VOLUME LXVII • NUMBER 11 • NOVEMBER 2015

Objective and Purpose:

To promote cooperation and friendship among the breeders and owners of Brittanys and to encourage higher standards in breeding, training and showing of Brittanys in the field and in the show ring; to discourage the breed from becoming split into groups of "field dogs" and "show dogs" and to strive to keep it forever a "dual dog".

Barn Hunt (Part 2) – Another Stimulating Activity to Enjoy With Brittanys

(By Bernadette Antle, Long Beach, California)

The AKC allows Barn Hunt titles to be added to your dog's name beginning with Novice (RATN). At our first trial, I entered Bella for Instinct and Novice runs. She passed the Instinct level in 28 seconds – RATI earned, brown ribbon awarded. On her first Novice attempt, she peed in the ring (NQ). A lot of dogs do this and, despite the fact that soiled straw is removed and the area spritzed with Simple Green, it can create a chain reaction.

Walk your dog a few times before your group is called to the Blind.

After lunch, she earned one leg toward her Novice title. This was exciting, but there was more. Dog sport/hunt aficionado, Vicki, thought to check the listings. There are “listings?” I had no idea. Bella placed third in her class in Novice – yellow ribbon. Jada, placed 4th. Thrilled, we left with two ribbons! In March 2015 Bella earned her Novice Title, placing in each of her qualifying runs, third and second place. Red ribbon, yellow and one purple/white ribbon for New Title earned came home with us. Dog wall looks promising!

Baci running between hay bales during a Barn Hunt

As your dog levels up, prerequisites apply, time allowed and difficulty increase. In Open (RATO), you get two minutes and 30 seconds. However, they up the ante with the placement of the rat tubes and more difficult tunnels. There are two rat tubes to find out of four tubes. The Tunnel is dark and will contain one turn with exit not readily visible. There may be more than one official tunnel. If your dog has enjoyed agility, he will LOVE this.

In Senior (RATS) you get the same 2.5 minutes to complete one climb, one tunnel containing two to three turns and correctly identify four (out of eight) rat tubes. At least one section of the course will have bales stacked four high. Many dogs ‘get stuck’ for a while in Senior. You still need only qualify in three legs to achieve the title.

In Master (RATM) qualifying legs increase to five for title. The level of difficulty increases with 10 tubes, all containing litter. The number of rat tubes to litter tubes changes with each competitor. You will not be told how many rats are in the course. Could be one, could be 10. The time allotted to execute one climb, one tunnel and correctly identify when all rats have been found increases to four minutes and 30 seconds.

Champion (RATCH) requires 10 additional qualifying legs from the RATM Class. Champion X (RATCHX) requires 10 additional qualifying RATM legs after attaining the RATCH Class. After that, you are ready for Nationals!

Trials: What You Will Need Many of you are seasoned dog trial attendees. This is for the Newbies like me out there. I learn something new at each trial I attend, sometimes, the hard way. So far, in Southern California, Barn Hunt has not jumped on the vendor bandwagon. At dog shows, you may likely find everything from pet stores to food trucks. This has not been my experience at BH. Barn Hunt trials are typically held outdoors on ranches. Plan to be there for most, if not all of the day. Get there early to set up. In addition to the standard stuff: dog crate, water, bowl, a chair for you, bring shade/shelter! (I emphasize the first sentence of this paragraph). Depending on the time of year and location, shade/shelter may be provided. Assume it won't. If you don't need it, you can leave it in the car. I arrived at my first trial in December with my dog's crate packed with snacks, blanket, water and bowl, and a chair to sit in for myself. Our practice location has trees and shade canopies. The trial was held at Silver Rose's sister ranch. Set-up was on a beautiful grassy area that provided absolutely no escape from the California sun. By 10 a.m., trial aficionado Vicki was lugging over a big umbrella she happened to have in her car. I happen to have a small beach cabana that pops up in a few minutes. One of my favorite parts of trial day is to take in all the accoutrements that come with each competitor. From dome-shaped, shade enclosures (dog and people sized) to canopies sporting shade sailcloth to block the sun from all angles, it's there! Bring a beach umbrella or bring a portable shade shelter – up to you.

