TRAININ' DOGS

with Rick Smith

Rick Smith has spent a lifetime breeding, training, and handling National Championship bird dogs. His highly popular training seminars teach the "Silent Command System" to dog owners world-wide. During hunting season, Rick can be found on the Mariposa Ranch in south Texas.

Sharon Potter has a strong background in animal behavior, and has been training both horses and dogs for many years, with several National titles to her credit. She is an avid hunter and archer, and in her spare time is working on the first of a series of books on bird dog training with Rick Smith.

Advanced E-Collar

A few issues back (September/October 2005), our column dealt with some of the basics regarding the use of a very valuable tool in our dog-training toolbox: the electronic collar. We discussed its origins, the many improvements that have made the e-collar an effective tool, and how to introduce your dog to the collar with some simple drills. Now it's time to step it up a notch and go into detail about different uses for the e-collar, and explain the timing and decision-making that goes with it.

First, a few reminders that are important to keep at the forefront: You cannot use an e-collar to train a dog to do something – you can only reinforce learned behavior, using the collar as a cue; second, the collar is not a quick fix or remote control; and third, keep your emotions out of e-collar work entirely, since frustration and anger make us do things we shouldn't, like push the button instead of rationalize and train. And just because a dog is wearing an e-collar doesn't mean you have to use it. Don't be in a rush to get to the collar part of training. Instead, focus on building a solid foundation so the collar can be used effectively and humanely.

You need to become familiar with your individual collar. Handling it needs to be as natural as breathing in order to time corrections effectively. If you have to look down or fumble with the transmitter, you've taken your eyes off the dog and the stimulation won't be timed properly. Put the collar on a table, turned on and with the red light facing you so you can see it. Use the transmitter to see how fast the collar responds to the signal, using both momentary and continuous stimulation. Get used to using the transmitter to the point where you can change levels up and down, use all the buttons, and know what you're doing without looking.

Using the transmitter should be as easy as driving your car, which means you've got to get used to how it works before you can be comfortable with it. Remember the very first time you sat behind the wheel and learned to drive? You had to think about turning the key, pressing the brake pedal, shifting, and so on. After you did it enough times, the movements became muscle memory and habit. Your e-collar control has to be the same.

This Brittany has just made the transition from the xhoa-post to the flank collar and is handling it xwell, keeping full attention on the bird rather than the collar. This shows the dog has confidence in the stimulation and understands it.

With the collar strapped on your arm or bare leg or pressed into the meat of your palm use the lowest level – you probably won't even feel it – and move up until you find a point where there's a rather obvious jump from one level to the next. You need to feel this so you know exactly where on your collar that jump between levels is. You will also need to be able to switch back to the lowest level from a higher one – a habit that should be a reflex action after stimulation. If you forget to turn it back down after your dog has complied using a higher level, you may well scare the dog and erase whatever positive association you had made.

The best collar in the work is not good if it isn't powered up, so keep your collar charged according to manufacturer's directions. If the batteries are replaceable, keep a supply with you. Most units can be charged from the power supply in your vehicle as well, using the proper equipment, so plugging it in to charge while driving is an option. A collar that has sat unused for a few months or more should always be checked for a full charge, and always double-check your collar before putting it on your dog – there are few things more frustrating than putting a collar on and planning to train only to find out in the middle of a critical correction that isn't working.

When using the transmitter in the field, remember that range is dictated by cover, terrain, and distance. The more things between your dog and the transmitter, the shorter the range will be; the closer to your body you hold the transmitter, the more you cut down on the range. Hold it a foot or so away from your body, but don't point it at the dog or hold it up in the air – being obvious about the correction is coming from (the transmitter) is not a good thing.

Being able to give the right cue or correction at the right moment makes all the difference in helping the dog respond correctly, which also means being able to discern whether momentary or continuous stimulation is required. Remember: Momentary is used during and for movement, continuous is used for stopping. For example, we would use momentary to turn a dog to go with us, and continuous to stop a dog that was trained to hold steady but chose to break.

Again, none of these cues work if the dog is not already trained to respond to the stimulation via the checkcord or the whoa-post. If a dog is not responding correctly, it means they don't understand the point of contact. If that lack of proper response is accompanied by vocalization, jumping, running to you, and so on, it means you've either not properly prepared the dog to understand the stimulation or you've used too high a level (perhaps forgotten to turn the level back down to the

Aversion training (also referred to as “trashbreaking”), or teaching a dog to not chase off-game, is, however, an entirely different matter. Trashbreaking should be done separate from your regular training and be specifically set up and controlled. The most effective way to trashbreak a dog is to have it think the deer/skunk/porcupine/etc. hurt it, which requires absolute control and level-headedness on the part of the handler.

Set your dog up for the situation by going, for example, to a place you know will have deer. Turn the dog loose with the collar on and the level set as high as it will go (remember, we're trying to make the dog think the deer did it, and very few dogs have ever felt the highest level). Say absolutely nothing, be still and be quiet. Let the dog find the deer, whether it be by sight or scent, and when the dog commits to strong interest in the off-game, use the transmitter on continuous. The dog will most likely yelp, and as soon as it turns away from the off-game, release the button. Don't be tempted to yell, “No!” – we want the negative association to come from the off-game. Stay cool and stay out of it, and once the dog leaves the off-game, go on as if nothing had happened.

Now for the complicated part. Suppose your dog has never shown interest in a deer, for example. You're in the field working on training your dog to quarter and go with you. The dog is doing a nice job when suddenly a deer runs through the field and your dog turns away to give chase. What do you do?

Do you skip the training you were doing and correct the dog for going after the deer?

Absolutely not. Continue with the drill you were doing, only turn up the level of stimulation accordingly and make the dog turn and go with you.

Remember: The level of distraction dictates the level of stimulation. This is not the time to trashbreak, but it is a perfect opportunity to teach the dog to go with you no matter what distractions are out there. Stick to your training plan. A couple of years ago, while training a young Brittany to hold steady on his birds, a bear jogged through the field. Fortunately, the dog's focus stayed on the bird and did not acknowledge the bear at all, holding steady for several minutes while we waited for the bear to clear the field. Had the dog decided to chase the bear, we would have corrected the dog for moving from point and not standing still, rather than correcting the dog for chasing the bear. It's important to stick to what you're training for at the moment: Too much stimulation that doesn't relate to the training situation can cause far more problems than it can fix.

