any given day.

The grounds were impeccably groomed and in fact were in the best shape anyone had seen ever seen them. The evenings were filled with hosted dinners, good friends and good times all around. In the end, 4 dogs rose to the top. The pace and the standard of excellence were set in the very first brace with a near perfect performance. In the end it was that very performance that was crowned as the 2011 American Brittany Club National Open Gun Dog Champion.

Open Championship Running 2011

Brace 1: HITS ALL JACK'D UP -Sikorski & SIR SUNRISE WINSALOT- Lorensen: This first brace broke away on course 1, dogs looking eager to roll. As we topped the first hill, Blue (Lorensen) swung right onto the tree line immediately establishing point. The glory of the moment was short lived when the dog gave into the temptation to revert to Derby dog days and he was ordered up. Meanwhile Cruise (Sikorski) took to the front without his bracemate and seemed to really hit the gas. He took his lines like the seasoned dog he is and had a total of 3 finds at 10, 16 and 42. His style was high, and his manners impeccable, ending his brace well to front and running as strong at the finish as he started.

Brace 2: MOKAN DURAMAX –Boydston & CSB JL SULLIVAN- Burchett: Course 2 broke away from the orchard, both dogs going straight to work. Sully seemed to settle into hunt mode, with a handy gun dog performance. His only bird work would be at 43 minutes with a find on a tree line, which he stood well. He finished his hour with a clean run. Max seemed to get a bit of a bobbed start, but soon settled into a good pace to get things done. He hit his objectives and left no likely spot unchecked. Both dogs were to the front as we crossed the levee however, the other side seemed to swallow Max and he disappeared to work the trees. Max was gone a tad too long for the handler's comfort and he elected to pick him at the 30 minute mark.

Brace 3: JETER III-Lorenson & SUEMAC'S SKY KING – Mc Pherson: These two dogs broke away fast and strong. At 7 minutes the pair were found standing on what could only be called divided find. After extended flushing and relocation attempts by both handlers it was decided that the two would take the non-productive and roll on. Jeter shook off the NP and stretched well to the front, though his handle was a tad loose. He had a stylish single find at 37 with all manners in order, but would be long gone to the front when the clock ran out. Sky settled in to hunt for his handler, and in doing so showing moments of brilliance. He had one other find with all manners in order, but would stick his 3rd point of the hour at 58 only to have the bird elude the handler once again resulting in a second non-productive.

Brace 4: HIT'S ALONG FOR THE RIDE – Kiracofe & ANJ'S AMAZING GRACE – Poehler: The first brace of the afternoon saw sunny skies and a kind gentle breeze. The dogs broke away from the clubhouse well, and seemed a brace that was evenly matched. As the dogs came into Hires Field, Ellie (Kiracofe) was picked up by her handler at the 10 for non-performance, while Grace (Poehler) established her 1st point. Two birds were produced for Grace and she was turned loose to roll on. She had her 2nd bird at 13, and took a hard spin on her mark when the bird was flushed. Her pattern and handle fell off a bit after that, but she stayed consistently hard hunting for the remainder of the hour.

Brace 5: RICO'S HI-PROOF BOOTLEGGER – Burchett & MR P'S DEVIL DOG OF COOS – Poland: Both dogs broke away well, however 4 minutes into the orchard, Mason (Burchett) would be caught booting up a bird. Poland and Devil had also found themselves standing point, but even with a tremendous flushing effort on the handler's part, no bird was produced. Devil was released again to show us he had a very methodical manner to his hunt where he would be rewarded with two more finds at 35 and again at 47. He finished his hour clean, with the same handy range as that with which he started. He hunted well, giving his heart and soul to the task for his handler.

Brace 6: HIT'S A ROCKY ROAD – Kiracofe & ONE OFF MOJITO MIKE – Kyle Merrill: Again, another seemingly well matched brace. Rocky and Mike went swinging out onto course 3 on a mission. At 11 Mike established his first point, which sucked him deep into the cover on the relocation and no reward of a bird to flight. At 13 Rocky too would come to a stop, but experience his first non-productive. At 35 Mike was rewarded with a small covey find of 3, which he handled well with beautiful manners. He had a gorgeous stop to flush at 42 and then was sucked again to the deep cover at 50 that again would result in an extended and non-productive relocation. 59 minutes found him standing one more time with no bird that would take to wing. Rocky was picked up at 35 for a self-release on a long flushing attempt.

Brace 7: PENELOPE OF COOS – Mc Pherson & UPLAND ACRES OVERLAND EXPRESS – Burchett: Starting from course 1, Penny and Zip went to hunting hard right off the bat. Nice casts were made as we came into Hire's field and both dogs came to a stop at 11 minutes, on the same tree line with what looked to be two different birds about 20 yards apart. Mc Pherson produced a bird for Penny, but Burchett asked Zip to relocate and came up empty handed. The dogs were released again where at 18 Penny struck point and Zip came in for the honor. At 23 Zip found and stuck a covey, but when his handler went in for the flush, Zip jumped in with him to help. Penny went on to find birds at 26 and again at 30 minutes with her manners in tact before she disappeared off course at 35 never to return to judgment.