Lesson No. 2: They don't always break for lunch and if they do, you may be in a location not convenient to restaurants. Pack a small cooler with an ample supply of snacks and of course, more water than you think you need for both yourself and your dogs.

Lesson No. 3 – ground cover: Set-up areas are often on dry or dusty dirt, a muddy field, or asphalt rather than grass. In addition to shelter and food, I pack a lightweight beach mat. This gives my dog a comfortable place to lie down when out of the crate, as well as a comfortable, clean place to relax between sets, which, at least starts off insect-free.

Jewel focused on finding the rat.

Lesson No. 4 – attire: Leave the suit jackets and pantyhose home. Barn Hunt attire should be comfortable and easy to move in. Word to the wise, I wore a pair of very comfortable athletic sandal hybrids to my first trial. By mid-morning, my feet were covered in dust, by afternoon, mud from the leaking fan mister in the Hide, and before the end of the day I was shaking tiny bits of gravel out of my shoes. I recommend a pair of comfortable boots or a pair of closed running shoes. And don't forget a utility cart to transport all this "stuff" back and forth in. Seasoned dog sports people know that a day at a trial is a bit like a camping trip.

Barn is suitable for dogs and handlers across the board. In my limited experience thus far, I have shared the Blind with everyone from Agility and Conformation champs to lure-coursing competitors. Got a dog that's titled in just about everything, a senior who still wants to run but might not be up for agility competition, a rescue that wants to come too, no time to make it to locales that require travel by RV or motel stays? Barn Hunt is the next thing for you!

Bernadette Antle lives in Long Beach, California with her two Brittany's, Baci (TK's Kissed By A Star [future RATI]) and Bella (TK's Tru Angels Among Us, RATN). According to Barn Hunt Breed Statistics, Jada and Bella are the only Brittany's in California to hold Barn Hunt titles. Bella is the first Brittany in California to earn the RATN title. Besides enjoying Barn Hunt competition,

Tri-Valley Field Trial Area, Dresden Ohio By Kent D. Patterson

Snow, ice, sun, rain, mud, fog.....depending on when you were braced in the Pennsylvania Shooting Dog Championship, you experienced some or all of the above conditions. The fact that the championship was even being held was somewhat of a miracle since the prior week saw 24 inches of snow and closed interstates in central Kentucky. The Dresden area was spared, to some degree, with only 3 inches realized from the storm. The hard work of David Webb, Chris Rider, Brian/Helen Riggle, Brian Hendrickson and countless others made for a quality event that was conducted with participant safety as priority. Mark Calder of Frederick, MD and Kent D. Patterson of Franklin, TN were in saddle to look over the field of 29 entries from professional trainers, Jimmy Johnson, Tom Tracy Jr., Bob Burchett, as well as, amateur handlers Lisa Pollock, Tommy Thomas, Troy Hoverter, Wade Haines and Bill Gorman.

We also want to thank the Nestle-Purina company for their continued support of this and other trials and championships. This support helps us to continue showcasing our dogs and the sport as well as providing the winners with top quality Purina products.

DAY 1 – OVERCAST SKIES, 36 DEGREES, SNOW COVERED GROUNDS.

BRACE 1: HAP'S SPICE RUM BECKHAM (BECKHAM) – JOHNSON; STARLIGHT'S CLOUD TITAN (TITAN)-BURCHETT. Beckham and Titan shot down the hill and disappeared over the rise. Beckham was absent over the early portions of the course with a non-productive at 30. Titan was at moderate range over the first half of the course with Bob electing to pick him up at 30. Beckham finished nicely near camp with no birds to his credit.

BRACE 2: WILD MTN'S HEAD EM UP- MOVE EM OUT (ROWDY) – BURCHETT; WHISKEY'S LITTLE TIP (TIP) – JOHNSON. Tip and Rowdy were excited to get started with both dogs having a nice ground race and pattern over the early portions of the course. Rowdy pointed a dead bird early then had a stylish clean find at 40. He slowed a bit over the last 10 minutes. Tip had no birdwork in his hour.