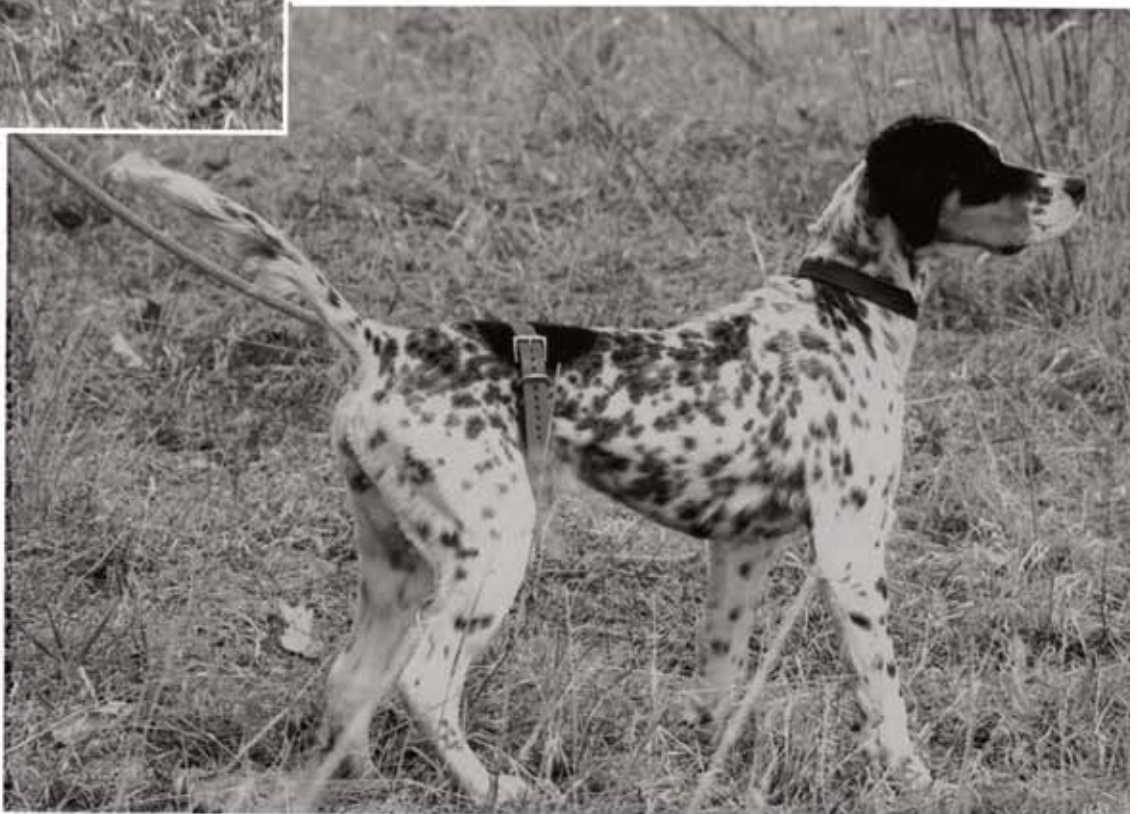

Anticipate what the dog is going to do so you can be ready to correct. That means having the transmitter in your hand, not in your pocket, when you train. You've got a couple of seconds at best to cue the dog or correct it, and if you miss that window, you've missed the opportunity to help the dog understand.

If you've taken your time and done the training correctly, your dog will be excited to see the collar and look forward to wearing it. Having the collar put on should mean hunting, birds, and fun, and that's what this sport is all about.

Brittany Highlights By Carla Simon

OFF LEASH RALLY-O ADVENTURES WITH A BRITTANY

By Jill Martin, (Mansfield, OH), from the Buckeye Brittany Club

My 3 year old Brittany, Esprit D'Ete's Miss Ellie, "Ellie", has played World Cynosport Rally (WCRL) since 2011, beginning with the puppy class at the age of 7 months. She is a very good Brittany with her nose to the ground in the ring which is not so good for rally obedience. However, she earned the puppy title, her level 1 title, and 3 level 1 championships. All are run on leash. WCRL World Cynosport Rally is unique in that it allows handlers to give their dogs a treat or touch as a reward at the end of a stationary exercise. All my dogs have found this highly motivating.

In October of 2013, we attempted level 2, off leash, for the first time. As I entered the ring and approached the start line, Ellie's nose hit the ground. Finally I got her attention, asked her to sit, unclashed her leash, and handed it to the judge. Ellie looked up at me, popped up, and flew to the opposite wall where there was a warehouse garage door. She sniffed intently all along the wall. I waited until I saw a bit less intensity and called her. She came flying to me flipped herself into a beautiful finish left, and looked up at me as if to say, "OK, I'm ready now." So, I said, "heel" and we crossed the start line together. Though Ellie had moments of brilliance, she was a very good Brittany, left me several times, and did not qualify. However, I was very happy with her awesome recall and those wonderful moments of brilliance.

We had another attempt at level 2 the next day. This course had the dreaded food bowls, one of the possible level 2 exercises. There are 4 bowls in a diamond pattern, with a piece of food in each. The bowls are covered so that the dog can't get the treat easily. The exercise requires dog and handler to heel in a figure 8 around 2 of the bowls crossing the center 3 times. Ellie left me again at the start line and flew to the food bowls. She sniffed and picked a bowl up. I went to get her because I did not want her to get rewarded by getting the food in the bowl. We went back to the start and did the course, but since we had already Ned, I chose to illegally reward her with treats throughout the course. At the food bowls, I popped a treat in her mouth every time she looked up at me. She paid less and less attention to the bowls. Again, I was happy with her moments of brilliance.

In March, 2014, we played at our first trial since the previous fall. Again, we were at ARF located in Gahanna, OH (Columbus). Our first level 2 run surprised and entertained spectators and the Judge. Ellie left me at the start to sniff at the garage door (another exhibitor later told me that her husband had seen a mouse run across the floor there), but came flying back when called, flipped into her finish left and looked up at me, ready to go. So, off we went heeling. We performed all the exercises, but Ellie was a very good Brittany with her nose to the ground much of the course. The judge surprised me when she told me we had qualified. (Ellie's run off at the start did not disqualify us since we had not crossed the start line together). For our first level 2 leg, we had earned a respectable score of 194 of a possible 210.

In the afternoon, we had our 2nd level 2 run. I was very surprised to have Ellie's eyes on mine most of the course. Station 12 (of 21) was the "send over jump, handler runs by." This has been a bit of a challenge in training because Ellie has not done the jump with me the required 6 feet to the side so we have been working on increasing my lateral distance. When I told her, "go, jump," she did, but she jumped the sign to the right of the jump instead of the jump causing an NQ. That told me that she still did not understand that exercise. We continued with the rest of the course having the best level 2 run yet. I was ecstatic with Ellie's performance. And when I checked the score sheet, we had lost only 2 points on that run.

We went to shows the next 2 weekends at Four Seasons K 9 Athlete Center near Youngstown, OH and Posidog Training Center in Columbus, OH. Four Seasons had 2 rings side by side. In Ellie's 1st level 2 run, she left the ring and went to the other ring where, fortunately, no dog was competing, but exhibitors were walking the course. I called her and she climbed/jumped over the 2 foot high PVC barrier between rings. She worked some, but left me 2 more times. She was having such a good time running off that I decided to end our run and her fun. Fortunately, the judge totally understood our challenges since she faces similar ones with her German Shorthaired Pointer.