Brace 8: MR HIRES- Lorenson & HITS FOR SAKE-Kiracofe: Course 2 proved to be a challenge for both dogs. Jack and Pete seemed a well-matched brace as they broke away, both taking the initiative to hunt to the front nicely. At 13 Pete had his first bird, which he stood with his usual good manners and the high style that he is famous for. At 14 Jack rolled through and stuck a bird about 30 yards downwind of Pete's first find. This would prove out to be a non-productive after a relocation and it was the end of an extended flushing attempt on the part of his handler. Jack was turned loose after this to continue to hunt. At the creek crossing, Jack went upstream rather than cross with his handler and found himself bogged down by the extra thick streamside edges. He never found his way back to dry land on the right side of the stream and at 29 was gone from judgement. Pete on the other hand, had his second find at 20 minutes and then continued to hunt the course in a flashy forward fashion. He was consistent in his application and ran his edges well when the course opened enough to provide him the opportunity to do so.

Brace 9: HIGH HOPES FLYN FANCY FREE- Cropek & GINJAC'S HEATIN IT UP- Currier: Breaking away on course 3, these two dogs made light work of heavy cover, hunting furiously and in a snappy pleasing fashion. Anyone who has ever hunted would love the opportunity to hunt behind these two dogs! Cajun rolled into his bird at a 1:30 time frame, setting the pace for the remainder of the hour. He had beautiful, and independent honor work at 15 and again at 25, rolling well and leaving little, if anything, unchecked in his quest. Fancy had her first bird at 15. At 20 she stuck again and was relocated to pin her bird successfully. At 50 she found herself a nice covey and was standing at 59 in the tall grass, where again, she was successfully relocated to produce her birds. She is a true gun dog that gave a very consistent performance for her entire hour.

Brace 10: BEBOP HEART & SOUL-Hunt & MARJOS HERE FOR THE PARTY- Luisi: Buddah (Hunt) showed an extreme desire to be competitive. He has the wheels, the heart and soul of a trial dog, as evidenced by his performance. His first bird was garnered at the 10 minute mark, standing tall and with high style. His manners were displayed to perfection. At 17 he found a hawk kill and was the honoring dog at 5, 20, and again at 28 minutes into his run. He finished his hour going strong. Gretchen (Luisi) stole the show for this brace. She had a total of 5 finds within her hour, nicely spaced within her first 30 minutes at 5, 10, 18, 28, and again at the 30 mark. From 30 minutes forward she continued to hunt and run an attractive forward race, finishing her hour as strong and as enthusiastic as she started.

Brace 11: DIAMOND HILL DANGEROUS MAN -Pollock & BOURBON STRAIGHT UP-Rein: Trace ( Pollock) and Jack (Rein) hit course 2 with a purpose. Both dogs had a nice forward race, good application and lots of class on their birds. The first bird for Trace was at 2 minutes, and he continued to blast his way around the course, almost always to the front. He got a tad sticky in a corner, with his handler fearing he'd found some deer to chase, but he was dug out and his run showed little, if any, affect for the absence. He had his 2nd bird at 32, a divided find which ended up being a hawk kill another at 35 and one last bird at the 50 mark with all manners in order. Trace ended his hour with a strong forward finish. Jack (Rein) was the epitome of a great gun dog, always headed to the front, always hunting. His class and style could not be denied when he stuck point at 5, again on the divided hawk kill at 35, again at 39 and finally one last bird at 58. Jack demonstrated the way to honor your brace mate at 32 and again at 50 with hardly a word from his handler. He seemed to run out of gas around the 46 minute mark, but ran well until then, and settled into completing his task finishing his hour with a good clean performance.

Brace 12: STAR'S DIXIE PEARL-Merrill & SHADYS DESERT KNIGHT-S. Johnson: Shadys Desert Knight was an official scratch so Pearl ran in place. This little liver and white firecracker put on a heck of show, with a fast, mostly forward and fun, edge of your saddle kind of show. Lady Luck was not with her on course 3 however, with only one legitimate find at 18 minutes, on a bird that had wandered into the path. Pearl had point called at 35 and again at 50 in places that were more suitable for this snappy little girl to find birds, however the hawks had beaten her to the punch both times. Pearl made the edge running look smooth as silk, when she had them to run, and kept her handler busy keeping up with her for the entire hour.

Brace 13: KILLDEES ANTICIPATION- Currier & HITS SHOWTIME-Perry: In the words of the judge, Brandy (Perry) "had a lot of fun but didn't get much done." She ran the course well, but wound up going birdless for her entire hour. Annie on the other hand came along behind Brandy and cleaned the course. Her first find was at 6 minutes, where she was successfully relocated to find the bird. She had finds at 18, 24, 31, and one last point called at 35, which became a non-productive. She was methodical in her hunting and made some nice casts in her hour on the ground.