BRACE 3: DIAMOND HILL'S STORMCAT (STORM) – POLLOCK;RICCOCHET GUNSMOKE MR. DILLON (DILLON) – BURCHETT. Storm probed the cover over the early portions of the course with a non-productive at 12. Dillon was credited with a back in the first 30 minutes but subsequently picked up for not-backing in the second half of the hour. Storm was not pleasing Lisa by the 40 minute mark and got the rope.

BRACE 4: GUNRUNNERS DAKOTA BUCKSHOT (BUCK) – TRACY; TNT'S BLAZING SHOSHONI SHAKE N BAKE (BUBBA) – THOMAS. Buck and Bubba was somewhat a contrast in styles with Buck treating the Tri-Valley grounds like he was out on the Dakota prairies making big swings, disappearing and showing to the front. Bubba's search was more controlled and systematic with a stop to flush to his credit. Buck remained wide with no birdwork.

BRACE 5: BRENDIBROOKS COWBOY UP (TUFF)-TRACY; KARO N WRIGLEY'S BELIEVE IT (RYNE)-JOHNSON. This was a nice brace of competitors both being wide and fast over the early portions of the course. Ryne made a big move around behind the pond and his first 30 minutes was lighting the place up. Unfortunately, that pace combined with snow and ice took a toll on his pads resulting in a close moderate finish. He had a stylish find at 41. Tuff is a young dog showing a lot of promise. He made it through the first find...the second find with a bird back over his head was a little too much temptation.

BRACE 6: LOST CREEK SHOT OF BOURBON (STREAK)-TRACY; HOPE'S CHIEF OF CROSSCREEK (CHIEF)-BURCHETT. Streak and Chief were the last brace of the day both strolling around nice over the first 15 minutes with Chief having a stylish find and Streak having a non-productive. They were both together at 25 high on a hillside with birds and dogs going in all directions to end everyone's hour.

DAY 2: RAIN OFF AND ON ALL DAY, MELTING SNOW DETERIORATING TO MUDDY CONDITIONS.

BRACE 7: REMMI-JOHNSON; SNIKSOH LITTLE DIAMOND (KATE)-BURCHETT. Remme was a handful from the start with Jimmy working diligently to get things under control...he gave up at 35. Kate sailed around the course in a flowing manner showing beautifully in the right places. She was rewarded with a stylish find at 36. She maintained the front throughout the hour, only a limited finish kept her from finishing higher in the placements.

BRACE 8: FINN MACCUHAL (MAC)-GORMAN; CEDAR VALLEY SPIDER (SPIDER)-TRACY. Mac and Spider were busy over the early hill and dales with Mac having an extended relocation effort leading to a find at 18. He was out of pocket over portions of the middle of hour and under a bird at 59 to end his opportunity. Spider was plenty of dog over the hour with big wide swings and speed. Unfortunately, he had no bird work.

BRACE 9: BLAZIN SHADOW'S BAMA JAMA (JAMMIE)-BURCHETT; SCOUT-HOVERTER. Scout moved well in the early going and found standing at 7. A wet bird proved to be just a little too much temptation to end his hour. Jammie had a find with all in order at 15 but with a race that was slowing by the time we reached 40, Bob elected to pick up.

BRACE 10: PERFECT BY NATURE (NATE)-TRACY; SHAMROCK'S SIRIUS II (TWO)-HAINES. Two had an early mishap with a wet bird at 5. Nate was impressive over the first half of the hour with a find at 22. As with many in the field, the snow/ice/rain/mud took a toll on his second half performance.

Brace 11: Augustus of Tiger (Gus)-Tracy; Touch of Bourbon Little Chug (Carson)-Burchett. If it wasn't for bad luck, Carson wouldn't have any...a bird with a death wish, likely an escapee from a near-by holding pen had made its way to breakaway hill chute. It presented itself to Carson and he accepted the meal to end his day in less than 30 seconds. Gus maintained a forward race being seen from time to time across the hills to the back creek crossing. The rain and cold began to impact his race and style on a find at 41 but he pushed on in an admiral fashion to finish up front.