That weekend, Ellie earned her level 2 title and the Award of Excellence for titling scores over 190. The next weekend, she earned 2 more level 2 legs and she performed the "send over jump, handler runs by" perfectly. She has yet to repeat that wonderful NQ run we'd had the previous weekend.

WCR is my favorite organization to play rally for many reasons. Judges, hosts, and exhibitors are friendly, helpful, and supportive. Exercises and courses are challenging, but doable. Rewards (treat or touch) are allowed in the ring under well-defined circumstances. Handicapped handlers and dogs are encouraged to participate and modifications for them are allowed. There are puppy classes and titles for those just beginning and veteran's classes and titles for older dogs who may have difficulty with a regular course. And my dogs and I have fun.

About World Cynosport Rally

By Carla Simon

Rally is a fun and exciting team sport for dogs and their handlers! Dog and handler teams navigate a course at a brisk, continuous pace, with numbered signs indicating different exercises to perform such as Sit-Down-Sit, Straight Figure Eight, Send Over Jump, Pivot 180° Right, Spiral Right with Dog on the Outside, Side Step Right, and Drop on Recall. It is a fun test of obedience and the trust in the relationship between dog and handler.

Everyone has different goals in mind when they first begin. Some simply want to be active with their dog, while others seek the accolades of high level competition. And there are a lot of others in between.

The APDT held its first Rally trials in 2001 in Ellenville, NY. In 2013, of United States Dog Agility Association (USDAA), the world's largest agility organization, acquired APDT's rally obedience program. Combined, World Cynosport Rally and USDAA represent more than 200 affiliated groups conducting 1,000 days of events annually, throughout USA, Canada and internationally, with 40,000+ registered dog owners.

Rally is a growing sport, affirming that obedience is at the root of all dog sports, especially dog agility, and is a key component to public outreach in demonstrating and teaching responsible pet ownership by being active with one's dog in a quality environment.

Part Three Generation to Generation

The Election

Dr. Samuel Nixon's disdain for his son in law, the surgeon George Foster, had grown for thirty years. Today it had turned to hate. Sam had always tried to keep his feelings to himself. His wife had known. In a posthumous letter, she had implored him to make allowances for George.

Sam's feelings about George were ironic, for George was the son of Sam's lifelong best friend, Ben Foster. High-school classmates, they had joined the Navy together the day after Pearl Harbor and returned to settle in Halifax County, Virginia. There Ben looked after his family's tobacco farms and warehouse while Sam practiced medicine. With schoolmate-lawyer Albert Cary, they were affectionately known by the corner drugstore crowd in South Boston as the Three Musketeers.

Sam had sponsored George for medical school, help George build his practice. And Sam knew George was a fine surgeon (perhaps a bit quick to wield the scalpel, but Sam felt that about every surgeon). It was George's love of money that got Sam's goat. His investments and his golf handicap were all he ever talked about. While George's father, Ben, also liked money, he was not obsessed with it. He cared about his farm tenants, helped their children go to college, cut them slack if illness or drought came their way. Many times Sam or Albert approached Ben for a loan or handout on behalf of some distraught family. Ben never refused; his only requirement was anonymity. In son George, no such redeeming generosity dwelled. George loved the dollar, pure and simple.

Sam, Ben and Albert shared a lifelong passion for quail hunting. In the summer months, they fished and played gin rummy at Ben's cabin on Bugg's Island Lake. The Three Musketeers had always kept their bird dogs with one of Ben Foster's tobacco farmers, Raymond West. When Raymond died ten years ago, his son Ray, Jr., took over the farm and the Musketeers' dogs. The farm lay beside the field-trial grounds at Boydton, and the younger West got the Musketeers interested in trials at a time when age was beginning to limit their foot hunts for quail. Before they knew it, all three had Tennessee Walkers and a trailer rig at the farm.

While all three Musketeers thought highly of young Ray West, Ben Foster had regarded him as a second son. Sam had watched the bond grow over the years. Perhaps the true son's lack of attention to his father fueled it. Sam found it heartwarming, but he sensed jealousy in George. (Little in the way of human emotion escaped Sam; forty years of medical practice had honed his instincts for detecting human foibles.)

Ray West was a worker. Besides tending and training bird dogs and horses for the Three Musketeers and taking them to field trials on weekends from fall through spring, he raised thirty acres of tobacco. Whenever they arrived at the farm, they found Ray cheerfully busy at some task.

It had been understood for years that Ben Foster was leaving the hundred-acre farm to young Ray in his will. Ben had faced a long march toward death with good humor, as he had lived; toward the end, Sam had seen him every day, their talk always of their shared grandsons and shared bird dogs.

Today, one week after Ben's death, Sam had received a call from Albert Cary.

"Meet me at the Court House."

When Sam got there, Albert was standing in the record room with the Will Book open.

"Read this," Albert said grimly.

Sam scanned Ben Foster's will.

"I leave the West Farm to Raymond West, Jr... I leave all the rest of my estate to my son George." Sam looked up at Albert, "So?"

"Now read this." Albert turned the page. It was a codicil, dated just two weeks before Ben Foster's death.

"I revoke the provision of my will leaving a farm to Raymond West, Jr."

The signature was shaky. Sam recognized the two witnesses to the codicil as George Foster's secretary and nurse. He looked at Albert Cary in disbelief.

"You didn't write this...?"

"Of course not."

The codicil had been written by a young lawyer new in South Boston, a golfing companion of George Foster.

"What can be done about this?" Sam asked.

"Nothing, unless you are prepared to testify that Ben was incompetent when he signed that codicil."

"He was under pain medication, but I couldn't say he didn't know what he was doing. I'll bet George put it under Ben's nose, and he didn't realize what he was signing."

"That's what I figure, too," Albert Cary said, "but George and the witnesses will deny it, and we can't prove it."

"Does Ray West Know yet?" Sam asked.

"Yes—that's how I found out. Ray called and said George had come to see him at the farm to tell him the rent would be going up."

The two old friends went to Albert's office and spent the morning fretting. At lunchtime they drove over to console young Ray West, but when they got there, he was gone. His wife said she didn't know where; she was worried about him.

"When he gets home, you tell him to call me," Sam said. "And tell him Albert and I are going to make things right." He didn't know how.

That night Albert Cary dreamed. He was back in law school...in Professor Barnett's class on wills and estates. The tall thin professor stood at the blackboard, wearing a green eye shade like a clerk out of Dickens. He turned slowly to speak to the class. On the board he had written:

"Doctrine of..."

Albert sat upright in the bed, wide awake. "That's it."