Brace 14: HYBRITTINS BJ BETTY-Merrill & TOLKA-BELLE O KID RUSTYS PRO- Burchett: Rusty was an official scratch which left Betty to run in place. Seems that this lil gal was just what the judges were looking for. From the moment she was cut loose, Betty had a goal. She hunted hard, she handled as if she were attached to an invisible string to Merrill. She hunted deep and had a purpose to her application. Her stamina was evident as she charged along. Most impressive was the class and style she had on her birds, which were plentiful and well spaced within her hour on a difficult course to show well on. At 25 she had a covey, at 41 a pair and one more find at 51. She handled all her birds with perfect manners. She finished her hour as strongly as she started.

Brace 15: WILD MTNS SHAKE YA TAILFEATHER-Riggle & ROCKHARDS WALKING ON THE MOON-J.Johnson: Soldier (Riggle) and Nealy (Johnson) took off the line on course 3 like a couple of rocket ships. Nealy would be seen once at the 7 minute mark and then disappear from judgment altogether, finally being corralled 3 hours later, when the afternoon braces came round. Soldier on the other hand, had moments of brilliance and then again moments where he nearly lost his mind. His first official bird contact was at 4 minutes where a covey was flushed and he barely managed to keep his feet on the ground. At 16 he had another find with all of his manners intact. At 19 a cast along a line coming out of the top of the derby field brought him to an abrupt halt produced a pair, on which he took a hard mark with a spin at the shot. At 57, the scout called point after a long absence with Soldier's manners still in good order. He got a little wild and a lot more lateral as he neared the end of his hour, but it was evident that he was ready and willing to give his handler another hour or two of good hard hunting, if he were to be asked to do so.

Brace 16: BLUE ROCK'S DIAMOND GIRL-Perry & JUST A PUFF OF SMOKE-

Lorenson: Perry's girl, Diamond, had good range, handled well, hunted hard, and looked sharp on her birds for 45 minutes. She had several finds; a covey at 3 minutes, birds again at 16, and a hawk kill at 22. She was fired up and hunting well for most of her hour and then it seemed she ran out of gas. She still worked well with her handler and finished the brace although her range had shortened and she had settled into hunt mode. Smoke (Lorenson) had good range, was a little rough on the handle, but settled into hunting early on. She had a find at 43 and again at 50 showing that she had very nice manners on her birds.

Brace 17: EIBEAR OF AUTEN-Tefare & SNIKSOH SALLY-Burchett: Sally and Bear took off the line on course 2 together managing to hang close to one another for first 30 minutes. Sally's first find was at the ½ hour mark, which resulted in a dead bird with Bear giving her an honest back. At 35 Sally had a stop-to-flush and was whistled on. She would eventually be picked up at 55 by her handler for a lack luster performance over all. At 37 Bear was given a judicial courtesy to work his own bird, however, it was a judicial courtesy given under the understanding that the dog had failed to stop to flush with Sally and that the dog was to be picked up after the bird work was completed.

Brace 18: CELEBRATIONS TWO OF HEARTS-Katzel & CHIP'S TAILGATE RENDEZVOUS-Poehler: Deuce (Katzel) ran a big very independent race this day. A tad hard of hearing, he gave his handler fits and starts as he sailed around course 3. Deuce's only bird work would be at 51 minutes back up in Hire's field on course 1 finishing his hour going away strong. In the meantime, Poehler's dog remained busy at gun dog range with 2 finds. First bird was at 17, which he pointed and held staunchly and again at 30 minutes in the tall grass. Handler managed to road the bird up before reaching the dog to flush and the dog held his manners well. At the 51 mark, he rolled in to back Deuce nicely, finishing the hour with a clean performance.

Brace 19: DERAILED-Cropek & THE HOLIDAY KID – Lorenson: The morning started off in a frosty mode. Jack Frost had once again decorated the landscape with a beautiful and dazzling white crust over everything and the morning mist that comes from the warm earth clashing with the crisp cold air gave the whole first brace an aura of surreal. Teddy (Cropek) would kick-start the day with a blazing money making performance for 20 minutes. He had finds at 5, 7, 11, & 13 (which the brace mate backed), pointing staunchly for every one of his birds. At 17 the foggy mist seemed to swallow Teddy up and the tracker was pulled at 22. Kid (Lorenson) gave a nice easy and very enjoyable performance on the ground, with easy and quiet handling from Ben. The utter serenity of the beautiful morning was reflected in the running style of this dog and it was a disappointment to see her go without birds of her own for the entire hour.