DAY 3 – FOG DELAY UNTIL 12 NOON.

BRACE 12: GLADE RUN NUTMEG (MEG)-TRACY; WRIGLEY'S BODEMEISTER (BODIE)-BURCHETT. Meg is a beautiful tri-color female that can scoot...she left breakaway in a hurry and didn't look back. She was counted out for time at 25. Bodie was busy over the first quarter of the hour having a dead bird find at 12...a non-productive at 20. Bob decided to cash it in at 32.

BRACE 13: WILD MTN'S MIDNIGHT RENDEZVOUS (JOSEY)-BURCHETT; TNT'S RAISE 'N A RUCKUS (RAE)-THOMAS. Josey and Rae were a pleasure to watch under sunny clearing skies. Josey was standing at 25 but self- relocated during the flushing attempt. Rae was consistently probing cover over the entire hour with intense and well-mannered finds at 12, 40, 50 and 55. She finished good fashion.

BRACE 14: DIAMOND HILL'S WORK HARD PLAY HARDER (GIN)-POLLOCK; SNIKSOH SALLY (SALLY)-BURCHETT. The sun was finally warming horses, dogs, birds, and humans as Gin and Sally set forth in the quest for the title. Sally's effort ended at 7 under a bird. Gin's effort ended at 12, self-relocating during a flushing attempt.

BRACE 15: LET'S GET-R-DONE NELLIE (NELLIE)-BURCHETT. The best conditions of the championship were available to Nellie as we left the hill at 3:15 and she took full advantage of all benefits showing an even and consistent race conducted up front over the entire hour. A stylish and well-mannered find at 37 began to shape an hour that was starting to have that special feeling. She claimed the title, at time, by powering up a distant hill and going out of sight.

How to Feel Better About Yourself In One Easy Step By Kent D. Patterson

Over the next 60 days, each person reading this article will spend time with family and friends around the Thanksgiving table, open Christmas gifts containing field trial items you just couldn't live without and then, in short order, wrestle with a list of New Year resolutions that you really, really, really intend to keep even though the new list seems eerily similar to the list you labored over 12 months ago.

For members of the American Brittany Club, each holiday conversation begins with someone asking "How are the dogs?" launching hours of dialogue about days afield, puppies, and upcoming litters that will surely produce the next National Champion. Stories from Booneville, Ionia, the prairies, favorite hunting coverts.....the golden days of fall or winter's bitter cold training runs in preparation for the spring season.

I now challenge you to consider the holidays with none of the above conversations or memories....how different your life would be without your dogs.....not witnessing that special moment when a canine athlete raised the hair on the back of your neck, the friends never made, and the road not traveled.

Might I offer an easy addition to your New Year's resolution list that doesn't require you to count calories or call that relative you really don't want to talk with.....an item you can put atop your list and accomplish in less than 60 seconds..... a financial gift to the Brittany Field Trial Hall of Fame in Grand Junction, TN.

The Brittany Field Trial Hall of Fame is dedicated to preserving the past and protecting the future for sporting dog fanciers the world over. There is a multitude of ways to support the Hall of Fame. It's possible, to setup a payment plan over a period of years at the gold, silver, or platinum level to assure you are counted among those that gave back to the sport. Consider donating a plaque in memory of a living or deceased individual that was instrumental in your field trial journey or, the ultimate in consideration, designating some portion of your estate for the advancement of the breed and sport. As a Brittany club, consider a donation in the club's name.

As a "one-time-only" holiday special, I'm offering a bonus item for your list....."Go To The BFTHOF Museum!" A great time to visit is during the Hall of Fame induction ceremonies in February of each year. The remarkable and wonderful story of the American Field Brittany is on display with the notable people, places, and dogs that paved the way to the present.

Please visit the Brittany Field Trial Hall of Fame website at www.brittanyfieldtrialhalloffame.com and click on the "Fund Raising" tab... find the donation form link and you will immediately feel better about yourself....I guarantee it! ... OH...don't forget to go the refrigerator and check it off your list....after all, it may be the only checkmark you get to make this year☺.