Albert was in his office at 7:00 a.m. For two hours he poured over books. Then at 9:00 a.m., he called Sam to come over. Behind a closed door, they talked for twenty minutes. Albert had his secretary type a short document, and Sam signed it. The the two surviving Musketeers drove to see Ray West at the farm. When they left the farm, Ray and his wife were smiling. For the time being, Sam and Albert would be covering the farm's rent.

Dr. Sam Nixon died a year later. His was a perfect exit; his heart stopped, and he fell from his horse, dead before he hit the ground. Running ahead was a pointer puppy.

Albert Cary approached George Foster in the churchyard cemetery right after the benediction.

"Come by my office first thing tomorrow," Albert said with a gleam in his eye.

When George arrived, Albert was waiting for him in the conference room, it's walls covered with photographs of the Three Musketeers with their bird dogs, horses, fish they had caught. On the table were four documents, side by side, face down.

Albert turned them up like cards, one by one, for George to read. The first was Sam's will. It left his estate to his daughter Mary, George's wife. George smiled after reading it. The next document brought a difference expression:

I, Samuel Nixon, make this codicil to my will. The provision in my will leaving my estate to my daughter is subject to this condition. Within ten days of my death, my son-in-law, George Foster, M.D., shall convey to Raymond West, Jr., in fee simple and unencumbered the West Farm at Boydton, and give $100,000 to the Medical College of Virginia in memory of his mother and father. If these conditions are not met, I leave my entire estate to the Medical College of Virginia.

If the conditions are met on the day George Foster, M.D., first ready this, this codicil need not be submitted for probate.

I am putting George Foster, M.D., to what is called in law an Election, recognized under the Common Law of England and of the Commonwealth of Virginia.

Samuel Nixon
April 12, 1988

The final two papers Albert Cary turned over were a deed for the farm to Ray West and a letter to the Medical College of Virginia.

George Foster signed the deed, the letter and a check for $100,000 to the Medical College. He never spoke again to Albert

Cary, which gave the Final Musketeer a warm feeling each time he saw the surgeon.

THE BOOK REVIEW

By Bob Fleury

“MR BUCK” The autobiography of Nash Buckingham

“MR BUCK” The autobiography of Whenever the subject of Sporting Literature is discussed the first name that usually pops up is Nash Buckingham (1880-1971). There are and have been many great writers of Sporting Literature over the years but few of them come close to the ability of Buckingham to put you in the field next to him behind a pair of bird dogs pointing a covey of quail ready to explode, in the duck blind watching a group of ducks getting ready to set in to the decoys, or sitting at the table feasting on a fare of harvested game. He lived through a time of many changes in America’s outdoor sports. He lived through and experienced the days of plenty when market hunting was allowed and had the vision to work toward stopping that wasteful slaughter and bring about sensible regulations. His experience around the great pointing dogs of the past is legendary. He judged the National Championship at the Ames Plantation seventeen times and presided over many championships from the prairies of Canada to the deep south. Some of the timeless sporting books he wrote were Bloodlines, Ole Miss, Hallowed Years, De Shootinest Gent’man, Mark Wright. He co authored the book National Champions with American Field’s Bill Brown. This autobiography came about because several years prior to his death he began gathering material, documents and articles about himself and his experiences with the intention of giving someone that material to choose from and write a book about his life. His death in 1971 prevented that from happening. A great book about a true sportsman. Nash Buckingham was the real “Shootinest Gent’man”.

This book is printed by Countrysport Press and can be acquired through most book suppliers.

A SPORTSMAN'S RAMBLINGS

by Marty Garrell

Sitting in a small motel room last weekend, feeling damp and cold, we had the feeling that we'd been in the same place many times before. In fact, we had been. Drenching in a driving autumn rain is a rite of passage for outdoors persons everywhere.

A Cape Cod dog trial, a tautog trip to Fishers Island, or a hunt for muskies on the Saint Lawrence---the memories are all similar. And always, it comes down to what foul weather gear works and what doesn't. Depending on your activity and depending on rainfall intensity, getting the right match may not be easy. Over the weekend, we had to judge and handle some Brittanys in Falmouth (Cape Cod). Reports called for moderate rain during Saturday, not very different from Long Island forecasts, but, as usual, the weather gurus didn't quite get things right. Instead, phrases like "toad strangler" or "frog choker" would have been justified.

In rainy weather the choice of most active folks now is some kind of rain suit with a liner, usually Gore-Tex or its equivalent. The raindrops roll off and the wearer supposedly stays dry, at least to a point. On mountain hikes or out on the water in fog and drizzle, this is perfectly okay; the lightweight coverall keeps you comfortable and wicks away moisture. However, when nature really wants to punish you, the light rain suit simply won't cut it. The same holds for the oiled coat, which seems to have come down to trail riders from the old Marlboro ads and to gunners from some Scottish moor. These garments also allow free motion of the body while riding or sitting in a blind; we first saw these coats worn by sports on Long Island shooting preserves and were duly impressed by their handsome appearance and by their price. However, in a soaking, pounding rain they won't keep the wearer completely dry either, as one bedraggled dog trainer admitted to us only last weekend.

No, in a pinch, there is nothing like the Sou'wester designed for generations upon generations of sea dogs. My introduction to this clothing came nearly 50 years back when I spent a college summer as a technician in Hamburg and went cod fishing for the first time off the island known as Helgoland. The skipper (a native of the Friesian island and reportedly a U-boat captain during the war) and his wife ran a boarding house where they put up fishers overnight before and after days on the water. We jigged cod (fish seldom more than 10 pounds but present at that time in huge schools) out of 20-foot dories powered by reciprocating engines. The dories were open the elements and sloppy; with surface water temperatures in the low 50s you didn't want the North Sea to penetrate your garments.

Issued to every angler was a heavy, completely waterproof rain outfit, original Helly Hansen jacket and pants along with rubber fishing boots, Nokias, I believe. Never mind wicking away moisture; wool sweaters provided the under layer. The important thing was to stay dry, and you did. The original Hellys impressed us so much that I bought matching suits for Janet and myself when we went back to Germany years later. In more than 35 years of wear, they've taken us through briars and marshes as well as on many an open boat or charter trip. The surface is a bit worn in spots and the straps have been replaced, but they've held up remarkably well. Other brands like Gustav Grundens seem to be sharing the market now, but the basic design is still the same.

The problem last weekend was simple; we'd left the heavy rain gear behind because we wanted to ride comfortably, and the lighter rain suits seemed like a good compromise. Obviously they were not. Improper footwear made for even more discomfort as water seemed to pool in riding boots, too. Unfortunately, Wellingtons and Nokias aren't exactly compatible with stirrup safety. During a pause in the downpour we changed into fresh rubber boots and socks and hiked behind a couple of field dogs in a walking stake, certainly a more comfortable mode of travel.

