VOLUME LXV • NUMBER 11 • NOVEMBER 2013

Objective and Purpose:

To promote cooperation and friendship among the breeders and owners of Brittans and to encourage higher standards in breeding, training and showing of Brittans in the field and in the show ring; to discourage the breed from becoming split into groups of "field dogs" and "show dogs" and to strive to keep it forever a "dual dog".

Issues and Opportunities, November, 2013

One of the more enjoyable things about being ABC president is that it gives me motivation to go to events that I might not otherwise attend. I took advantage of the fact that the ABC Grouse/Woodcock Classic/Championship this year was hosted by the Badger Brittany Club and was being held about a 5-hour drive from my home. I have spent a lot of time in woods, but never in search of ruffed grouse or woodcock. As a kid growing up in the Georgia piedmont, the woods were where I went squirrel hunting. I hunted deer in the woods of Georgia, Pennsylvania, and Iowa in later years, and spent many hours walking through the woods as a geologist searching for outcroppings of rock, but grouse and woodcock were never part of any of these activities. I was assured that I would be in for an experience unlike what I am accustomed to, and that certainly turned out to be the case. The event this year was held during the second week of October, when the fall colors in Wisconsin were just about at their peak. That made for beautiful scenery, but the leaves on the trees also made it more difficult to see either the dogs or the birds. The dogs were allowed to wear bells so the handlers could keep track of them in the heavy cover, and there was very little in the way of verbal commands or whistles because such noises tended to drown out the sound of the bell. Likewise, the gallery was unusually quiet. The pathway was typically covered with damp leaves, which muffled the sound of footsteps, so often the only sounds one would hear would be the ringing of the bells as the dogs sought their quarry. The other difference from field trials I am more accustomed to is that everyone walked. Handlers, judges, marshals, scouts and anyone in the gallery was on foot. Even in other foot-handled trials I have attended, the judges were mounted, and the scouts and members of the gallery were permitted to ride horses. Of course, spectators could opt to walk or sit out a given brace, but the judges walked everything. At this particular trial, no dogs were picked up early, so that meant a full 6 hours a day, plus getting to the breakaway points and coming back to the vehicles after time was called, which was sometimes quite a distance away.

To a neophyte like me, it was difficult to tell some of the more subtle changes within the woods, but the more experienced handlers would talk about all the edges the dogs could take. I did notice that some areas contained more aspen or birch and others more oak, or pine, or were damp areas with mostly grasses, and the like. According to the long-time grouse hunters, a good grouse dog will learn these, and even more subtle, differences, and will adjust its pattern accordingly. I did have a chance to talk to the judges and asked them what they looked for in a cover dog. They described basically the same kinds of things one looks for in any dog: independence, application, staying to the front, handling, and of course, the ability to find, point, and hold game. I must say that the two gentlemen who judged this particular event were very focused on the dogs, stopping when necessary to locate the sound of the bell and determine if the dog had gone on point, then fighting through the heavy cover to observe the bird work.

The other good thing about going to this, and other events I had not attended in the past, was that I got to meet people who do not normally attend many of the other trials, shows, and matches that I do. I renewed some previous acquaintances as well as being introduced to people I had never before met. I am very glad I attended. I have always thought the Brittany was a very versatile dog, and this experience just strengthens that conviction. One dog that was entered, for example, had just won a major all age championship in the wide open Sand Hills of Nebraska, yet was also able to compete in the tight cover of the Wisconsin grouse woods. What a wonderful breed we have!

I want to change the topic as I end this month's column to bring to your attention some important links on the ABC website. I am referring specifically to those labeled "Veterinary Articles." Among these are several papers regarding Nocardia and Actinomyces. If you are not familiar with these, you need to become so because these and other similar infections can be fatal if not diagnosed and treated early and properly. Further, it appears that many veterinarians who do not treat a lot of hunting and/or field trial dogs may not be familiar with these infections. I have found that some veterinarians tend not to give much credibility to things I may tell them, but they will pay heed to articles written by other veterinarians. If you suspect your dog may be suffering from such an infection, be sure your veterinarian is at least aware of these resources.

ABC BOARD OF DIRECTORS 2013 EMAIL MOTION

MOTION TO RECOGNIZE THE SOB SHOOTING DOG CLASSIC AS AN ABC/AKC CLASSIC

MOTION BY: Bo Ackerman, East Central Director

SECONDED BY: Darlene Dow, East Coast Director

MOTION MADE & SECONDED: October 4, 2013

DISCUSSION FOR 7 DAYS: Saturday, October 5 – Friday October 11, 2013

VOTES ACCEPTED FOR 5 DAYS: Saturday, October 12 – Wednesday, October 16, 2013

MOTION: I move to recognize the Southern Open Brittany (SOB) Shooting Dog Classic as an ABC/AKC Classic.

Rationale: The Georgia Brittany Club has recently obtained ownership and permission from Bernie Matthys of the American Field to become the permanent home of the Southern Open Brittany (SOB) Open All Age Championship and AAA Championships. As there are no Shooting Dog/Gun Dog Championships currently in the Southeastern States, we have also asked Bernie to approve the running of an Open Shooting Dog Classic with the goal of becoming an American Field Championship. He has indicated we must run this stake for a couple of times before he will rule on it as a Championship. We will be running the All Age stakes in conjunction with our regional Georgia trial but at this time will be running the Open Shooting Dog Classic a few days later on a nearby plantation with 3 one hour courses as a stand alone event. We would like for the Board of Directors to add this stake to the ones approved to run as ABC/AKC Regional Gun Dog Classics list since the SOB is already recognized for their other two stakes and we can count this event to be run later this year as an AKC/ABC points trial that qualifies dogs for the Gun Dog Nationals for 2014.

Motion Passed with all 15 Directors voting YES.

Book of the American Brittany

1990-2010 EDITION

NOW AVAILABLE

The Book of the American Brittany, 1990-2010 Edition

is an invaluable source of reference and enjoyment for all Brittany breeders and enthusiasts. Expanding upon the previous works by Dr. Fred Z. White, Nicky Bissell, and Rheta Cartmell, this 320-page edition focuses on dogs and Brittany events between the years 1990-2010.

Chapters include: History of the American Brittany; Field Trialing 1935-1989; Modern Field Trial Winners; ABC Classics & Championships; The Show Brittany; The Dual Brittany; ABC Futurities; Performance Events (Hunt Tests, Obedience, Agility, NSTRA); Top Producers; ABC Honor Rolls (Hall of Fame, Life Members). These are followed by an index of ABC event winners from 1942-1989, and an index of all dogs mentioned in the book. The text of this book is brought to life with over 625 color and black/white photos, many of historical value, and as many as could be obtained of the modern-day dogs mentioned in the book.

Introducing Puppies to Birds

by Rick Smith and Sharon Potter

Bird work is the really fun part of all of the training we do with our dogs. It's exciting, it's fast-paced, and it shows off the dog we are so proud of (at least when things are going well). The dogs love it, the handlers love it, and adrenaline runs high for both human and canine. All the yard work, all the drills and time and effort are meant to lead us to the field and birds. After all, that's why they're called bird dogs!

We want our puppy to have all the class and style and intensity in the world when around birds, and there's nothing wrong with wanting that. What is important is stacking the deck in your puppy's favor so it can have every advantage in learning about birds. This means taking the time to do a good job of introducing your pup to the feathered critters.

The number one thing any dog needs in order to hunt effectively is prey drive. Prey drive – actually known to animal behaviorists as prey chase drive – can be described as the strong urge to chase and catch something, and with puppies this often means anything interesting that moves. Even an action as simple as chasing a ball reflects on the prey drive the puppy has. To a great degree, it's genes dictate the amount of prey drive a pup will be born with. If the parents were good hunters and had strong prey drive, the puppies will have a better than average chance of turning out the same way, given similar opportunities. If good genetics are in place, then all that's left to us as trainers is to encourage and develop the puppy's desire for game.

The biggest step in developing prey drive is to not shut it off. That sounds contradictory, we know, but bear with me. Often, we see dogs whose prey drive has been discouraged inadvertently by well-meaning corrections. Things like pulling something out of a puppy's mouth and/or scolding it for having the object can adversely affect a dog's desire. Another incident that we've seen is a dog owner correcting a pup for touching the cat or playing hard with another puppy. If a pup learns at a young age that you are displeased, upset, or angry when it touches another animal, you take some of the prey drive away from that dog. Please note: We're not advocating allowing a puppy to maul the housecat or eat the family hamster; just be careful to distract the puppy with something it is allowed to have and divert its attention, or else separate the animals if it gets to be an issue.

So how do we introduce birds to this equation? A method commonly seen is the "wing on a string," where puppies are allowed to see and often point a bird wing attached to a string or fishing pole. This is fun to watch, and best serves our purpose when the puppies chase the wing and want to catch it and pounce on it. Again, this develops a desire for game and feathers. Letting them pick it up and carry it around is also a good thing. What we don't want to do is continue to play with the wing once a puppy has pointed it a time or two. Continuing after that first cute puppy point will teach the dog to sight-point or feel the need to see something before pointing, so put the wing away permanently once the puppy has pointed it.

No more wing...what do we do next? A good introduction to real birds is important, and for this we like to use a smothered bird. This way the bird is still fresh but there is no risk of the puppy getting spooked because it was flapped in the face by a live bird.

Toss the smothered bird on the ground a few feet ahead of the pup and let the pup go to it. A variety of reactions are possible here: Some pups will run to it, grab it, and play with it; others will tentatively approach it and sniff it, sometimes acting like they're uncertain. Some pups will ignore it altogether. Others will try to tear it apart and maybe even eat it.

There is no right or wrong reaction at this stage, so don't judge your puppy if it is uncertain or just not interested. And above all, keep calm and don't worry if the pup starts to tear the bird apart. It's all a game at this stage, and we want it to be a fun one. There are no mistakes in these early stages – everything is okay. Some pups show interest the first time while others couldn't care less. This doesn't mean that one is better than the other, or that there is a problem with the uninterested dog. Do not judge your dog, since they all mature at different ages and go through various stages in the process.