Brace 20: BEELINE OH SUZANNAH-McClure & JAZZ'S SWEETEST LITTLE SECRET-Hopper: From the looks of things at the break away on course 2 these 2 girls were going to try and give the front runners a run for their money. Both dogs broke away hard, setting a snappy pace. Suzannah (Mc Clure) established point at 38, standing high and tight thru the flush. She continued her run with a stop to flush at 55 and finished her hour clean. Karo (Hopper) ran with the grace, intelligence and experience only a seasoned past winner can show, however, she disappeared from handle at 39 and was not returned to judgment.

Brace 21: FOSTER'S BUDDY II-Foster & HOPE'S CAROLINA SUNSHINE-Roth: The break away on course 3 was fast and furious for both dogs. Buddy (Foster) easily took the front, but the dogs were evenly matched for speed and drive to hunt. Buddy made some excellent moves on a course that is notoriously difficult to navigate. He had his one and only bird of the hour at 9 minutes with all manners in order. He was then the honoring dog at 33, but the other handler claimed feathers, so Buddy was sent on. He made his hour with a good strong run and lots of bottom left at the end. Sunny (Roth) had points at 17, which was a frozen quail, at 33, which was a feather pile, and again at 38, which ended in a non-Productive. Handler picked up at 42 knowing that he wasn't making any money on this day.

Brace 22: ROVAN'S HURRICANE HANNAH-Clark & PETER GUNN-Carter: Hannah (Clark) and Pete (Carter) took off from course 1 looking good to start. Unfortunately, Hannah had a bird at 6 minutes out as we came into Hire's field that was actually a bump to flush, and then a point on the bumped bird. She was ordered up. Pete (Carter) on the other hand sailed the course in true Pete fashion. At 7 he had a non-productive, at 16 a covey. At 26 he was called standing on another covey, at 28 he struck again and had an extended relocation before producing the birds. Pete made moves that no other dog had yet to even attempt, sailing into the top of the derby course coming into course 2 with the longest, most beautiful cast made in the entire stake. 58.5 he was standing high and tight for a final time. Ending his hour with a pair set to wing, all manners in place, and he was, of course, full of his trademark impeccable style.

Brace 23: MASKED JACK OF DIAMONDS-Tillson & HIGH HOPE'S LITTLE ANN-J. Johnson: Jack was declared a scratch, which left Annie to run alone. 2 minutes off the break away she stuck a hawk kill. At 11 she struck point again, only to be rewarded with another hawk kill. At 14 handler called point a 3rd time, and after an extended relocation only a pile of feathers was produced. Annie was picked up by her handler at 18.

Brace 24: CISCO'S ROCKY-Lorenson & SUEMACS LIBERTY BELLE-Mc Pherson: Rocky (Lorenson) had a bump to flush at 8 minutes in and was ordered up. Libby (Mc Pherson) ran a tidy gun dog race, making some handy moves and hunting well. She had her first point called at 27, which produced a hawk kill. At 39 she found another kill, but was relocated into a live bird seen by the judges. Taking available edges nicely this lil gal ran and hunted for her handler, sticking one last time at 60, which would result in an extended flush to relocation and ultimately a non-productive.

Congratulations to the Winner and all of the placing dogs!!

What's Really Happening In The Woods?

By L. R. Bates

Both dogs broke away up the bridle path to the first line, a long, narrow strip of tall grasses running parallel to the course. They both turned left and head raced to the far tree line, two hundred yards away. He was an old veteran of the field trial wars, finished both ways with many placements under his belt. She was a youngster, just out of derby; green broke but obviously with the mind and heart to compete with the best. The handlers were well matched to their dogs- an old veteran and a newcomer.

The dogs broke to the front, entered the woods and disappeared. The handlers kept walking down the bridle path followed by the judges and a large gallery. The veteran walked with confidence that his dog would show to the front and the newcomer new enough to keep walking and hope for the best. Up ahead, a single dog popped out of the woods and headed across the open field towards the handlers. As it neared, it slowed to a show gate. It was the old dog bringing back a present to his handler. As the old veteran took the freshly killed bird from his dog's mouth and reached for his leash, he said with a smile, "well, they're only dogs after all. It's been short but a pleasure. You got a nice little dog. Good luck to you." Five minutes latter, the little bitch was leashed too, having been seen under a bird.

On his way back to the parking lot, the newcomer passed two gallery members watering their horses. They had their backs to him and they were discussing the brace.

"If that little bitch points half as good as she runs, she could be a good one if that kid can get her broke."

"You got that right but he's got a ways to go. I bet she was chasing that bird around in front of old Jack. That's pretty tempting even for a dog as honest as Jack. He probably caught it and was just bringing it home for the table."

The newcomer felt bad as he searched for the old Veteran. He found him behind a rusted two horse trailer cinching up a well-worn trooper saddle on that back of one of a matched pair of beautiful, well cared for Tennessee Walkers. The newcomer explained what he had overheard and he apologized for anything his dog may have done. The old veteran told him not to worry about it.