What one really ought to do after a soaking, however, is not to repair to a small motel room as we did and stew in dampness and misery. The old Baltic and North Sea natives knew that the best antidote to damp spirits after a fishing trip is, in fact, a cozy "Kneipe" or bar. While the chef sets up potatoes and fresh fish for baking in a layered dish, the barman heats a kettle of water. Though a pot of tea under such conditions might seem appropriate, a good shot of rum, some boiling water, and a dissolved sugar cube in the form of rum grog is just what the doctor ordered.

2013 ABC National Specialty Show

WOW! What can I say except thank you to a great group of people on the committee who made the 2013 NSS such a huge success? From the show secretary to the grounds people, the Top 20 show and banquet, Obedience, trophies, raffles, silent auction and vendors, it would not have happened if you all did not do such a great job. We finished in the black with some to spare!

We started off on Friday with all Breed and Brittany Only Obedience. High in Trial for this year was from the Open B class with a score of 195, Jayhawker's Lucky Jack, UDX 3, OM5, owned by Greg Hartimeir.

Friday night we had our Match show judged by long time breeder/owner, Polly West. Polly worked the puppies and her choice for winner was Lacey owned by Rick and Rebecca Grommen and Kristyn McCartney from the 6-9 Month class.

Saturday started out with sweepstakes judged by long time Brittany breeder/owner/handler, Andrea Jordan Lane. She took her time and methodically went through her classes. This year's winner for Best in Sweepstakes came from the 15-18 Month class of bitches, Hope's I Can't Drive 55, owned and handled by Doug Tighe and Best of Opposite was from the Puppy 6-9 Month class, Sovereign's Beacon of Hope, owned by Dawn and Joe Droel. Sweepstakes classes had some lovely entries so I think we can say our future looks good for our breed.

We had the Inaugural Top 20 competition and banquet this year. It is something that the show membership has wanted for quite some time and it came to fruition this year. We had a lovely lineup of dogs and bitches for the competition. Top 20 competition has three judges. Our AKC judge was Carol Brown. Our handler judge was long time breeder/owner/handler Coral Appleton and our breeder judge was Robert Wire. The winner for the Top 20 competition was GCH. Rainbow Splash's Ruggedly Handsome, owned by Carolee Douglas, Jim and Alisa Andras, Kathy Hogan and Amanda Cone and handled by Clint Livingston. Runner up was also the winner of the People's Choice Award. Each person who attended the event was given a ballot to vote on their choice. The People's Choice Award this year was GCH Brookwood's Just Too Hot, CDX, MX, MXB, MXJ, MUB, XF, bred by Cindy Miller and Russ Walborn, J. & G. Currier, and handled by Gina Currier.

Mr. Reynolds did a critique of his winners and I will just include his report to the club: In my opinion the greatest compliment a judge can receive is to be afforded the right to judge the national specialty of a breed. When it is someone from outside of the breed, such as me, the invitation is even more appreciated. I enjoyed the American Brittany Club specialty tremendously and was overwhelmed by the quality of the exhibits. As is always the case decisions have to be made and those usually reflect the priority of the judge as he works his way through the standard. The old "chestnut" of type versus soundness is to me redundant and those who would argue that you can always find soundness as the "pound" miss the essential part of the sporting dog's type—the ability to work. I was given the luxury over the two days of searching for type and soundness and usually in the compromise soundness won.

The first day was dogs and male non-regular classes. As I said to my ring steward at the end of this day I had found such quality in my winners, particularly in non-regular that I would have been able to happily give a Best of Breed at that point. Little did I know how great the next day would be.

Generally in the entry I found heads, expression, eyes and ears to be very good. Usually there were good tip lines, with proper layback of shoulder and rear angulation. I found balance and proportion to be varied as frequently exhibits were a little shorter on leg than the standard calls for and therefore appeared a little longer. The conundrum that this always gives rise to is the face that often movement has more reach, drive and smoothness. For the most part tail sets were good as was coat. Bone was another issue as the variation strayed from too fine to too heavy and everything in between making for some interesting decisions.

6-9 Month Puppy Dogs. This class was full of choices and ran the gamut of size and type which is to be expected at this age. In the end Triumphant's Chances Are was the winner. He is a lovely dog of good proportion that excels in movement, balance and size. Good substance with a firm topline and good reach and drive. Being at the top of the age range gave him an advantage in maturity of mind and body which was beneficial.

9-12 Month Puppy Dogs. A class of only four dogs and the winner Sovereign Alar Rock Foundation brought many excellent qualities to the table. He has great type, gorgeous head, good proportion and balance. He moves a little wide in front but well behind. His side movement left something to be desired as he kept pulling back instead of reaching forward as he was built to do. Obviously he would have preferred to be off leash and in the field but his many attributes won the class.

12-15 Month Junior Dogs. Probably my most difficult class of the show as I kept changing the placements around. In the end Shamrock's Elementary My Dear won on his movement coming and going and from the side. He has good proportion and top line and his excellent layback of should was a deciding factor.

15-18 Month Junior Dogs. The minute my winner Hope's Exceeding the Speed Limit entered my ring I saw him as a contender. I loved his type, head, eye and balance, great proportions with that extra height I look for. He moved well front and rear and reasonably well from the side but his is young a rather immature which made him careless with his front at times. This will be settled as he matures. All of his strengths would see him emerge as Reserve Winners Dog.

Bred-by-Exhibitor Dogs. This is probably my favorite class in dog shows but today I found it a little more challenging than usual. As I moved back and forth one dog worked his way to the top of the line. This was Brookewood's Krown Royal who I understand just completed his C.C. and still thought that a sit was preferable to a stand but when his handler got him together he scored on his soundness when on the move.

American-Bred Dogs. Only one dog here, Big Oaks Jack of Diamonds, but a really nice dog of great type, proper bone, light on his feet in many ways similar to my Reserve Winners Dog.

Open Dogs. My winner here was Triumphant N'Kala's Sky's The Limit. A dog of great type with maturity, sound, balanced, good proportions, bone and size. Sound on the move with a good toplining. His maturity would carry him to Winners Dog.

Veteran Dogs. The winner was GCH Magic Read My Lips. A Dog which I have liked in the past and again today. He has beautiful balance, great size and bone with good balance. Lovely expression and a fantastic topline from the side.

Field Trial Dogs. The Winner was Sanbar Crosscreek Repete Call who scored with his lovely size, headpiece and soundness coming and going. Strong top line.

Dual Champion Dogs. The winner, GCH/DC Sanbar Castle Built On Legends. Another dog of my type with great soundness and balance on the move. Lovely head and expression, beautiful outline. He would go on to an Award of Merit.

6-9 Month Puppy Bitches. A lovely group of puppies. Whisper Ridge Spy's Like Us was the winner. A very pretty puppy with great bone. She uses her structure and topline to move exceptionally well. Perhaps a little longer than I would like but she makes such great use of herself that she dominates the ring.