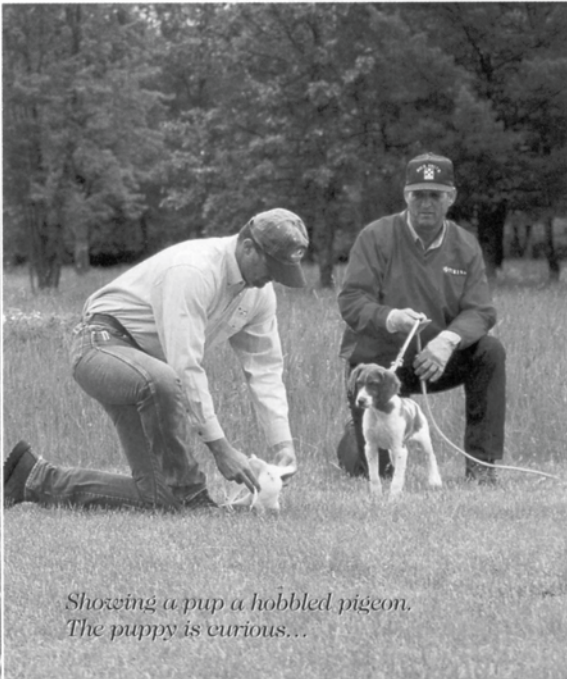

Suppose your puppy is reluctant to drop the bird and you want to have him release it. There's an easy way to make this happen without causing problems by pulling the bird out of the pup's mouth. Usually if you just pick the puppy up and hold it, it will drop whatever is in its mouth. This is much more effective than trying to play tug-of-war with a dog, and doesn't cause the hardmouth problems that pulling can. If the pup is just chewing on the bird, don't worry at this stage. That can be corrected later in life when the dog goes through the trained-retrieve process.

Another effective tactic using a dead bird is to tie a string to Rick Smith has spent a lifetime breeding, training, and handling National Championship bird dogs. His highly popular training seminars teach the "Silent Command System" to dog owners world-wide. During hunting season, Rick can be found on the Mariposa Ranch in south Texas.

Sharon Potter has a strong background in animal behavior, and has been training both horses and dogs for many years, with several National titles to her credit. She is an avid hunter and archer, and in her spare time is working on the first of a series of books on bird dog training with Rick Smith.

the bird and pull it around, allowing the puppy to chase but not catch it. This builds prey drive as well. Once a puppy has smelled a bird and had a bird in its mouth, it will recognize bird scent even if it can't see the bird.

How old should a dog be when introduced to birds? Six weeks, eight weeks, six years, eight years – it doesn't matter, as long as the introduction is done carefully. It's ever too late. The more the prey drive is developed as a puppy, however, the stronger it will be as an adult dog.

Once a dog has been exposed to a dead bird and likes the game, it's time to bring in a live bird. Using a hobbled pigeon is good, and holding the wings close to the bird's body while allowing the pup to sniff it and see that it moves is also good. If you can work with another dog that is used to birds and gets excited around them, this can draw a new dog's interest as well. They want what the excited dog wants, and the bird is the prize.

When the pup has sniffed the pigeon, step back a few yards and flutter the hobbled pigeon around on the ground. The reaction we're looking for is the dog wanting to chase the bird. After a few seconds of this, take the hobbles off and let the bird fly away while the pup chases it.

If your dog is accustomed to the stakeout chain and is content while snapped onto it, the above bird intro can be done with the dog on the chain, ideally with other older, experienced dogs. One the other hand, if a puppy has not yet been on the chain or learned to lead, don't put it on a lead or chain to introduce it to birds. This can cause a negative reaction, since restricting a puppy the first time is not always a happy experience. Once a dog is used to and has accepted the chain, allowing it to be on the chain and watch other dogs in the field working birds is a huge advantage.

(Notice the taut cord on the pup.)

He grabs the bird and mouths it – also good, but not to be repeated too many times.

The next time he sees the pigeon, he points. (Notice the slack cord on the pup.)

The more bird exposure your dog gets the better, and once you've seen the prey drive kick in and your puppy is desperate for the bird, it's time to go chase some wild birds if possible. With little puppies eight weeks and under, good-flying, pen-raised birds such as quail will work, but be sure the birds are strong enough fliers that the dog can't catch them. Again, the best is wild birds.

As your puppy is out in the field chasing birds, it will eventually learn it cannot catch them, and you'll see the beginnings of a point as the pup makes the decision to stalk the bird instead of bus and chase. Some puppies do this fairly soon, and others take awhile. While pointing is a good thing and is ultimately our end goal for an adult dog, resist the temptation to correct a puppy for moving off point. If you try to steady a dog too early, he relates the correction to the birds, and that takes something out of a dog that can never be replaced entirely. Puppies will often point, then the temptation becomes too great they give chase, busing the bird. Allow the puppy to learn from this error on its own. The more we let the birds educate the dog, the better bird dog they will grow up to be.

We'd like to make one very important point will all of this training: Quit while you're ahead, and always leave the dog wanting more. Its great fun to watch a pup get excited about chasing a bird, and because it's so much fun, we want to repeat it over and over again. Remember, puppies have very short attention spans, and to repeat anything too long is to invite boredom and waning interest. Always quit when the dog is excited and wanting the bird. This is usually a couple of minutes at the maximum. The more you leave them wanting it, the more excited they'll be the next time you train. On the other hand, if you work birds until they lose interest, they will bring that boredom back to the next session. It's easy to take prey drive out of a dog, and very difficult to put it back once it's been compromised.

Take your time, go at your pup's pace, never judge your dog or be angry or impatient, and always leave them wanting more. We want a dog to carry all that drive and desire and enthusiasm into the field as an adult dog, and the best way to do that is to take the time to develop these characteristics in our puppies and young dogs. The instincts are all there, and our job is to build on that.

ENJOY YOUR DOG

More Action Per Acre

From the excitement of local field trial competition to the satisfaction of competing in and winning national upland game hunting events, NSTRA members really enjoy their dogs. So can you. No matter what pointing breed you own, if your dog can locate and point birds, you can be successful in NSTRA's fairly conducted field trials which reward both quality and quantity in the upland gamebird field trial competition.

With NSTRA you can:

- Earn championship points and obtain championship status
- Compete in regional field trials, NSTRA National Championship Trials, Dog of the Year and the Top Performance award competitions

2013 ABC Summer Specialty

I doubt that I could ask for anything more for the 2013 ABC Summer Specialty. First off...the exhibitors were wonderful...so helpful and seemed to enjoy the Brittany Village that we concocted...Everything was there... food, water, restrooms and lots of laughing, smiling faces...the weather was good...maybe a bit hot at times, a few showers but with all the canopies...we were fine.

The Brittany Fest in the Northwest consisted of The Rainier Sporting Dog Association of 75, Washington Brittany and Oregon Brittany Club of 99 and 100 total entries. ABC with 23 Puppy Sweeps, 7 Veteran Sweeps, 3 Dual Champion Sweeps and 94 breed entries.

There are so many to thank for this venture...Dianne Kroll for her mentoring, Jacqui Campbell and Nancy Noble for WONDERFUL LOGO, Lisa Merki...did all the ads and write-ups, Nancy Noble took charge of the Logowear, dinner reservations and PayPal money...plus lots of encouragement for me...Reni Stewart...flowers that were beautiful, Margaret Mazotta who was always there for a helping hand...Joel Hanesworth...our ice queen. Kellie Rockwell...just plain hard work... loading and unloading the trailer, Char Benedict...ring steward, Connie Strom...the WAG ticket selling queen along with Windy Schmidt and Clem Little, Carla Simon...reporter...and then all the others, Sandy Sterken, Jodi Pollack, Kathy Pollack who did lots of behind the scenes work...The California gals who stepped in helped us take down the canopies...Bob and Carolyn West who did the same...the tear down went smoothly and quickly with all of the help from many more people.

I am still re-living those wonderful days...what grand memories I have.

Lennie Gedsell
ABC Chairperson

In addition to Lennie's comments I would like to congratulate the club for the wonderful venue, hospitality and the opportunity to see some great quality dogs. I would also like to thank Purina for sponsoring the Summer Specialty. Without their support and the fundraising by the host club, it would be difficult to put on quality events.

Sweepstakes was judged by Ms. Brenda Abraham from West Linn, Oregon. Her selection for Best in Sweepstakes was Dogwood Hollow's Woodland Song and Best of Opposite in Sweeps was awarded to CH Britts Ramblin Red Storm Rising.

Mr. Gary Anderson entertained us by judging the Summer Specialty in his coordinated lavender shirt and sneakers. Congratulations to the Wests and CH Sandbar's Ride the Winds for the BOB win. Harley was also the winner of BOB at the National Specialty Show in 2011.

Also the Clements and Cheryl Mika can be proud of the BOS win with GCH CH Dogwood Hollow's A Little Bit of Heaven.

The Best of Winners came from the Open Dog class and winner of the Winners Dog. Three Creek's Blazing Saddles owned by Reggie and Sally Medford from Oregon.

Winners Bitch came from the Puppy class and is owned by Sue Richards and Mariah and Angie Skillman, Whisper Ridge Season's Beginnings.

The Best Veteran was CH Castle's Tangerine Dream, JH owned by Courtney Granger.

Select Dog and Bitch were GCH CH Gourley's DFL 99 Carat Diamond, owned by George Stern and Christine Gourley and GCH CH Britt's Ramblin The Perfect Cut owned by Janelle and Nancy Larson and Karen Schoppa.

Mr. Anderson awarded judges AOM to GCH Copley Can Do Magnum Opus Grand Sam, RE, GCH CH Gourley's Wild Dream Adventure, CH Sandbar's Standing Ovation.

We couldn't have asked for a better day for the Summer Specialty this year. Next year the Summer Specialty will be held in Oklahoma at the Summer Classic, June 25-29, 2014. It will be five days of indoor shows and it will be hosted by the Indian Nations Club and Jodi Kirtley will be the Show Chairman, so save the date and hope to see you there.