"Don't be so anxious to blame your dog. Nobody was there to see what really happened out there in the woods and even if those guys were right, it's not your dog's fault. It's mine for not training my dog to handle that kind of situation. Besides, wasn't that a beautiful retrieve- right to hand! Come on- grab my other horse. Let's go ride this next brace. I'll tell you a funny story about what really goes on out there behind the scenes."

As they took their place at the rear of the gallery the old veteran told the newcomer about his first field trial dog- how he handled like a dream and was broke to death. He was labeled a "tweener"- a dog with a run that's a little short for an all-age and a little big for a gun dog. He had the reputation as a perennial second place dog. That day in Indiana, he ran him in an all-age stake and he needed only two points to finish an Open title.

"Old Bud had a nice run with two nice pieces of bird work. I thought that this just might be his day. They had some other clean dogs, but they had some holes in their games. There was one brace left, Pete Castle's National Amateur Champion, Ringo and a young, green broke male. You been over there to Indiana?"

The newcomer shook his head, no and the old Veteran described the course, which broke away to the north, made a sharp U-turn and then headed back south through long narrow fields of native grasses on a sandy soil. Rows of mixed hardwoods and pine plantings bordered the fields. Hidden behind tree rows, fire lanes ran the entire length of the course. Other fire lanes crossed the course at right angles.

"You needed a good scout at the hair pin turn because the wildlife area goes on to the north a couple of miles. If your scout has to go get the dog, he can sneak him far ahead using one of those parallel fire lanes and pop him right out in front on one of those crisscross fire lanes. It looks like the dog did it all on his own and you'd never know the scout was hiding back in the woods."

The old veteran paused to collect his thoughts. He smiled at the newcomer as he critiqued his riding skills. He suggested loosening up on the reins a bit and then he continued his story.

"The green broke dog crashed early and the course belonged to Ringo and Pete. At the hairpin turn, Pete didn't have Ringo. He stopped his horse, looked to the north, paused, turned and continued on the course heading south. His scout knew what that pause meant and he rode off into the woods to find Ringo. These guys were a real team. They'd been doing this a long time, they knew the course and they knew what you could do with those fire lanes. Pete kept riding but he slowed his horse down a bit."

"Why did he slow down?"

"He had to give his scout time to find the dog and time to race him to the front. As it turned out, that wasn't necessary on this day. I was the last one in the gallery and I looked over my shoulder to see if I could get a glimpse of Pete's scout. And there came Ringo, all by himself, right down the bridle path carrying a live bird in his mouth. He picked a good place to do it too. There's a little bank of trees that comes right down to the path and the gallery got around the other side and couldn't see me when I told Ringo whoa. I got off my horse and took the bird from him. He had feathers on both sides of his mouth so I grabbed the canteen and washed them out and gave him a drink. I ran him over and sent him down the fire lane and watched him disappear to the front. He grabbed one of those crisscross lanes and found himself a bird. He knew Pete was near by and so he pointed this one."

"Did anyone know you were back on the fire lane?"

"No, it's hard to hear a horse galloping on that sandy soil. I can still hear Pete yelling 'There he is your honor- standing up ahead'.

Pete produced a single in front of Ringo's stylish point and he had a strong finish. And you know what that means? Ringo won the blue and Bud added another red to his record."

"Did you ever tell Pete what you did?"

"Oh sure, Pete's a good friend of mine. But I never told anyone else till now. Just remember, you don't always know what's really going on out there in the woods."

"You would have finished your dog if you had just let Ringo keep going past the judges with that bird in his mouth. Did you feel bad about that?"

"Eventually, I finished Bud. Actually, he finished on the same course the next spring. He went on and had a great career and Pete even paid me back years latter. He caught Bud chasing birds around a pine tree while he was scouting for another dog and he got him out of there before he got in any trouble with the judges. But that wasn't the worst thing that happened to me that day I took the bird out of Ringo's mouth."

"What else happened?"

"A week latter, I found that bird in the pocket of my jacket in the downstairs closet!"

East Coast

SUSQUEHANNA Rossville, PA

September 30-October 2, 2011

The Susquehanna Brittany Club held our fall 2011 field trial at the York Pointer and Setter Club in Rossville, PA. The weather was cool and damp after one of the wettest years in the history of Pennsylvania's history. Water runs uphill it seems some days at the club but the mud was not near as bad as expected by all that came.

The ladies in the kitchen kept us all fed with plenty of good warm food prepared there by caring hands and smiling faces that greet each person that comes into the club house. Our Saturday evening pot luck dinner was a success with plenty of people sharing stories and good times and the great dinner with turkey, ham and lots of other dishes to compliment.

Just prior to the awarding of placements and ribbons two club members were presented to the gathering as new lifetime achievement members of the Susquehanna Brittany Club: Marilyn Fenicle with more than 40 years of service to the club as one of the Chief Cook and Bottle Washers, club Secretary and other various jobs as needed; Also, Joan Warshefski with all of her years of helping the club as an entrant, Field Trial Secretary, and kitchen helper. Both ladies have been behind the scenes but a large part of any success we have had as a club. We appreciate both for themselves and all that they have contributed.