9-12 Month Puppy Bitches. Millette's Benelli wins this on her fantastic presentation, soundness and lovely head and expression. To be critical I would like a smidgeon more leg but great layback and rear angulation plus a rock hard topline gave her the class.

12-15 Month Junior Bitches. Only two in this class and they were very much equal. In the end, Carrollton's Majestic Emerald won on her little extra bit of leg and type in body proportion but she could easily have changed places with the second bitch.

15-18 Month Junior Bitches. An interesting class as was the winner Sandbar Crosscreek Tell Me A Story sired by the winner in the Field Trial Dog class. I really liked this bitch and admire her handler for her presentation. This is a lovely feminine bitch of good type, balance and proportion and a pretty head. She is dead sound going away and from the side with reach and drive, but her handler was very careful in moving her back as this is not her fortune, but the overall picture was there and she would go on to be Winners Bitch and Best of Winners.

Bred-by-Exhibitor Bitches. Once again, as the class came in, one bitch immediately caught my eye. A lovely feminine bitch of great type, proper bone and length of leg, rather immature but with a great top line and reasonable from the side. Playing a little loose with her front and in the end this cost her a bit in the challenge but Hope's I Can't Drive 55 would win the class and finish in a tight race to be Reserve Winners Bitch. Interestingly, but no surprise, is the fact that she is the litter sister of the Reserve Winners Dog.

American-Bred Bitches. This class was won by Maple Brook's Some Like It Hot. She wins the class on balance and type. She charges a bit as she moved around the ring but had good balance.

Open Bitches. First went to Millette's Lucky Charm, a very pretty bitch with a pleasing head and expression. Good top line and sound coming and going and from the side. A little gay with her tail, but on the whole typical.

Veteran Bitches. This was won by CH Sanbar's Mustang Evening Attire. A very lovely liver bitch who has a great head and expression, dead sound with great proportion and balance. Lovely top line and angulation. She will finish among my Awards of Merit winner and be in the challenge for Best of Opposite Sex. She also had the Select Dog Sanbar's Ride The Winds as her half-brother.

Field Trial Bitches. A lovely tri bitch, DC Shadow's Tequily Tryst, who would hang in until the final cut was the winner. A very lovely bitch, particularly from the side, and while not small is very feminine. She is perhaps a little long but used it to her advantage.

Dual Champion Bitches. This was won by MTB Scipio's Hot Shot of Wizki based on her type, proportion and way of going.

The competition for Best of Breed and Best of Opposite Sex was especially hot, and I could make a case for many of the dogs to be with winner, but in the end I felt that GCH Rainbow Splash's Ruggedly Handsome was just that and made the perfect picture although he was chased to the wire by the Select Dog CH Sanbar's Ride the Winds.

Best of Opposite Sex then fell into place as a female version of the dog and very close in quality. CH Rainbow's Bippity Boppity Boo, his litter sister, made for a great pair although she was pushed hard by GCH Millette's Sweet Memories, who would be Select Bitch.

Awards of Merit placements, in no particular order, were GCH Triumphant's AS Good AS it Gets, JH; GCH Brookwoods Just Too Hot, CDX, MX, MXJ, XF, MXB, MJB; GCH Marsport Hot To Ride Lucky Seven, MH; GCH Gourley's DFL 99 Carat Diamond; GCH Sovereign's Chasing Legends; GCH Big Oaks Delta Sunksit By Credit; GCH/DC Sanbar Castle Built on Legends; and CH Sanbar's Mustang Evening Attire.

Best Puppy was awarded to Millette's Binelli and Best Bred-by-Exhibitor was Hope's I Can't Drive 55.

Once again thank you all for a great weekend. James G. Reynolds

The Junior Handler Show was judged by Debra Rudert. There were only three Juniors entered this year, but the choice was a difficult one. Each of the Juniors handled to perfection and the choice for Best Junior Handler was Megan Rosener with CH Mustang's Leading Man At Treasure, JH. Megan won Best Junior last year as well. We would hope to see more Juniors next year in competition.

MID-SOUTH BRITTANY CHAMPIONSHIP AND LEE HOLMAN CLASSIC

Following the running of the ABC Illinois Brittany Championships, the Mid-South Brittany Championship and the Lee Holman Classic highlighted a week of running for the Illinois Regional Brittany Club. In Southern Illinois, if you don't like the weather, stick around as it is sure to change. We faced below freezing temperatures, sleet, thunder snow storms, ice, and thunderstorms of great intensity which lead to temperatures in the moderate range and lots of mud once the ice melted. We certainly appreciate all the people from different clubs who attended and also pitched in to help with all that goes into making a successful trial. We were especially treated with Judge John Burkhardt's wife, Doreen, sending over pastries and even a superb and popular dish of chicken livers and gizzards to compliment the warm meals cooked by Judy Graves.

Our ever faithful sponsor, Nestle-Purina, provided dog food and monetary support for the event. Words cannot express how much we appreciate their continued support of field trials.

We also want to thank Site Superintendent Cha Hill and his staff for all their hard work and cooperation with not only field trial clubs but local groups such as the Friends of Pyramid in offering us such a fine venue for our trials. When the ones who use the grounds, the ones who maintain the grounds, trial sponsors like Purina, and the locals who support the development of the grounds all work together, great things can be accomplished.

MID-SOUTH BRITTANY CHAMPIONSHIP

The Mid-South Brittany Championship was run as our Open Limited Stake with the additional and newly established AKC Grand Champion points being awarded this year. We thought we were going to start the Mid-South following the Illinois Brittany Championships under normal weather conditions on Monday morning. We were honored to have two well-known veteran trainer/handlers to judge this championship stake: John Burkhart of Coulterville, IL, and Al Gorrow of Broughton, IL.

The Captain Side of Pyramid Stake Park was again utilized, using the same three courses as the Illinois Brittany Championship program. Brace #1 was released about 8:30 a.m. under overcast skies with temps in the mid-30s. Just as the hour was finished with one dog lost and his brace mate going the distance, the sky opened up with lightning, thunder and heavy winds. Everyone loaded up and headed back to the barn with the rest of the day being canceled.

The Winners

Sunny and comfortable conditions started Tuesday morning's activities with the new Champion running in Brace #2. Jagoub's Buzz'n Bayou (Skeeter) owned by Tom and Debbie Jagielski of Deerfield, IL and handled by Tom Tracy of Morganstown, KY, was named champion. Skeeter was turned loose just below the mountain and three minutes later had a dandy find on the lower east side of the mountain. That was his only find, but his ground performance was great.