My name is Hedlee Lamarr Benoit. A little over a month ago, no one could ever have guessed that a dog like me from Thibodaux, in Lafourche Parish, Louisiana, could end up in Hollywood, California. Today, I was within the shadow of the Hollywood sign. Well, actually, all I could see was the "Ho" in the sign, the rest was blocked. But who would have guessed that I, Miss Hedlee would be under the world famous "Ho" sign? Hollywood is full of very important people who like to be seen and known for their greatness.

Chihuahua. Those Hollywood creations are not based on reality. I will never be perfect. I probably won't save Timmy from whatever mischief he may find; and I am certainly not small enough to fit in a designer handbag like a Beverly Hills dog. I am going to make mistakes. I will barf on my Mom who now knows I get car sick. I am a two year old

Hollywood Hedlee

Today, my foster Mom took me to work. She had to meet a client in one of the most affluent neighborhoods around. We drove on winding narrow roads with homes clustered tightly together on microscopic lots, hidden behind privacy gates so no one can see inside. We climbed up thoroughfares so thin; it was difficult for a single car to pass through. After a lot of twists and turns up Beachwood Drive we took a sharp right turn onto a private lane and parked. Whew! Mom picked me up to put me on the smallest but only patch of grass available so I could pee. She was careful to carry me so that my paws would not touch the very hot asphalt pavement. Before she could place me on the green, I barfed, all over her fancy business suit. Good thing she had a change of clothes and a dog friendly client.

I am not Rin Tin Tin, Lassie or even a Beverly Hills dog that, to my own embarrassment and chagrin, is getting potty trained like a puppy. And yes, it was I who left my golden nugget in the toy aisle for Mom to clean up at the Hollywood Petsmart. I am a beginner and I am learning.

As a Magnolia rescue dog, I have been through a lot and now I have catching up to do. That is my reality. Do you know who the real heroes are in this world? Not the movie stars, the well to do people who hide behind a gated façade. It is the judge that ordered that I and my 100+ dog friends be seized; it is the people who came and got us and cared for us; it is the Vet and assistants who checked us over and gave many of my siblings emergency treatment; and it is the unknown many who transferred us to foster homes all over the country so just a short month later, Miss Hedlee Lamarr Benoit of Lafourche Parish could sit beneath the shadow of the Hollywood sign with someone who loves and cared for a dog like me. To those unsung heroes from far and wide, including American Brittany Rescue, I thank you.

Hedlee

2013 ABC Prairie Chicken Classic/Championship

The American Brittany Club Prairie Chicken Classic/Championship celebrated its 50th anniversary this year. In September 1965 the first event was run on Buena Vista Marsh near Stevens Point, Wisconsin. Badger Brittany Club petitioned the ABC in the fall of 1962 for establishment of a prairie chicken event. There was skepticism about approval the Classics Chair Ben Heinz was rather negative about ABC approving. Dr. Fred White, editor of the ABC magazine had visited the grounds and promoted the venture.

The Buena Vista Marsh is privately owned land that is leased to the State of Wisconsin for propagation of the prairie chicken. Privately funded and with donations of land the area grew to more than 10,000 acres with eight one hour courses. Rand Constalie or "Mr. Chicken" was a leader in promoting and organizing this classic for many years.

In 1975 and 1976 the classic was held in Nebraska for the first time being hosted by the Mo Valley Brittany Club. The grounds were 32,000 acres comprising the ranch owned by Jim and Floyd Taylor near Burwell, Nebraska. The terrain has objectives, hills or knobs and almost unlimited visibility across the hay meadows and pastures.

From 1977 through 1982 Badger Brittany Club again hosted the event in Wisconsin. In 1983 a new trend of rotating between these venues began thru 2001. It was held in Burwell, Nebraska until 2005 when it was moved northwest to Bassett, Nebraska and has continued on this venue through the current running.

This event is the only all-age stake run on native game birds. The prairie chicken cannot easily be propagated. They require vast acres of grasslands, solitude and lack of human interference. They are not a woodlands dweller but prefer the open meadows where they can see predators.

To quote a paragraph that Dr. Cloyd Green wrote in his introduction for the 1988 event, a description of what a dog must show in this event. "He should possess such an intense desire to hunt that he ignores the pain of sand burrs (a synonym for sand hills) and cacti, and the fatigue of a big course. He must have the stamina to support this desire, an attribute to which we feel particular attention should be directed in selecting breeding stock. But wide open spaces are exhilarating, and promote uncontrolled behavior. Reasonable compliance of the handler without inhibition of the above qualities must also be seen. We look for style and class in the all-age dog. The frequently under-rated and misunderstood requirement that a dog be steady to wing and shot demonstrates the toughness of character required to take training without losing any of the initial desire and intensity."

The American Brittany Club established the "Original Game Bird Classic" officially in 1961 consisting of six different events. The ABC Grouse Classic held in Gladwin Michigan. 1954-1960 a grouse classic was recognized by American Field. From 1971 to 1985 it was not held.

The game bird classics were established to run on named species. Rules of judgment are to win first place a dog must handle the named species. In 1960 the first ABC Pheasant Classic was held at Marysville, California. In 1962 the ABC Quail Classic was held at Pinehurst, North Carolina. The Prairie Chicken Classic inaugural running was near Stevens Point, Wisconsin in 1964. The ABC Gun Dog Classic (which is run on any game bird species) was held at Harpster, Ohio in 1974. In 1976 Yakima, Washington was the site of the ABC Chukar Classic. Number six was the ABC Grouse/Woodcock Classic revamped and recognized in 1986 to be included as one of the "Original Six". It ran in Mora, Minnesota and that was the first year that all six "original game bird classics" ran.

The dedication and cooperation of members who work and support this prestigious event are evident by the longevity of attendance. At the dinner on Tuesday evening a man was recognized as being a judge of this event in 1968 at the Wisconsin venue. He has been a participant thru all these years. Mr. Ray Trimble of Illinois was applauded for his support to the ABC and these events.

The vastness of grounds was mentioned and it is exhilarating to watch a dog perform and be a speck on the horizon. Not your cup of tea you say? Come to the sand hills of Nebraska and open yourself to a new experience – if you aren't already hooked.

The fiftieth anniversary of the inaugural running of the ABC Prairie Chicken Classic/Championship commenced Monday, September 16, 2013 headquartered on the Ted Morton ranch southeast of Bassett, Nebraska. Forty eight dogs were drawn and went to the line.

The winner was McChesney's Tequila River handled by Jim John of Kansas. Reo is owned by John Chejne and Connie McCaffrey of Minnesota. John was on hand to watch the brace and share the excitement. Reo is a six year old, orange and white, well built male. His sire is Smarteyes-Joker and dam is Allied's Miss Molly.

Runner-up was awarded to Rusty's Royal Run owned by Phil Filer of Georgia and handled by Jim John. Rusty is a 2011 model who is orange and white and by Nolan's Last Bullet out of Vampo's Kentucky Queen. He points his game with intensity.

Third place was American and Canadian Dual Champion Kinwashkly Dirty Ned Pepper handled by Scott Johnson of Kansas. Ned is owned by Vern Brunen of Canada. He is a seven year old, orange and white male that is stylish on his game.

The Ace of Spade co-owned by Dave Capstick and Tim Self of Missouri was handled by Dave. Spade took the fourth placement. Spade is a white and liver seven year old male that moves effortlessly across the ground. This was the first for this trio at this event.

We wish to extend our sincere appreciation to Nestle-Purina for their generous support to this event and the sport of field trialing. They are one of the world's largest pet food manufacturers who are dedicated to research and development of pet foods for performance animals to household pets.

Garmin-TriTronics generously donated a collar to the winners. Their merger has increased technology in the world of training, location and recovery in performance competitions. We are thankful that such sponsors are willing to support field trials.

We were fortunate to have judges that are not strangers to championships. Our returning judge was Howard Burbach of Missouri. He has trained and run on the prairies. He was paired with Fred Smith also of Missouri. Fred has been involved with bird dogs for many years. Their attention to detail was evident and we thank them for their decisions at this championship.

The community of Bassett, Nebraska is to be commended for their welcome to field trialers. Jeanna Harmon of The Coral Bar provided coffee and donuts along with preparing the traditional dinner for landowners and all participants on Tuesday evening. Wednesday was steak night at the VFW which many enjoyed.

We are fortunate to have the thousands of acres to run this event across. We sincerely thank Ted Morton, neighbors Chris Luther, Butch Fisher and bordering Wade Dearmont for access to chicken country. This championship is the only Brittany all-age stake to run on native birds. It has been held in high regard by those who have attended. The vastness of land that is home to the greater prairie chicken allows us to view habitat in an area known as "the sand hills of Nebraska". This unique formation, one of the largest grass stabilized sand dune areas in the world, is also one of the few remaining habitats of the greater prairie chicken. It takes special exposure of the dogs to learn where to find and how to handle the wily game bird. Dogs must reach the ultimate range, endure things that prick, heat and dry conditions and do it with an intelligence and stylish way of going.

The organization of an event can be daunting but Stan and Claudia Truksa take care of the details along with their committee; course marshals Jerry McGee and Stan Truksa, Ray Trimble and Ed Tillson. Gate openers are volunteers who are available. Crossing this many acres takes cooperation with dog wagon and all helpers. Our thanks to all of them.

We are always glad to see new people show up at this prestigious event. John Chejne and Bret Lindback from Minnesota along with Dave Capstick and Tim Self of Missouri. We enjoy sharing our addiction to this event with many stories and gladly welcome all participants.

The Running

Jo-Lockapex Dark Roux Gumbo, Lincoln and Shadow's Tequila Tryst, Tillson. Away under overcast skies about 60 degrees and gusty winds. We headed south with both dogs starting strong. Roux covered some ground but had no game pointed. He was absent at time. Trystin was forward making some wide moves. She also was birdless in the hour. Gallery count-several singles.