Ribbons were given out as we prepared to have dinner with a keynote announcement to celebrate two club members having had some terrific success this year. Steve and Mary Lauterbach with their DC Pancho Del Prado and Dan Rein with his DC Bourbon's Straight Up, have had a great year. Both, within a couple weeks of each other added to the Dual Brittany Title list. Glasses were raised and both handlers and dogs were celebrated.

Dan Rein's field trial committee kept the days running smooth on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The placements are appended here for all to see.

Thank you everyone that came and supported our trial and helped in every way they thought of.

TIDEWATER

Dick Cross WMA
Boydton, VA
October 23-24, 2011

The Tidewater Brittany Club held their Fall Walking Field Trial on Oct. 22/23 at the Dick Cross WMA, VA. Weather stayed dry and pleasant throughout the entire weekend. Handlers and dogs enjoyed the attention of the judges who mentioned they saw a lot of up and coming young dogs that ran well and to be watched for in the future.

A BIG THANKS goes to Yvonne McKeag who stepped up and kept all of us fed with such yummy food all weekend. Thanks bunches to all the ladies who helped Yvonne. Thanks too for everyone who brought such tasty deserts.

Thanks so much to all of the judges, bird planters, and especially Don Tellock who helped keep the trial running smoothly.

TBC dedicated this field trial to the memory of Ed Rudzinski whom we lost in late Sept. We miss you Ed!

HEART OF ILLINOIS

Jim Edgar Panther Creek SFWA
Chandlerville, IL
October 22-23, 2011

The Heart of Illinois Brittany Club held their fall trial on Oct 22-23 at Jim Edgar Panther Creek Fish & Wildlife Area. It was a beautiful fall day for dogs, horses and people. The list of thank you for your work is long and hopefully we haven't forgotten anyone. If you did work and don't see your name, we apologize. We would like to thank the IDNR for their assistance in preparing grounds, hauling water and being there for our every need. Allowing us a spectator wagon was a huge and well-received item. Thanks also go to Purina for their contribution of food for our winners. Judges always deserve a huge thank you as we couldn't hold a trial without their keen eyesight and wise judgment.

Thanks to our club workers – we needed each and every one of you! Workers are Bird Planters, Bob, Dave, Dellis, Ryan, Todd, and Rodger; Dog Wagon Drivers, Jim, Dean and Neveta; Cooks, Todd, Dellis, Todd, Pam, Dave, Kathleen, Rose Marie, Jane, Bob and Dean. The lunch was superb as we had a wonderful steak dinner and of course a birthday cake as we celebrated Todd Parmenter and Peter Coppens birthdays. Everyone was glad to help them celebrate.

We held a non-regular hunting dog stake this year. It was well received and we had a hay wagon set up so spectators could watch these awesome hunters work. Winning the stake was Dellis Doerr handling Red Rock Remington. A close second was Jack handled by Dean Haley.

The Open Derby was won by Four Starr Bowen De Nevene owned by Mike Bowen and handled by Gene Salmons. Coming in second was Hi Proof Jack also handled by Gene Salmons. Bob Appleman guided Maggie to third while Joe Dielfield handled his dog Gypsy's Cave Creek Ike to fourth.

The Gun Dog stakes were dominated by Burton Wice as he brought WW's Million Dollar Mollee to a 4th place finish in the Amateur Gun Dog and to the big blue in the Open Gun Dog. He reported that this finished her title. Matrix Grand Illusion tried his best but managed 2nd in the Amateur Gun Dog and third in the Open Gun Dog. Another new AFC earned their title by winning the Amateur Gun Dog – BGD's Jesse James owned and handled by Dave Johnson. Congratulations to these newly titled dogs.

The Open Puppy was won by KBK's Light Years Ahead owned and handled by Kevin Stonehouse. Kevin also handled the third place winner – Big Prairies Holy Tarah.

Congratulations to all placers.

We hope to see everyone at our spring trials next March. Our walking trial will be March 10-11 at Moraine View State Park and our horseback trial will be March 22-23 at Jim Edgar Panther Creek.

FORT WORTH Boyd Ranch Wortham, TX October 15-16, 2011

The Fort Worth Brittany Club held their Fall Trial October 15-16, 2011. The trial was run on the Boyd Ranch near Wortham, Texas. A big thank you goes out to our five very fine judges that joined us to watch over the trial. Charlie Collier, Dale Barker, Ed Cowling, Ben Kuykendall and Wesley Felt spent their weekend in the saddle bringing judgment over the six events.

Club member Ben Kuykendall not only judged for the club, but took time to run some dogs.

Ben did very well in the Open All Age Event. His dog HIPOINT BLAZIN' LAMONT displayed exceptional performance and was awarded the blue ribbon.