The Runner-Up Champion, the Ace of Spade, was released on course one in the first brace Wednesday morning. No stranger to the winner's circle, Spade is owned by Dave Capstick and Tim Self of Jonesburg, MO, and was handled by Capstick. Spade, a white and liver 7 year old male, had his first find at 18 just before we turned west along Super Lake. Running toward the front, his second find was in the woody cover on the left, just before we hit the big corn field. He was charged with one unproductive just across Scale House Rd. He hit the Cutler clockwise swing and scored again just before time under the old power line.

Pushing the winners were Ru-Jem's A Touch of Bourbon, owned and handled by Jerry McGee and his wife Ruth. The veteran Chug had one find early in his brace and an acceptable race and Kinwashkly Fat Bastard, owned by Bo and Renae Ackerman of Clarmont, GA and handled by Tom Tracy was credited with a quail find at 24, one rabbit find, and a good forward finish.

THE LEE HOLMAN CLASSIC

The Lee Holman Classic got underway Thursday morning at 8 a.m. with a temperature of 60 degrees and a very brisk wind! Watching twenty very competitive canines were two long time experienced gentlemen from frigid and snowy Wisconsin: Jim Brigham of Madison and Robert Powell of Arlington. We certainly appreciated their long drive down and attentiveness to the dogs.

The Winners

Five braces were put down on Thursday with a couple of dogs handled by Chad Holman of Whittington, IL having good runs and birdwork. Friday's action, however, came with the Champion and Runner-Up running in brace #2. The Ace of Spade, a white and liver 7 year old male owned by David Capstick and Tim Self of Jonesburg, MO and handled by Tim Self was named the new Lee Holman Classic Winner. Coming out of the Cutler swing, Spade hit the top of the mountain and had a nice find at 27. He showed his style and steadiness as a second bird lifted shortly after the first. He ran a strong efficient race to the front showing when he needed to.

Running in the first brace on Friday morning, Cedar Valley Bandit owned by David Webb of Valencia, PA and handled by Tom Tracy was named Runner-Up. Bandit started off a bit slow but started rolling to the front and running the edges with great speed. He handled nicely for Tom under very windy conditions and 60 degree temps. His one find was at 23 on top of the mountain and he finished strong to the front.

As I mentioned earlier, the Grandson of Lee Holman, Chad Holman, ran a couple of dogs that were pushing the winners. Black Creek Deacon, running in the third brace on Thursday, had a long absence, but regained the front and had a find at 40 in the Quail Wood's Pinoaks. He finished very strong. Deacon is owned by Ron Harling, Jr. of Churchville, NY. Deacon was placed third. Also in the hunt for a placement was Sandy Pines Chase The Wind in Brace #1 on Thursday morning. Chad managed to keep him going to the front and after a dandy relocation had a quail find at 40 as we split the Quail Woods. He finished strong in the clockwise Cutler swing. Chavy is owned by Johnny Rowell of Bakersfield, CA.

Congratulations are also in order for the McGees' Ru-Jem's "Last" penny who won the 16 dog Amateur All Age Stake and Chesterfield Molly who won the 16 dog Open Gun Dog Stake. She is owned by the Ackermans and handled by Tommy Tracy. The Open Derby was won by JJ's Levi the Lionheart owned by Joe Williams and Jenny Ro and handled by Joe.

GREATER ST. LOUIS
Whetstone Creek Conservation Area
Williamsburg, MO
March 1, 2014

Our spring walking trial was held at Whetstone Creek Conservation Area in Williamsburg, MO. We certainly appreciate the cooperative spirit towards field trials and the help of Nicole Walker at Whetstone. March 1 was a cold and cloudy day and the weather forecast was not good for late afternoon/evening. Everyone's efforts to keep the trial moving was greatly appreciated, as everyone got on the road in good time and made it safely home. This was the first trial for many this year because of the extreme winter we've had, so the birds were the winners in many cases. All the gun dogs did have the opportunity for bird work – in some cases one too many. We've all had that problem a time or tow. However, there was some great dog work, as well. Dave Johnson's "BDG's Jesse James" won the Amateur Walking Gun Dog with a multitude of finds. And, a big congratulations to Jean Webb for winning the blue in the Open Walking Gun Dog. Dogwood Hollow Ray of Hope is now a Dual Champion!! Congratulations also goes to Bob Travis from Iowa on his puppy win and Todd Parmenter of the HIBC for his blue in the derby.

Thanks to Keith Willis and Gina Nelsen for the use of their 4-wheelers and all their bird planting and to Randy Meyer and Phil Corlew for their help with birds and all the other miscellaneous duties required at a trial.

As always, it's great to get together with all the trailers and their dogs. The Brittany world is full of wonderful people – and dogs! Finally, the Greater St. Louis Brittany Club gives a special thanks to all the judges for their good work and their positive spirit while judging throughout the day!!

Dub Emde Challenge

The fourteenth running of the Dub Emde Challenge, Region 8 Amateur All Age Brittany Championship, was held this past weekend. The weather went from overcast skies, upper 40s temperatures on Saturday to upper 20s, some sleet and snow and you couldn't see the sky on Sunday.

The judges were Kelly Ward of McAlester, OK, and Jon Humphrey of Claremore, Ok. These two gentlemen are well respected amateur owners/handlers. They paid close attention to each dog and their decisions were well received. Our sponsor was Purina. They supplied financial support and product coupons. Their support is well appreciated and as a side note, the top three dogs as well as other are fed Pro Plan. This is the best food on the market.

The Winners:

The Champion came out of the fourth brace, the first brace after lunch Saturday. Rusty Ridge Lucky Strike, "Red", is a handsome seven year old orange and white male. He is owned by Jan and Claude Kilpatrick of Hico, TX. Claude handled and Jan scouted. Breakaway was from camp. Red's race was forward at acceptable range. He was bigger than his brace mate. He scored with a covey find before Briar Point. He also had a covey well located to the left at the mouth of Cedar Point. Couple these two finds with a third near the Double Motts, a good race and finish, the Standard had been set.

The Runner Up was in the third brace. Breakaway was from the Bear Trap Meadow. Wayside Blueridge Runner is also seven years old. He is a white and orange male owned and handled by Tom Longfellow of Gatesville, TX. "Blue" and his brace mate J & M Jax Sugar Babe, handled by co-owner Jim Crawford (Mary couldn't attend due to an illness), displayed early speed and forward application. Both dogs were out of pocket as the course went around the Airport. Blue was returned to the front before Manck's Crossing. "Sugar" was absent for an extended period of time and reappeared as we came out of the West Country. She had a find at Weaver's Thicket and finished well. Blue hunted the course but time was running out. The scout called point at 59 3/4 with Blue standing in the east tree line leading to Pond Four. Judge Ward saw running birds, Tom fired, and all was in order. Job well done.

BRACE 1: SHADY'S DESERT KNIGHT-MILAM/SHADY WAY RED TAIL HAWK-LINDBECK: Both dogs broke hard. Knight was out of pocket but reappeared after a brief absence. This was pretty much how his hour passes. He had no birds under judgment but he had a tremendous finishing cast. Hawk was forward and ran a good race. He displayed a great deal of heart in finishing the hour as he either blew a pad on one or more paws or was having some other difficulty. My hat goes off to him. His effort was not reward with birds.