Maxwell's Gunsmoke, Patterson and Wimberley Rowdy Bo-Dandy, Johnson. Pete was strong from the start grabbing the ground. Rowdy searched likely places. In a hay meadow he made a swing forward but couldn't get stopped fast enough when a covey flushed in front of him at 19'. Pete ran forward and wide using the country wisely. Pete had no bird contact in the hour. Gallery count-a covey in Bo's meadow.

Jack's Over Aces, Holman and Joker's Jackpot, John. After our coffee break we headed across the hay meadow. At 2', Dan was fired over after the bird had left. At 4' he pointed again but no birds were produced. Jack made reaching casts across the prairie but to no avail.

The Crash Scene, Tracy and Carolina Sea Biscuit, Johnson. After lunch, the skies were still overcast. Crash started slow. Biscuit went north from the gate and made a wide swing along the far ridge. He went east and was out of pocket at time. Crash ran a more moderate race. Neither dog had bird contact. Gallery count-a single, covey, pair, and pair.

KD's Slip and Slide, Tillson and Wayside's Blueridge Runner, Johnson. Splash was not getting on track and was up at 12'. Blue was methodical in application. He worked likely places with a forward pattern. At 59' point was called but nothing could be produced.

Whizki's Sting, Holman and Cedar Valley Bandit, Tracy. Holly got into sand burrs right off the breakaway which slowed her start. Bandit was erratic in his application. Holly got going and at 28' point was called. With relocation nothing was produced and she was taken to the dog wagon. Bandit also was not applying himself and was up midway in the hour.

McChesney's Tequila River, John and Jayhawk's Georgia Girl, Tracy. Day two finds the morning with overcast skies and temperatures about 60 degrees and windy. Georgia was a handful from the start. Reo, slow to start, got stronger into the hour. He had a stop to flush at 33' which he handled nicely, then a find on a small covey of chickens at 35' with all in order. Reo used the country wisely making some reaching casts. Georgia seemed to be running with a mind of her own and was up midway in the hour. Reo came through the eastern hay meadow; at the ditch line he had a find with all in order. He finished the hour forward with searching casts. Gallery county-a single and a single.

Shadow Attack, Tillson and Blueridge Hunter Gonna Fly, Johnson. Tack had an unproductive at 16'. Hunter was off cross country. Tack had another unproductive in Bo's meadow at 41' and was leashed. Hunter covered a lot of country but was not rewarded with any birds.

Sandy Pines Chase the Wind, Holman and Windtuck Rocket's Red Glare, Milam. Chavy pointed at 7' and Rocket to him but failed to back and was leashed. Chavy was sent on. At 31' he slammed on point but nothing could be produced. At 45' he pointed again, extensive flushing and relocation could not produce game.

Black Creek Blaze, Holman and Alar's Tango Bar, Tillson. We left from the east gate under overcast skies this afternoon. Both dogs were quick to reach the lower ground. At 19' Blaze had a stop to flush which was handled well. Tango made some nice casts moving fluidly across the ground but was without bird contact in the hour. Gallery count-a single, a pair, and a pair.

Brushbuster's Lakota Jill, John and Jagoub Buzz'N Bayou, Tracy. Both dogs ran with heart. Jill got hot and was up at 31'. Skeeter had an unproductive at 20'. He made a few nice casts but wasn't consistent and was leashed at 45'.

Roustabout's White Knight, Tracy and Tequila Scorcher, Tillson. Both dogs started slow, each choosing to do their thing. Lance ran the hour at moderate range during which he got caught up with ground scent in some of the hay meadows. Lincoln made some good moves across the meadows. At 32' his department around a prairie chicken gave him an F grade and he was leashed.

Uncle Kracker, Tracy and Hal-J's Smarteyes Joker's EZ Ace, John. Day three finds the morning with full sun, temperatures in mid 60s, heavy dew and moderate breezes. The forecast for the day is to be HOT. Kracker was bullish early requiring heavy scouting. Ace was wide and brought forward. At 13' he pointed along a fence line but nothing was produced. Kracker had a 3 bird covey find at 34' with all in order. Ace finished the hour going away without birds. Gallery count-a pair, 3, single, single.

Shady's Desert Knight, Johnson and The Ace of Spade, Capstick. This pair ran the early portion of the hour into the wind. Both dogs covered the hay meadow thoroughly then headed into Bo's meadow. At 34' Spade swapped ends and pointed. A single flush then more birds. All was in order. They continued searching for game. At 57' Knight pointed staunchly near a wind mill but nothing was produced. Gallery count-a single.

Fat Bastard, Tracy and Shady Way Red Tail Hawk, John. Temperature has climbed under sunny skies. Both dogs started strong, shortening as the hour went on. Fatz did not have any birds and Beau had an unproductive near the end of the hour.

Ru-Jem's A Touch of Bourbon, McGee and Odyssey's Ace of Hearts, Holman. Temperature was in the mid 80s, dry conditions and no water in most of the ponds. Chug slowed and was up at 25'. Ace ran a moderate race with two unproductives. He was up at 55'. Gallery count-a pair.

Lamb's Just Reward, John and TLM Frequent Flyer, Milam. This pair started strong and by 25' were showing signs of the heat. Brace ended mid hour.

Wimberley Jimdandy, Johnson and August Rush, Tracy. Temperature is hot. Both dogs started, Dandy showing effects of the heat was up at 23'. Auggie made some nice moves during the hour but had no game contact.

Joker's Trail Blazin Bud-Dee, John and T.J's Prairie Blizzard, Tillson. On day four we headed south. Blizzard had a hard time getting started and was up early. Buddy had an unproductive at 24'. His race slowed and he was up at 50.'

Rusty's Royal Run, John and Kinwashkly's Dirty New Pepper,

Johnson. These dogs went to work early showing us some prairie casts. Out across the hay meadow and into Bo's meadow Rusty pointed, moved into the wind and stood high and tight at 36'. As the handler approached a single lifted far in front of the dog as he stood loftily through flush and shot. At 45' Ned pointed, birds lifted as the handler approached then the rest of the 10 bird covey then lifted as Ned stood like a rock. At 50' Ned handled a stop to flush with good manners. At 56' Rusty pointed staunchly without birds being produced. A judge rode up a bird as we left the scene. At 57' Ned had an unproductive to end the hour.

Gambler's Double Down, Holman and McChesney's I Got My Mojo Working, John. Wind is still gusty with partly cloudy skies and the temperature has dropped. Mo had a stop to flush at 4' with a single lifting. As the handler approached more birds left. Wilson went to see what was going and interfered with the brace mate and was picked up. Mo made some nice moves during his hour. The rain started midway in the hour blowing out of the northwest. Gallery count-a pair and a single.

Sparky's Prairie Wind Gypsy, John and Early Times, Tracy. It is still raining at breakaway. Temperatures are cool compared to yesterday's high of 92 degrees. Both dogs made wide casts being fast on the ground. Uneventful running seemed to dull their enthusiasm and the brace was over at 50'. The rain had quit and the sun come out.

Ocaje, Gowin and Wolf River's Winning Ticket, Tracy. "Oh-Ka-Hey" started strong, working the pastures and hay meadows. At 25' a chicken flushed upwind which she didn't acknowledge causing her to be leashed. Cash had a substitute handler. He made some nice moves early and as time went on he wasn't listening to the handler and was up at 30'.

Specialty Shows

HEART OF ILLINOIS

Bloomington, IL

May 26, 2013

The Heart of Illinois Brittany Club had their specialty show in conjunction with the all breed dog show sponsored by the Illinois Valley Kennel Club of Peoria, IL. This was part of the four day Heart of Illinois Cluster Dog Shows. I want to thank the show committee of the Illinois Valley Kennel Club for their hard work and supplying our ring stewards for the specialty.

I also want to thank all the Brittany exhibitors for supporting our specialty with their entries. We were very happy to see old friends back at the show. We enjoyed seeing more veteran Brittany's and were very pleased to see so many specials this year. While the weather was exceptionally cool for the end of May, we did have a lot of rain this weekend making the grounds very wet and muddy in places. Will try for cool and dry next year.

I want to thank Mrs. Penny Duffy for agreeing to judge our Sweepstakes. Mrs. Duffy chose the dog, Melridge Phantom Fire owned by Jane Huelsmeyer for Best Puppy in Sweepstakes. Best of opposite puppy in Sweepstakes went to BGD's Outlaw Josey Wales owned by Todd Parmenter and David Johnson.

Best veteran in Sweepstakes went to GCH CH Bar Lo's The Joker is Wild owned by Nancy Anderson and Kathryn Harris. Best of Opposite Veteran in Sweepstakes went to CH Sovereign's Classy Attitude JH owned by Colleen Walsh.

This year Mrs. Eva E. Berg judged our entries in the regular classes. From the 15 dogs entered, Mrs. Berg chose Hunter Hills Getting Jiggy Too owned by Roger and Susan Hunter as Winners Dog. Reserve Winners Dog went to Repeat's Little 501 Blues owned by Julie Asmus.

There were eight bitch entries. Mrs. Berg chose Starlight's Abracadabra owned by Phyllis and Paul Katzel and Teresa Richmond for Winner's Bitch. Reserve Winner's Bitch went to BGD's Outlaw Josey Wales owned by Todd Parmenter and David Johnson.

The Veteran Dog Class was won by GCH CH Bar Lo's The Joker is Wild owned by Nancy Anderson and Kathryn Harris. The winning Veteran Bitch was CH Sovereign's Classy Attitude JH owned by Colleen Walsh.

The Field Trial Bitch Class was won by AFC DC Tnt's Rais'n A Ruckus owned by Tommy and Linda Thomas.

We were pleased to have 11 specials in the Best of Breed competition this year. Mrs. Berg chose GCH CH Star Flight Jumpin Jack Flash OAJ OA RN owned by Jacqueline Ceres for Best of Breed. Best of opposite was won by CH Dogwood Hollow Little Surfer Girl owned by Gary and Geri Clements and Cheryl Mika. Select Dog was GCH CH Bar Lo's The Joker is Wild owned by Nancy Anderson and Kathryn Harris. Select Bitch was CH Sovereign's Classy Attitude JH owned by Colleen Walsh. We appreciate everyone coming this year and hope to see all of you next year.