Everyone in Texas and I believe all parts of the Brittany world know Jim and Mary Crawford. This weekend was very special for these fine folks as their dog CH J&M BLAZEN DIXIE CHIK won the Open Gun Dog. This put the final points necessary to become a Field Champion and most notable a Dual Champion. It is my understanding this will be Jim and Mary's thirteenth Dual Champion. Congrats.

You could not carry out a field trial without the volunteers that came to help. Thank you to Kevin, Carolyn and Mary for your hard work. Thanks to all of the participants and we will see you in January for the Spring Trial.

CALIFORNIA Spanish Ranch New Cuyama, CA October 28-30, 2011

The CBC fall field trial was held at Dan and Pam Doiron's historic Spanish Ranch in New Cuyama, CA on Oct. 28-30, 2011. The weather was typical fall weather: warm days, cool nights, sunny, usually breezy and clear. Chairperson Paul Doiron and Peggy Doiron along with secretary Myra-Dawn Ellis worked diligently for many weeks to plan the event. The single course followed a canyon that meandered gently up the hill near the ranch house through beautiful oak trees and chaparral. Bountiful native quail supplemented with planted birds provided lots of bird work, especially in the mornings. Deer were sighted by the gallery and bear sign was seen by some.

Thanks to the dog wagon pulled by Dan Doiron's tractor, every brace could be enjoyed by all due to the efforts of Mark Ambre, Mark Nunez, Joe Gower, and Tom White who drove tirelessly to be sure that everyone could safely see all of the action on course. Bird planters Ed Dixon, Mark Ambre, Bill Landress, Mark Nunez and Tom White went to all of the right places to plant the birds. Judges John Cushing, Ellis Herz, Michael Vaz, Ed Dixon and Bill Landress stayed in the saddle long hours each day to carefully assess each brace.

The ranch not only spoils us with its course and bird work but with its cabana that was made available to us. It comes with a full kitchen, barbeque pit, wet bar, and fire pit. Margaret Horstmeyer, Christine and Bob Landerholm-Miller, Cindy Leffingwell, Joy Ory, Kim Nunez and Linda McDonald easily followed Peggy Doiron's superbly planned meals that were so well organized by Myra-Dawn Ellis.

All of the meals were an event at the cabana but none could be topped by Saturday's gala celebration. It was launched by our Happy Hour to honor the dogs that finished a title. FC Finale's Flyin's Colors, "Darcy," owned by Myra-Dawn Ellis, FC Smokin Grand Finale, "Moki," owned by Mark Ambre, DC MB's Make Mine a Double, "Mac" and DC MB's Ruby Red Tequila, "Ruby," both owned by Bob and Christine Landerholm-Miller, and FC Firestorm's Mega Chip of Smoke, "Chip," owned by Mark and Kim Nunez. All these dogs were handled by Paul and Peggy Doiron. Last but not least, AFC Scipios Micro Twist, "Skeeter," owned and handled by Ed Dixon and Linda Dixon.

The celebrants' owners provided delicious hors d'oeuvres and cocktails to be enjoyed while people watched the annual Halloween costume parade planned by Deborah Frane. Children and dogs dressed in their costumes and paraded through the cabana. Treats were awarded to all participants. Mark and Kim Nunez cooked an incredible dinner of fried turkey with all of the traditional fixings that was topped off by a cake to honor our new champions celebrated at the happy hour. A raffle, pulled together by Linda McDonald, allowed attendees to win some great prizes to top off their evening.

Thanks again to the efforts of Paul and Peggy Doiron and Myra-Dawn Ellis and to the generosity of Dan and Pam Doiron, this trial and weekend was a total success enjoyed by veteran field trialers and the many newcomers alike.

Loyall Pet Food provided gift certificates for a bag of dog food to the first and second place winners.

SAN DIEGO

Sportsman's Ridge Hunt Club Aguanga, CA

November 5-6, 2011

The San Diego Brittany Club held its second walking field trial again at the Sportsman's Ridge Hunt Club just north of San Diego in the small town of Aguanga. It was a bit chilly for us Southern Californians but perfect for the dogs. The elevation is about 4000 feet and there were snow flurries Friday night which quickly melted. Everyone pitched in to help make this a very good trial. I would especially like to thank new club members (this was also their first field trial) Donna Russell and Judy Loundagin. They took care of all the meals. Also, thank you Lorie and Bruce Blanton for keeping everything running smoothly at the Breakaway. We hope to continue holding this Walking trial; there is a real need for this.

Specialty Shows

WESTERN MICHIGAN

Ionia, MI

October 24, 2011

Much preparation goes into a specialty show and it's always good to have a little help. I'd like to thank our Canadian club member Deb Smelt for coming down the Friday before the show to lend a hand. She helped get the lunch ready for the specialty and even helped put the judges' hospitality gifts together for the gun dog championship judges. Thanks Deb!