BRACE 2: ROWDY BO DANDY-GERARDY/ DAKOTA SUN-NAKAMURA: This brace was turned loose in the Bear Trap Meadow. Rowdy quickly was on a picturesque point. Sun went by him and took out the covey. Rowdy was probably thinking, "Those are my birds!" and went also.

BRACE 3: J&M SUGAR BABE-CRAWFORD/ WAYSIDE BLUERIDGE RUNNER-LONGFELLOW: See above remarks.

Brace 4: TLM Pete Nocona-Milam/Rusty Ridge Lucky Strike-Kilpatrick: Kilpatrick's charge, "Red", was previously reported. Pete had one find with good style. He tired at the 50 minute mark but gathered himself and finished well.

BRACE 5: TLM CO PILOT (HANK)-GERARDY/CHECOTE (COCO)-NAKAMURA: These two were turned loose in the Bear Trap Meadow. They attacked the course with gusto, alternating big forward casts. Hank was found standing 200 yards to the front in the meadow northeast of the Airport. He was high on both ends with perfect manners. He carded a second find on the east side of the tree line leading to Pond 4. The scout missed him late in the brace. He tired and was close at time. Coco was primarily forward but had a few big lateral casts. She had a find at 57 with good manners. Hank was in the vicinity during the course of this find but left the area. Coco finished well.

BRACE 6: BRITTMONT JACKSON-MURPHY/WINDUCK ROCKET'S RED GLARE-MILAM: Both dogs were misplaced early and not returned to judgment. The only entertainment this brace was an amazing display of unconventional horsemanship by Claude Kilpatrick. I have not seen this dismount trick before.

BRACE 7: TJ'S PRAIRIE BLIZZARD-RANKIN/TLM HIDDEN MONEY-MILAM: These two weren't beating anyone and they were retired early.

BRACE 8: TJ'S THUNDER-RANKIN: This was a bye brace. Thunder was impressive but had no birds.

TEXAS AMATEUR

ALL AGE BRITTANY CHAMPIONSHIP

February 22-23, 2014

Cool, Crisp mornings and sunny skies greeted us in north Texas this February for the sixteenth running of the Texas Amateur All Age Brittany Championship. Though a small club, the West Texas Brittany Club always puts on a quality event filled with good food and good times. Many thanks go to Claude and Jan Kilpatrick, Mike and Bonnie Pirtle, Tom and Linda Milam and Trey Baer for all of the work involved. Special thanks to Purina for once again sponsoring this event. The ProPlan food provided by Purina fuels many of our Brittany champions, including the winner of this event.

The West Texas Brittany Club was most fortunate to have Ed Tillson and Jessica Carlson in the Judges' saddleS for this year's running. Both of these guys have experience in the winner's circle for this Championship. Ed Tillson, who is now a professional trainer, handled Tequila With A Twist "Taryn" to earn the spurs for their win in 2006. Taryn's owner, Jessica Carlson, earned her spurs by handling TJ's Prairie "Blizzard" to his 2010 Championship win. Blizzard was bred by Ed and successfully handled by Jessica to many wins.

Running of the Recognized

Following up his win at the ABC National Amateur Championship to top this event was NAFC/FC/AFC Wimberley Rowdy Bo Dandy, owned by John and Ginger Gay. While John has been recovering from a fall last year, Rowdy has been successful under the whistle of several helpful volunteers from amongst the Brittany community. Harlan Gerardy was his pilot for this win, though Rowdy was able to "do his thing" without needing to be over-handled or directed.

2014 TEXAS AMATEUR ALL AGE BRITTANY CHAMPIONSHIP

Back: Judges Jessica Carlson and Ed Tillson, Linda Milam, Jim Crawford, Mike Pirtle, Claude & Jan Kilpatrick
Front: NAFC/FC/AFC Wimberley "Rowdy" Bo Dandy, H: Harlan Gerardy, FC TLM CoPilot "Hank", S: Tom Milar
Flatrock Five Alarm "Charlie", O: Bonnie Pirtle and FC/AFC Highpoint Blazin' Lamont "Blaze", H: Trey Baer

Breaking away into a big open meadow in the second brace of the stake, rowdy impressed with his fast and forward opening, then handled smoothly through a gate and long tree-line chute. Into the next open area, Rowdy disappeared to the front and was soon found standing on point, where he exhibited fine style throughout the flush and shot. He was strong and forward-moving for the first half, then out of pocket at a sharp turn near the back end of the course, but soon returned with his scout to continue the hour. He finished with plenty of steam and set the standard for the rest of the contenders.

Gerardy doubled his good fortune with his own dog, FC TLM Co Pilot. On Thursday "Hank" won the Open All Age stake of this trial to finish his Field Championship over a field of 25 contenders. In the Championship Hank ran in the 5th brace which was the first brace out on Sunday morning. He broke away from camp and handled the first few turns in the course well to the front. He was out of sight as we neared the windmill, but after his bracemate continued forward, Harlan was called to the front as both dogs were found standing. Only a dead bird was located at this spot, but Hank continued his hour in a consistent fast forward manner with well located finds at 18, 20, and 40. He demonstrated independence and a thorough searching manner throughout his hour to earn the runner-up Champion position.

Pressing the winners in this stake were 3rd place finisher DC Flatrock Five Alarm "Charlie", handled by Kim Hall for owners Mike and Bonnie Pirtle; and 4th place FC/AFC Highpoint Blazin' Lamont, "Blaze" handled by Trey Baer for owners Ben Kuykendall and Bunny Brown. Charlie and Kim were teamed up for the first time, and though not always on the same page, Charlie scored two extremely stylish finds and covered the course with vigor. Blaze was fast on the ground and made some good moves for newcomer Trey. He was braced with Hank in the fifth brace and was also found standing to the front after the windmill on the first course, exhibiting high style on point. His finish was particularly strong as he took full advantage of an open meadow to demonstrate power and great range at the end of his hour.

MEMBERS OF THE AMERICAN BRITTANY CLUB

Give the gift of a new membership... to give the opportunity to someone to learn about and participate in the American Brittany Club.

This membership campaign is really quite simple, we are asking every member to donate/sponsor a membership in the American Brittany Club. This "gifted" membership might be to a puppy purchaser, or a friend/acquaintance who has a Brittany. All of us encounter people who may just need a little encouragement to become members.

This can work, but it is totally dependent upon your support. Please use the ABC application form in the back of the magazine to enroll a new member today. You may donate/sponsor multiple new memberships. The names of new members & ABC sponsors will be published in the magazine on a quarterly basis.

THIS IS OUR CHANCE TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE!