Best Puppy
BIG OAKS JACK OF DIAMONDS

SOUTHERN NEW ENGLAND
West Springfield, MA
July 6, 2013

The Southern New England Brittany Club Designated Specialty was held in conjunction with Farmington Valley Kennel Club.

We started off with seven very nice puppies in our puppy sweeps. Our judge, Abby Petruzio, put them through their paces and chose TRIUMPHANT'S LIVIN' ON THE EDGE as Best Puppy in sweeps and DOGWOOD HOLLOW'S APPLE PIE as Best Opposite to Best Puppy in Sweeps

Then it was off to the regular breed classes being judged by Robert Slay. Winners Dog was TRIUMPHANT'S LIVING ON THE EDGE with Reserve going to MAPLE BROOK'S GREAT BALLS OF FIRE. Winners Bitch and Best of Winners went to BOUDREAUX'S EVA MAE and Reserve went to MAPLE BROOK'S SOME LIKE IT HOT. We then called in the specials; 12 spectacular representations of the breed, Winners Dog, and Winners Bitch.

Best of Breed went to GCH TRIUMPHANT'S AS GOOD AS IT GETS JH, best of Opposite to GCH TRIUMPHANT ABSOLUTE LIBERTY OF KINSHIP JH AX AXJ OF and Best of Winners to BOUDREAUX'S EVA MAE. Select Dog/Award of Merit went to CH TONAN-MAGICBRIT IN THE LEATHER and Select Bitch/Award of Merit to GCH TRIUMPHANT'S ABSOLUTE EVEL JH.

The day concluded with a raffle, an array of tasty snack foods and some socializing for a great end of the event.

Ken Jacobson

None Held Back and Other Bird Dog Stories

Part Three

By Tom Word

Generation to Generation Millennium Man Part One

Around the farmhouse kitchen table, father, mother and son discussed the long journey they would begin tomorrow. Barking in the kennel signaled arrival of visitors, and the son went out to greet them.

On the tailgate of his Chevy Blazer, Doc Clark readied syringes of rabies vaccine; his assistant, Molly Price, a classmate of the son at Union Springs High until their graduation three weeks earlier, wrote health certificates, passports into Canada for the dogs.

“Mornin’ Doctor, Molly.”

“Mornin’ Scott. Ready for the big trip north?”

“Yes sir. Goin’ to win the Dakota Derby this year.”

“Mighty high on that Man pup, aren’t you?”

“Yes, sir I am.” The boy said it with a big grin.

Man was the boy’s fifteenth-month-old pointer, white with orange-flecked ears, dark eyes and a coal-black nose. He’d been whelped to the boy’s mother’s superb brook matron, Wrangler’s Rebecca, from a mating with Miller’s Silver Bullet. The boy, Scott Branner, son and grandson of professional bird-dog trainers Roy and Harold Branner, had worked with the pup every day since its weaning. (Doc Clark, a long-time observer of the bird-dog competitions around Union Springs, had seen Man’s winning race in the Dixie Puppy Classic and remarked, “Boys, that’s one to watch.”)

One by one Scott let the dogs from the kennel runs to the training table where the veterinarian gave each an injection and checked eyes, ears, heartbeat, lungs and temperature. Scott gave Molly the names and ages for the certificates. In two hours thirty animals had been vaccinated and certified healthy. The last was Man; he came forth from his run unleashed, and on Scott’s soft command jumped on the training table and assumed a pointing pose.

“Gracious, he’s muscled up since March,” the veterinarian said.

“Yes, sir, he’s still got some fillin’ out to do—I figure he’ll go fifty-five pounds when he finishes.”

“That’s just the size your granddaddy liked, and he’s got the long legs and deep chest he favored too,” Doc Clark said.

Molly stroked the pointer’s shoulders, felt his silky warmth. She had long slender fingers, neat unpolished nails.

Their work completed, Doc and Molly repacked their gear and said goodbye. Scott returned to the kitchen where his mother, Ann, filled cardboard boxes with home-canned preserves, pickles and vegetables for their annual summer stay on the Canadian wheat farm beside the Antler River that had been homesteaded by Scott’s paternal grandmother’s family. (His grandfather, Harold, had gone to the far to rent a horse his first prairie summer, 1938, and there met the girl who would be his wife.)

Scott opened the notebook on the kitchen table and scanned the yellowed pages of the checklist, begun by his grandmother sic decades before, added to through the years. It told of things to be packed, details to be checked at each end of the two-thousand-mile journey. Behind the checklist other pages chronicled each year’s trip: dates, routes, friends and customers visited along the way in Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, and North and South Dakota.

“You finished your packing?” his mother asked.

“I think so...I’m goin’ it town for my last baseball game.”

“Don’t stay out too late; we’ve got some long days ahead.”

“I won’t, Mom.”

Scott bounded the stairs and in minutes returned, dressed in his American Legion uniform, his glove tucked under his arm, a gym bag in hand. He gave her a hug and a kiss on the cheek and hurried to the pickup. She listened as the truck sounds faded and dismissed the momentary worry about his five-mile drive into town, the same worry that had come over her every time he had ever driven out the lane between the live oaks.

He’d been a good son. From his toddler days, cheerful, loving, gregarious. In school he’d excelled in math and science, and like his father, in athletics, especially track and baseball. He would enter Auburn University in the fall on a baseball scholarship. His father dreamed he would be recruited by the Braves; his coach though it possible, had alerted the scouts. She prayed he would go straight from college to medical school.

She worried about him because it was her nature to worry, a nature reinforced by her training as a nurse. The two older children, married daughters with children of their own, lived far away, and now her worry centered on Scott. He had given her little to worry about, which ironically made the worry worse; she knew the out-of-the-nest mechanics of human nature must surely soon produce rebellion. But she detected no sign of it yet.

Union Springs was a hotbed of the outdoor sports—fishing, quail hunting and field trials, turkey and deer hunting. Since early childhood, Scott had been steeped in them. The family’s annual trips to Canada for July, August, and early September had reinforced the boy’s love of all things out-of-doors.

Her husband Roy had been discouraged from the bird-dog business by his father, had gone off to Auburn too, planning to become a veterinarian. But in his sophomore year, his father had been badly injured in a horse fall, and Roy had come home to take over the training kennel and the field-trial string. He’d never returned to college. Roy said he had no regrets, but Ann knew that was not entirely true. They both worried now about finances and what old age would bring. They had saved a little; the farm he’d inherited from his father was debt free, but they were not sure how they would manage when Roy could no longer work.

The back porch door swung open, and through it came Hilda Armstrong, wife of Roy’s long-time employee, Booty. Booty and his son Ralph, also a classmate of Scott, would make the trip to Saskatchewan; this would be Booty’s thirtieth in a row with Roy and Roy’s father. Hilda brought jars of honey and blackberry jam to add to those Ann was packing. The two women, one white, one black, worked side-by-side in the enterprise that provided the revenue for both families. Roy contracted with a New York investment bank to manage the quail hunting at the firm’s nearby shooting plantation. From Thanksgiving through February, Roy and Booty served as guides and dog handlers, Ann and Hilda oversaw the lodging and meals. Scott helped on weekends and thus met men and women of accomplishment in the worlds of business, politics, and science. Ann was proud of the polite, natural way the boy dealt with these sophisticates; Scott, with the objectivity and innocence of youth, say them as unremarkable, many inept in the things at which his father, the boy's idol, was a master: woodcraft, wildlife management, dogs, horses, hunting, fly-fishing.

On his drive into Union Springs for the ball game, Scott stopped at a convenience store and called Doc Clark's clinic. He asked Molly Price for a date after the game, and she accepted. It would be their first.

The five-day drive to Saskatchewan went smoothly. Their caravan (two pickup trucks with trailers and Ann's station wagon) rolled on the interstates north through Birmingham to Nashville, then veered west through Paducah, Kentucky, and St. Louis to Kansas City, the due north again to Fargo, with the final northwest leg across North Dakota through Minot and on to their destination, Elmore, just above the border. Each night they stopped over at the home of an old field-trial friend, thus breaking the trip into four hundred-mile legs. Along the way they picked up another ten young dogs to be trained from customers who met them at highway rest stops or service stations.

They made it through customs without incident (the bureaucrats on the Canadian side were old acquaintances, neighbors of their cousins). The dirt yard around the old house, kept salted and thus grassless for fire protection, had been raked clean by neighbors, and the well pump and refrigerator were on. On the kitchen table Ann found a vase of prairie wildflowers and a note of welcome; its postscript announced a tuna casserole and a bowl of salad, as Jell-O is known in the region, waited in the refrigerator.

Quickly the dogs were chained to their plastic barrels in the shelter break and given food and water, the youngest puppies released together in their wire-enclosed lot, and the gear off-loaded to the house or the barn, swaybacked by the ceaseless wind of eighty winters, but still standing. With the casserole and Jell-O devoured, the dead-tired travelers promptly fell asleep, lulled by the wind sound around the eaves of the old whitewashed clapboard house whose timbers and boards had come by wagon from the railhead eighty years before. The wind would be with them constantly to their day of departure in September.

After breakfast the men went to see about the horses, at their leisure on pasture since the fall before, and sure to be rank. They spend the morning in frustrating attempts to bottle up the band of eight geldings, crosses between nondescript Canadian farm mares and a walking horse stud. The horses had survived the winter without shelter, browsing their way through blizzards in the V-formation, the outer horses falling back and moving inside from time to time, thus sharing in rotation the brunt of the eternal northwest wind and the slight protection inside the V. Their only winter food was the nourishing, dry prairie grass, blown snow-free on the rises by the relentless wind.

Finally they lassoed and haltered the eight and lead them behind the truck to the barn. They all seemed sound, though their coats were still matted with unshed winter growth, their faces scarred by the bites of ubiquitous mosquitos and black flies.