We had a little problem when 10:00 a.m. rolled around and we had no judge. So I quickly called Carl Liepmann to find out what had happened. I never did find out, but he arrived about an hour and a half later to preside over the days judging. Best of Breed went to GCH Triumphant's Savior Machine bred and handled by Linda McCartney Roy and owned by Michelle & Stephanie Russell and Linda McCartney Roy.

Best of Winners was Winner's Dog Hope Greyrock Start Your Engine, bred by Ken & Judy Gichbrugge and owned by Dough Tighe and Terry Hilliard, with Doug handling the dog. Best of Opposite went to CH Triumphant's Centerfold, bred and owned by Kristyn McCartney and Linda McCartney Roy, handled by Kristyn. Select Dog was CH Marsport Neat Nickleback bred and owned by John Marsman. Select Bitch was our Veteran Bitch CH RJ's Talk of The Town, JH bred by Robert & Joyce Wire and owned by Larry & Terry Hilliard and shown by Dough Tighe.

We want to thank everyone who supported our show with entries, trophy donations, food donations, work and love. The show was a success because of our club members and friends who took time out of their busy schedules on a Monday morning to come help clean up. My thanks to my husband Gary who is always there to back me up and do the hard work. Dick Lipski, Wayne Warners, Deb Smelt, Dawn Whitcomb, Becky Harris, and Linda Elbert all helped with either set-up or tear down or both – thank you!

Thanks to all the exhibitors who always support our show and our club – you are much appreciated! We will be having our spring specialty on March 30, 2012 at the same location and it's followed by our field trial, the Michigan Championships and the Michigan Trial. It's a great 10 days in Michigan, don't miss it!

August 19, 2011

The CNEBC Annual Independent Specialty Show was held on August 19, 2011 at the Central Massachusetts Expo Center in Fitchburg, MA. This year we had a wonderful entry of 37 dogs to compete for a 3 point major in dogs and a 4 point major in bitches.

Ms. Katrin Tazza delighted with her choice of Half Moon's Country Road Hobo (shown by Rachel Kulp), as Best in Puppy Sweepstakes, and followed up with Killion's Little Bit A Nitro (shown by David Killion) as Best of Opposite. Her choice for the veterans were CH Omega's Red Granite JH (shown by Donna Howe), named Best in Veteran Sweepstakes, and CH Top Shelf's Simple Pleasures CDX, SH, RN, MX, MXJ, XF (shown by Wendy Archinal), Best of Opposite.

Ms. Sandra Lex selection for Best Junior was Reva Dickson showing Cross Creek Winter Lilly. Ms. Lex also took on the task of sorting through the classes and found her Winners Dog in Canipat's As You Like It (shown by Lisa Tailby). Reserve went to Half Moon's Country Road Hobo (shown by Rachel Kulp). Cross Creek Winter Lilly (shown by Reva Dickson) stood out as Winners Bitch with Reserve going to Rao Tonan Midnight Madness (shown by Christine Walker).

The Best of Breed line-up was formidable but CH Triumphant's Kajole Trumpeteer (shown by Mark Desrosiers) rose to the occasion and was selected as the Best of Breed. Best of Winners was Canipat's As You Like It (shown by Lisa Tailby) to cross over for a 4 point major, and Best of Opposite was GCH CH Millette's Sweet Memories (shown by Jen Krieger). Select Dog was awarded to CH Triumphant's Absolute' JH (shown by Kristyn McCartney) with Select Bitch being awarded to GCH Tonan-Rao Halfmoon's Nite Mist (shown by Rachel Kulp). Award of Merits were presented to CH JMAT's Find Just Keep Swimmin' (shown by Debbie Latino), GCH/CH Triumphant's Saviour Machine (shown by Linda McCartney-Roy) and CH Top Shelf's Simple Pleasures CDX, SH, RN, MX, MXJ, XF (shown by Wendy Archinal). After the Best of Breed was selected Ms. Lex went on to select Half Moon's Country Road Hobo (shown by Rachel Kulp) as Best Puppy.

Thank you to all the exhibitors who continue to support this specialty and to all who donated to our trophy fund. Special thanks to Canidae for their sponsorship.

MEMBERS OF THE AMERICAN BRITTANY CLUB

Give the gift of a new membership... to give the opportunity to someone to learn about and participate in the American Brittany Club.

This membership campaign is really quite simple, we are asking every member to donate/sponsor a membership in the American Brittany Club. This "gifted" membership might be to a puppy purchaser, or a friend/acquaintance who has a Brittany. All of us encounter people who may just need a little encouragement to become members.

This can work, but it is totally dependent upon your support. Please use the ABC application form in the back of the magazine to enroll a new member today. You may donate/sponsor multiple new memberships. The names of new members & ABC sponsors will be published in the magazine on a quarterly basis.

THIS IS OUR CHANCE TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE!