At one o'clock the farrier arrived, his trailer-mounted forge clanging behind his pickup. The burly Norwegian buckled on his leather apron, fired the charcoal in the fore, and began the backbreaking job of trimming and shoeing thirty-two hooves. Soon the farrier was cursing mightily, as the others took turns holding the horse's halters. One by one the farrier settled the horses, his sure handed self-confidence overcoming the wildness born of their long freedom. At five-thirty he finished to applause.

The farrier, from Weyburn, eight miles northwest, accepted the invitation for supper. After supper, he departed with his pay and a full stomach, and the men wore out the remaining daylight assembling old pipe corral, its parts store in the barn since last year's departure.

Next morning, Roy and Scott drove section roads, checking the vegetation and looking for signs of the prairie chicken and sharptail grouse they would train on the century-old tradition of migrant southern trainers. The spring had been moist, and the speargrass crop was rank, always a great worry. They must be certain the spears were all dropped before running dogs, for an inhaled spear would mean sure death to a bird dog. They stopped at neighbors to reaffirm the oral training leases for the lands they would work on, an arrived home in time for a lunch of potato soup and bologna sandwiches.

That afternoon, they began obedience work with the young dogs, teaching "whoa" and "come in." The dogs picked up en route were attached to waist-rigged check cords and encouraged to point barn pigeons trapped around grain bins and supplied for a fee by neighboring farm boys. As the afternoon began to col, they saddled up the horses for workouts, necessary to reestablish who was boss. A couple of weeks of daily riding, short rides at first, would be needed to get the horses hard, in shape for the grinding work of running dogs on the prairie.

Toward dusk, with the heat finally subsiding and his favorite horse retaught a measure of subservience, Scott roaded Man in harness along a section road through wheat and alfalfa fields and a stretch of unplowed prairie. As they neared the river, a huge flight of ducks lifted noisily; Man stopped to mark their flight.

On their return, the young dog pulled happily against the chest the band, his tail whipping side to side, the muscle sin his hind quarters bulging. He turned his head into the breeze to catch the scents remembered from puppy days last summer, when he'd spent his hours in the wire pen and occasionally running loose on his own; he'd been too young for horseback training. With front paws against the wire, he'd watched as the men had loaded the older dogs into the truck compartments each morning at dawn. This year Man had his own plastic barrel, shaded beneath a Norway spruce planted thirty years ago by Roy; this year he too would ride the dog truck and wait his turn to hunt the prairie.

As they neared home, Scott listened to the rhythmic beat of hooves and wondered how Man would react when turned loose on the prairie. As the fireball sun touched the horizon, he remembered the one goodnight kiss Molly Price had allowed him. They'd made a second date for the Alabama-Auburn football game (she would enter Alabama in the fall).

WILD RICE STUFFED TURKEY BREAST

Prep Time: 20 minutes

Cook Time: 7 hours

Total Time: 7 hours, 20 minutes

Yield: 8 servings

Ingredients:

2 apples, chopped

1-1/2 cups wild rice

1 onion, finely chopped

3 cloves garlic, minced, if desired

1 cup dried cranberries or cherries

3 cups water (or, for a six ingredient recipe, chicken broth)

1 teaspoon dried thyme leaves

1-1/2 teaspoons salt

1/4 teaspoon pepper

1 teaspoon poultry seasoning

3-4 lb. boneless whole turkey breast, thawed if frozen

Preparation:

You can peel the apples or leave them unpeeled, as you wish. Chop apples coarsely and mix with wild rice, onion, garlic if using, dried cranberries, thyme, salt, pepper, and poultry seasoning; place in bottom of 4-5 quart crockpot. Pour water over, making sure all wild rice is covered with water. If turkey breast is frozen, thaw it. Place turkey on top of rice mixture.

Cover crockpot and cook on low for 7-8 hours until turkey is thoroughly cooked and reaches 160 degrees on a meat thermometer, and wild rice is tender and popped.

Note: Make sure that the wild rice you use in this recipe has long grains and is of very high quality. Do not buy cheap rice with broken grains. That type of wild rice will always be mushy no matter how it is cooked.

ROASTED SPICED SWEET POTATOES

1 tsp coriander seeds

1/2 tsp fennel seeds

1/2 tsp dried oregano

1/4 to 1/2 tsp dried hot red pepper flakes

1 tsp kosher salt

2 lbs medium sweet potatoes

3 Tbl vegetable oil

Preheat oven to 425. Coarsely grind coriander, fennel, oregano, and red pepper flakes in electric coffee / spice grinder or with a mortar and pestle. Stir together spices and salt.

Cut potatoes lengthwise into 1" wedges. Toss wedges with oil and spices in a large roasting pan. Roast in middle of oven for 20 min. turn wedges over with spatula and roast until tender and slightly golden, about 15-20 min.

Pumpkin Pecan Pie

Pastry for single crust pie

3 eggs, slightly beaten

1-15 oz can of pumpkin

3/4 cup sugar

1/2 cup dark corn syrup

1 tsp vanilla

3/4 tsp ground cinnamon

1 cup chopped pecans

Preheat oven 350. Prepare pastry. For filling, stir together eggs, pumpkin, sugar, corn syrup, vanilla, and cinnamon; mix well. Pour filling into pastry shell. Sprinkle with pecans.

Bake for 50-55 minutes or until knife inserted in center comes out clean. Cool pie on a wire rack.

RUM BALLS (ADULTS ONLY)

3 Boxes vanilla wafers - crushed

1 cup walnuts - finely chopped

1/2 cup honey

1 cup rum or brandy

colored granulated sugar

Combine wafers, nuts, honey, and rum or brandy. Form into bite size balls and then roll in granulated sugar. Store in airtight container.

*Note : If mixture seems too dry to form into balls, add a bit more rum/brandy or honey depending on taste preference. Mixture should be somewhat moist.

Brittany Wins Best Trained Pet on the Today Show

By Britney Imhof

Hi. I'm Britney with the Brittany. I often get asked if my name was the reason I decided to go with the Brittany breed. The answer? Of course not! That'd be silly! The Brittany spirit and personality just so happens to align perfectly with mine.

Summer of 2009 my significant other and I decided to take that inevitable next step and get a puppy. We did tons of research and found the perfect Brittany breeder in Tennessee: Stonesriver Kennel. Once they had a litter available, they sent us the pictures of the day old pups. Orange & white male #2 caught my eye. He was a fat little guinea pig with a distinct orange hook on top of his head. We went to visit two weeks later and he was the first one to make it into my arms. He was the squeakiest, pudgiest, and I dare say brattiest one of the litter and he decided to nestle in my hair for a nap. Thus, MACH Peter Pan's Happy Thought MXB MJB NF squirmed his way into my life forever. The name Pan seemed fitting & he's definitely lived up to it (now at age 4). He has the hook on his head, loved to launch himself off furniture as if he could fly, and will be my little boy forever.

When it was time to bring him home, his training began immediately. I had worked for a while in marine mammal training, so I wanted to transfer that over to training my dog. He's been clicker trained from day one. His brain works at a million miles a minute, so it was imperative that I was always teaching him something new. He always surprised me with the speed, vigor, & enthusiasm with which he met each new trick! I started to think outside of the box as far as what a dog could learn. He has since been able to master painting on a canvas, performing CPR, blowing bubbles, and many other fun tricks.

I taught him "Night-Night", when he wraps himself in his blanket. It was a relatively simple process, since I broke it down into pieces. I taught him the tricks of laying down, rolling over, picking up the corner of the blanket in his mouth, and putting his head down, all independently of each other. Then, it was just a matter of chaining them into the more complicated trick.

Since I enjoyed spending all my time with Pan and he had so much energy, I decided to give agility a try. When I started, I had only ever seen it on TV and knew relatively little about it. I was a poor college student, so I had to start out "paying" for Pan's agility classes by volunteering for our local dog obedience club. After a short time, Pan & I were addicted. Agility has become a huge passion for us and we love it. A sport you get to do with your best friend?! What could be better?! We have qualified for the 2014 AKC Nationals and it's our dream to make it to the AKC Invitationals.

Since Pan had been able to learn such fun and unique tricks I decided to enter him into the TODAY Show's Quest for the Best Trained Pet contest. I was shocked to get the call that Pan was one of the top three finalists!

They don't give you much time once they notify you. They let us know on Wednesday that we'd be on the show the following Tuesday. Of course we jumped at the chance. The show paid for us to travel up to NYC and put us up in a hotel a half a block from Times Square.

Pan was not a fan of the city, due to the fact that the closest potty spot was a tiny dirt patch a block and a half away! It was an early morning & we showed up at the studio at 5am. We got a brief rehearsal & then were tucked away till our segment was set to air. Four hours later! Pan & I were able to explore the studio a bit & ran into Kathy Lee Gifford. Pan apparently isn't a fan, because he completely blew her off when she tried to pet him. He quickly assessed that she was neither mom nor did she possess food in any form. Therefore, not interesting! Dogs weren't allowed in the actual green room, so we hung out in a curtained off area out of the way. I decided to raid the green room for some doggie goodies. They had a fancy cheese & meats platter in the green room that I decided looked like the perfect treats for when we go on camera. So, I went on the stage with gouda and cold cut ham stuffed in my jeans!

Once we arrived on the set, there was a flurry of activity and distractions everywhere. Lights, people, and cameras were strewn about, and all this seemed to throw the other dogs off. Pan kept his attention on me like a pro. If there had been squirrels manning the cameras it would have been a totally different story though! Our goal was to just go out and have lots of fun. I was surprisingly calm and Pan acted like he'd been on TV his whole life. The producers gave us the list of tricks that we were to do on camera: Achoo, Leg Weave, and Night-Night. If it had been up to me, we'd have done our whole repertoire. Al Roker was blown away by Pan and was eager to meet him once the cameras cut. We had a blast & winning was just the icing on the cake! His prize basket had enough toys & treats to last most dogs for months. For him, however, I give the toys five minutes at most.

Pan is not a pet to me. He is my furry child and I couldn't imagine my life without him. I have been dealing with a rare disease called Cushing's for the last few years. This disease has a number of serious side effects, but Pan has been by my side through all of it. A few days before we were set to appear on the TODAY show, a CT scan showed a cancer like tumor that needed immediate attention. The day after the show, I went in for surgery to have it removed. I'm on the road to recovery & have been declared cancer free! Ever since returning home from the hospital, he has made sure not to be far from my side and is snuggled next to me as I write this. He is a continual source of comfort and love, and I consider myself among the lucky few to have such an amazing dog be part of my heart.

AKC News – Changes to Agility Tire

Effective September 4, 2013, clubs holding AKC agility trials must use a break-away tire in place of the standard tire jump. There will be a six month period (September 4, 2013- March 3, 2014) during which time the tire may stay apart upon being broken open or the tire may be allowed to automatically reset. The tire will be judged if it is broken open as an "F" which will result in a nonqualifying score "NQ". BRAGS

Tressel, a rescue Brittany featured in Action at AKC and the NBRAN Newsletter, has added some new achievements to an already long and distinguished list. Owner Erica Behnke shares,

It's been a wild ride since then, between our first trial and July 2013, but my "aggressive, destructive and unmanageable" pup has now earned his Masters Agility Excellent (MX), Masters Agility Jumpers With Weaves (MXJ) and Excellent FAST titles, as well as the Master Bronze Agility (MXB) and Master Gold Jumpers With Weaves (MJB) title in AKC agility. In CPE, Tressel is the first Brittany to ever achieve the titles of CPE Agility Trial Champion 2 (C-ATCH 2), and C-ATCH 3. Who would ever believe that Tressel is currently ranked as the #10 AKC Agility Brittany in the US, the only Brittany in the top 25 earning the T2B2 title, and will be competing at the AKC Nationals in Harrisburg, PA... I can't tell you how much joy Tressel has brought to me, and what fun we've had. If you saw the photos you'll see he is never without a Brittany grin on his face - he loves agility and life in general. My biggest hope is that the ABC will add agility to the Nationals so others can see how well suited our breed is to the sport, yet another level of versatility!

Field Trials

HUDSON VALLEY

Lost Pond
Oxford, NY

August 31-September 1, 2013

The Hudson Valley Brittany Club held a very successful trial over the Labor Day weekend. We ran 146 dogs in two days; nine stakes including four gun dog stakes. We ran very large puppy and derby stakes. This was extremely nice to see. There was something for everyone. Several dogs were qualified for the first time for Gun Dog Nationals. Two dogs also finished their AFC: FC Reidy Hills Cisco Jane owner/handler Henry Wierzbicki and RJA Captain's Heart-N-Soul JH owner/handler Doug Welsh. Congratulations!

We consider ourselves very fortunate to have lovely privately groomed grounds to use running two courses simultaneously. It takes a lot of organization to pull this off with the limited amount of help that we have. As is true of all trials, I guess. We'd like to thank John Kozlowski and his wife Liz. They come from the Buffalo area to our trial every time to bird plant/road guard. John is out on the "big side" all day for two days. Liz helps orchestrate happy hour and especially the "clean up" part on Sunday night for anyone staying over. New club member Warren Cummins and his wife Val were also invaluable. Val wrote judges books, monitored the breakaway times and contributed in any way she could. Warren learned to bird plant and really brought up the caliber of the stake by the strategic placement of the birds. It goes without saying that Linda and Drew Holcomb are an invaluable asset in the cooking duties. We are going to be hard placed to replace them. Chairman Ed Kostka ran the dog wagon for two days along with keeping the trial going and any of the immeasurable tasks that must be done.

Last, but certainly not least, I'd like to thank all the judges and handlers that came. We had a lot of first time attendees. Sure hope you'll come back! The weather did not cooperate the best, with rain storms on Saturday—heat and humidity on both days. Everyone cooperated to get it done. We hope everyone had a good time with good dogs and great people. Happy Hour is legendary... "insane". Don't miss it in the spring!

CENTRAL NEW ENGLAND Flaherty Field Trial Area East Windsor, CT September 21-22, 2013

Central New England Brittany Club only has a handful of active trialers, but the All Star New England Team, who kept us going, comprised individuals from several area clubs, and contributed much to the success of the trial.

I can't say enough about our panel of judges, assembled by SNEBC's Leslie Hunt. They were totally committed to getting the job done and giving everyone their full attention. We would not have gotten done without their tremendous effort.

With short fall days, daylight is a premium and with such nice entries, SNEBC's Fran Gorman and NNEBC's Deb Blondin were line marshals extraordinaire. Keeping things moving is an art, and they were great at it. They also ensured that our judges had what they needed to keep going. SNEBC's Bill Gorman helped out with the bird planting duties ensuring bags were filled and ready to grab by our planters.

SNEBC's Michelle Sala helped out with the bird planting duties on Saturday, while Bruce Conover took over bird planting duties for the 32 dog OLGD. Thank you All!

Our own team of homegrown help and hardworking members Art Hembrough, Aaron Crown, Bob Hallberg, and Paul Gardner kept the birds out there. Dottie and Lou Boyatzi ran the kitchen with their usual aplomb, and the mussel dinner for happy hour is getting to be a tradition. President Joan Bevers filled in as chairperson this year, and as is her usual, imparts a calmness necessary for things to run smoothly. It was great to have Guy Pagella back at a trial, and he did his usual great job selling CNEBC gear.

I am truly sorry if I missed anyone.
Respectfully Submitted,
Jane Bjork, FT Secretary

EAST CENTRAL

WESTERN MICHIGAN Ionia, MI

August 31-September 2, 2013

On Friday the temperatures reached the mid-90s and we feared that the rest of the weekend would be that hot. Saturday was in the low 80s and Sunday didn't quite reach 80, but Monday was the great day to run dogs in the mid-60s! The judges commented that even though it was hot on Saturday, only one dog seemed to slow down at all near the end of the 30 minutes. That's pretty remarkable in this region for the first trial of the fall!

While our trial was small, we had quality dogs and the number of dogs allowed us to have some time at the end of each day to relax and unwind before dinner. Our usual caterer pooped out on us and I found out at the last minute that in addition to being field trial secretary, I would also be chief cook and bottle washer. I had some excellent kitchen help in Theda Langstaff and my husband Gary.

For me, the highlight of the weekend came when newcomers Derek and Sarah Wright garnered first place on their puppy Freddie, who also placed fourth in the Derby! Freddie was proudly bred by Ron and Jeanne Telfare and the photos of Freddie were supplied by Ron. Congratulations to the Wrights, Freddie and the Telfares!

I want to thank the judges who did an excellent job in the saddle for us and also all those loyal supporters who brought their dogs for our trial. We had more club members than usual help out this weekend and it was very much appreciated! Newcomer to our club,

SAREK'S BOHEMIAN RHAPSODY

Chelly McCandless brought two of the most scrumptious cheesecakes I have ever tasted and entirely homemade! It rounded out nicely the Mexican dinner I served.

Hope to see everyone in the spring when we start the weekend with our specialty show. Our field trial is followed by the Michigan Brittany Championship and then the Michigan trial. It's always a fun 10 days in Michigan!

CENTRAL

Pine Island Wildlife
Management Area
Portage, WI
June 8-9, 2013

Badger Brittany Club held a walking trial on June 8-9 at Pine Island WMA near Portage, WI. It was to offset our flooded out April Horseback trial. The weather cooperated until around 3:00 pm on Sunday when major showers broke out just before we completed the trial. The grounds were good, the birds had bump and everyone seemed to enjoy the trial. Great thanks to Brent and Bonnie Lloyd with a big assist from John Domino for producing fantastic dinner for Badger's Happy Hour and Dinner.

I cannot thank enough Badger's small group of hard working members, judges and our good friends for their help and attendance that made the trial a success. It was great to have several new members and old friends join in the action. Congratulations to Bret Catura for his Amateur Gun Dog placement with Buddy, John Domino's first with Shaggy in the Hunter Stake and first time player Kari Donze for Parker's win in the Derby. Parker has been named The Betty Powell Memorial for 2013.

We added two new stakes to this trial. The Hunters stake placements: First: Shaggy (Brit) with John Domino, second Duke (ES) with Stanton, third Hawk with Jim Doperalski and fourth Jazmine with John Kruse. We also offered a Junior Handler Stake. This was our first experience offering this stake and a great deal of help came from Denny Sullivan, Mike Poehler, Steve Ralph and Purina by way of Terry Trzcinski. I cannot thank them enough for their advice on how to do a Junior Handler Stake and Purina's gifts of hats, Pro Plan 2# bags and a neat a whistle, compass, and light gadget. This wall all done on around three weeks' notice and I was learning until the first breakaway.

The kids were armed and excited by 8:00 a.m. and really cranked by 1:30 p.m. They were able to handle their dogs on Wisconsin DNR Game Farm pheasants. Nothing like flushing a big bird to get you excited. Denny Sullivan and Harold Heather were great judges working with the five young handlers ranging in age from 8 to 12. It was funny when Denny told them not to laugh or have fun. It was fun for all that were involved. Congratulations to all of them. Results: first Nick Borchardt with Isabella, second Garrett Lloyd with Skye, third Madison Poehler with Joe, and fourth Hannah

Swanson with Belle. Trevan Lloyd received a 1st Honorable Mention with Sadie.

It will not be the last time Badger offers the Junior Handler stake.

MONTANA

Merja Farms

Sun River, Mt

August 23-25, 2013

When the Montana Brittany Club formed, the fear was that our out of the way location would mean not enough entries to support a field trial.

Our first field trial was a walking event held in conjunction with the Montana German Shorthair Pointer club, during the summer of 2009. The following year, a horseback handled trial was held for the first time.

Our fifth trial was held August 23 to 25 this year. 176 dogs were drawn to run in 8 stakes! Of course, there were scratches at the last minute but a truly remarkable number of dogs went to the line on a hot, dusty Montana weekend on the privately owned Merja ranch. Temperatures rose into the 90 plus range each day, very common for this time of the year. Water barrels helped as dogs were able to cool down as they went around the courses. Our workers, judges, handlers all had to keep going under difficult conditions. We owe thanks to all the volunteers who added to our small numbers and helped with bird planting and any other needed jobs.

Rattlesnakes as always are a concern on the grounds. I started the weekend with my horse stepping into the loose coil of a big rattler, fortunately early in the morning and missed getting struck. One of the derby dogs, a little Brittany named Sophie, was not so lucky and was bitten on the muzzle. She was treated promptly and has recovered from her ordeal to the relief of all the other contestants.

The club is supported by professional trainers, Ed Tillson, Ray Dohse, Kim Trafton and this year, joined by Jason Staley from Idaho. We had amateurs from as far away as Florida, and Idaho, North Dakota, Utah, Montana and the Canadian provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan were represented. Field trial chairman Bob Myers had spent countless hours on preparations for this trial, guiding a committee of hard working club members. Tana Kradolfer was our energetic and efficient field trial secretary. Her careful planning made the field trial run like a well greased wheel, smoothly and eliminated all conflicts between the two courses. Conrad Kradolfer was everywhere, manning the water truck, delivering water to all camps, planting birds, putting up the club tent, packing it all away at the end of the trial, in short, judging the puppy stake, the go to guy for anything that needed doing. Jan Breitenfeldt was in charge of feeding us, and what wonderful meals! Salads, fruit and desserts at all meals were to die for! The main courses were excellent too, with my personal favorite the last day's elk and bison slow cooker offerings. No one went away hungry. Todd Breitenfeldt manned the bird pens, keeping the quail cool despite the heat and getting volunteers and club members scheduled to plant birds as well as doing a big share of planting himself. The birds were some of the strongest flying quail I have seen, a good endorsement for our new source of birds bred and raised by a Hutterite colony in Lewistown.

Terry Courtright is our liaison with the landowner. In addition he arranged the porta potties, had the parking area mowed and was instrumental in plotting our new second course that the gun dogs ran on. It is a big improvement on the old course, giving us more space and better objectives while eliminating the need for a dog wagon. Terry also hosted a wine tasting party prior to the meal on Friday. Sandy Becker is back too, putting together the outstanding gift baskets each judge is presented. Last year, the club had to carry on without Sandy while she was recovering from a broken back following a horse riding accident, and was much missed. We are all glad to see her back in the saddle, fully recovered. Other club members who pitched in and did the odds and ends like line marshalling are Alex Burkes, our ever cheerful club secretary, Gordon Bechard, and new member, new Montana resident but long time Brittany person Ben Hunt. Leslie Andreas helped out by judging the amateur all age and planted birds Saturday and Sunday once she was done running her own dogs. A last minute replacement had to be found for an ailing judge and we found out that former Minnesota resident and setter enthusiast Heather Gast had moved to Montana very recently and lived less than 10 minutes from the field trial grounds. She kindly stepped in and replaced Dean Bennion, who had been thrown from a horse prior to the trial, but was feeling the after effects. We were very grateful for her help and look forward to seeing her at future trials. It was also a pleasure to see James and Betty Doherty from Alabama, who were vacationing in Montana. I cannot name all the volunteers that pitched in, but you know who you are, and your efforts to help were greatly appreciated. Judges that sat in the saddles through big stakes and extreme heat were Steve Short, Arwen Dabb, Mike Jones, Manette Jones, Janna Jackson (all from Alberta, Canada) Tom White (Idaho) James Doherty (Alabama) Jay Halloran (Florida) Leslie Andreas (Saskatchewan) Dean Bennion (Utah) Heather Gast and Conrad Kradolfer (Montana).... We look forward to seeing you all at our trials again next year!

INLAND EMPIRE

BLM Goose Butte Management Unit
Ritzville, WA
September 10-11, 2013

The IEBC fall field trial was scheduled to be cancelled at the last minute due to the club's usual FT Chairman being scheduled to go out of town for his job. Fortunately, the Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana Brittany Clubs field trailers said, "We'll put the trial on", and put the trial on they did! It was truly great to see everyone working on this field trial together. During the day, camp resembled a ghost town; everyone was judging, handling, scouting, planting birds or cooking the noon and dinner meals. Everyone wore multiple "working hats" at this trial.

The IEBC trial kicked off right on time at 7:00 a.m. on Tuesday, September 10. The weather was nice early on; the sun was shining brightly and continued to shine even brighter for the rest of the trial. It continued to warm up until it reached the mid-90s for both days. It was really hot! Although the scenting conditions were poor, many dogs had finds and the trial flowed smoothly. FC/ AFC Cedar Creek Zeb MH garnered his 100th placement for handler/ trainer/ owner Joe Waitman in the Amateur Gun Dog Stake.

Another big event was conducted after placements Tuesday evening. Marilyn Little, IBEC FT Secretary, hosted a surprise baby shower for Jason Staley, the Northwest's newest pro trainer, since he was here in Washington field trialing and missing all the baby showers his wife, Courtnee, was attending at home in Idaho. He was certainly surprised and announced he would actually rather be here field trialing. We told him not to worry; we would bring the shower to him! With his Dad and Grandfather present, he really did enjoy opening all those cute little pink clothes for a little girl, and of course, the new baby received a little stuffed dog and pony until she is old enough to have the real thing. All the field trailers chipped in to make this shower possible. All in all, Jason took the surprise shower showing good sportsmanship, he might had even enjoyed it. Now, we're awaiting the arrival of Baby Girl Staley due September 27, our newest Northwest field trailer.

Once again, thank you to the many avid field trials from Oregon, Idaho, Montana and Washington who stepped up and worked nonstop to ensure the Inland Empire Brittany Club had a field trial this fall. You are all very much appreciated.

FT Chairman

WASHINGTON

BLM Goose Butte Management Unit Ritzville, WA September 14-15, 2013

The WBC Field Trial began with the OAA starting on time at 7:00 a.m. Saturday, September 14, and concluded with the OGD stake finishing at approximately 5:35 p.m. The weather began hot and continued to stay hot during the entire trial. Our many thanks to all the Northwest field trailers who willing stepped up and planted birds as well as ensuring all the many tasks were completed before, during, and after the running of the trial.

Although there were many memorable things that happened to/for many individuals, the most memorable to those of us sill camped at the ground was the high desert "Chubasco" (high desert wind and rain storm) that descended upon us Sunday evening. With winds upward of 60 mph, rain, blowing dust from the many newly plowed wheat fields and an accompanying lightening storm, it was a sight to behold. It came on so suddenly without any warning it caught most of us with our dogs still outside, windows and doors open in our rigs, trailers having dinner outside, or like myself, my wife and another couple, on the way to town to dump the field trial garbage. Although the storm caused a lot of damage; blew the IEBC tent to smithereens, blew one of the outhouse's down, sandblasted the cabinet in my trailer through the front door, what really counts is that all dogs, horses and people came through just fine. Our journey into town was really a nightmare on a narrow country road through this severe dust, lightening and rain storm; we could barely see the end of the hood of the truck. Most of us have never experienced anything like it! This is one field trial those who stayed Sunday evening will always remember.

THE AMERICAN BRITTANY CLUB
67TH ANNUAL FIELD & 52ND ANNUAL SHOW FUTURITY

Trial and Show to be run Spring of 2015 • PURSE: 2/3 to Owner of Winner, 1/3 to Breeder of Winner

CONDITIONS AND RULES • NOMINATING FEE: $30.00 • Nomination must be made within 30 days of whelping or subject to late penalty fees. For all purebred Brittany bitches whelping a litter on January 1 thru December 31st, 2013, who are owned or leased by a member of The American Brittany Club.

- American Brittany Futurities shall be open to every purebred Brittany bitch and her progeny whelped during the calendar year of January 1 - December 31 and whose litters have been enrolled with The American Brittany Club.
- Bitch must be owned or leased by an American Brittany club member.
- All dams nominated and all sires bred to must be registered or eligible for registration.
- Nominations of dams must be made within 30 days after the bitches have whelped. A sum of $30.00 must be paid at this time. This payment will entitle each puppy of this particular litter to be entered in the ABC Futurities (Field and/or Bench) after the dog has been properly registered in a recognized stud book.

- Late litter nominations will be accepted with the following current fee schedule: Late litter nominations will be accepted as late as 180 days from whelping. In addition to the Nomination fee of $30.00 the late fees are $30.00 for 31-60 days, $60.00 for 61-90 days, and $100.00 for 91-180 days. Nominations after 180 days will be at the discretion of the Futurity Committee. The ABC Board of Directors may impose additional late fees from time to time. The postmark will determine the fee for late nominations.
- Dogs will be eligible to run in the designated futurity to be held in the Spring of the second year following the year of whelping.
- A final nomination fee will be due by October 1st of the year following whelping. Entry fees will be paid by the owner of the puppy for each Sectional Futurity field or bench event the dog enters.

THE AMERICAN BRITTANY CLUB, INC. is a member club of the American Kennel Club and is the recognized breed sponsor by the American Field.

The Club is composed of many Regional Clubs located from coast to coast. Most hold a licensed AKC field trial for championship points in the spring and fall seasons. Many hold a specialty (conformation) show and hunting tests. The Regional Clubs hold meetings to discuss mutual problems, fun trials, training sessions and other events of interest to their members.

BECOMING A MEMBER: Full membership in one of the Regional Clubs carries an automatic membership in the American Brittany Club. Full Membership cost is $30.00 per year and $3.00 per year for each Associate Member. Regional Clubs may charge higher dues. You may apply to join the Regional Club located nearest to you, or if there is none in your area, you may become a Member-at-Large of the American Brittany Club. Joining a Regional Club will afford you with the most opportunities for interaction with other Brittany owners.

GIVE A GIFT MEMBERSHIP: We are asking members to give a gift membership to a puppy purchaser, a friend or acquaintance who has a Brittany. All of us encounter people who may just need a little encouragement to become members.