A SPORTSMAN'S RAMBLINGS

by Marty Garrell

Summer is a great time for birders, though it's sometimes downright hazardous for the birds themselves. A couple of weeks ago we got a close-up visual on a hen black duck crossing a local state highway with her ducklings as we swerved onto the other shoulder of the road. The day before, I positively identified a fledgling crested flycatcher when I picked it up in my hand. The bird was huddled behind the front wheel of a car in the driveway. Fortunately, I hadn't started the car yet and the little fellow fluttered off into the shrubbery.

On the South Shore of Long Island or the North Shore of Boston this is the season of the well-protected piping plover, currently a success story for conservation. Plover populations are recovering from all time lows, (For example, they're up by a factor of at least two on Revere Beach, Massachusetts, according to the Boston Globe.) but the long distance-traveling migrants are nevertheless the target of complaints by beachgoers and buggy riders asked to detour around their nest sites. Sorry, folks, but we're the intruders on their beaches; anyway the plovers will be on their way again soon enough.

Bird protection, accepted by all but a few who resent intrusions on their "way of life", is common in our region. An eastern grasslands ecosystem, for example, is now being established on Cape Cod, around Falmouth, where hopes of saving the grasshopper sparrow and reestablishing native bobwhite and meadowlark populations run high. This effort comes far too late, unfortunately, for the eastern prairie chicken, a species that was once native from the mid-Atlantic up through New England. Populations collapsed by the mid-19th century on Long Island and became fully extinct when the last birds died on Martha's Vineyard in the 1930s.

Some birders travel extraordinary distances to put birds on life lists although outdoors persons in certain areas see these species all the time. At a college reunion in late May we met a couple of intrepid birders who had traveled all the way east from California; they were headed into northern maritime Canada in search of spruce grouse. We told them about a couple in the Adirondacks who are managing an area of several thousand acres of spruce grouse habitat that was hundreds of miles closer. Birders from Paumonok are impressed by tales of the melodious bobolinks and meadowlarks that nest in the fallow fields on our property upstate.

You have a different identification scheme for your birds, however, if you train and work with bird dogs, particularly the pointing breeds. Very young, inexperienced pups will point everything (not only birds---also, butterflies, skunks, turtles, opossum, etc.) and we ignore the little grey, little brown, or little black guys that flit in front of them. Warblers, sparrows, wrens? Who knows what they are? We're waiting for a solid point on a game bird. "Tweety" birds or "stink" birds don't count---usually. Long ago in an "unofficial" field trial in Manorville, I was judging a friend's Brittany and we were having a terrible time getting good work on the quail we'd put out. Out in one field was a huge flock of blackbirds and I joked that I wished they were bobwhite. "If you want, I'll send her out, and she'll point 'em, clean," said our friend. I told him to go ahead and send the dog, the Brit pointed and held point for the flush and shot, and I (somewhat sheepishly) credited the find!

Then there are woodcock! Birders often seek out nocturnal woodcock in the springtime when the flight birds come north and the males court the hens. The "peent" calls, like Bronx cheers, are unmistakable. The flights follow ancient shorelines, now often inland, cross waterways, and the six-ounce bundles of energy show up in many places, e.g., Shelter Island and even Central Park, but are seldom actually seen---unless you have a pointing dog on the ground.

In central New Hampshire we had our last field trial of the season in the Pemegewasset river basin and drew the last brace on a very hot Saturday afternoon. The scent of the quail that were put out was very poor and Janet's dog, Missy, was about to go birdless. Suddenly here she was, stacked up on point in an anomalous spot, a birch copse in the middle of a field. Jan dismounted, walked beyond the dog on point, and out fluttered a woodcock hen, trying to distract attention from either her nest or perhaps her chicks. Jan fired the blank pistol, then gingerly walked the dog many yards away where Missy could be released to go on hunting. Missy would be placed third among 14 dogs, despite having no quail finds. Amazingly, trained mostly in central Pennsylvania, Missy had never seen a woodcock before!

Birders could have lots of fun, we think, if they occasionally followed bird dogs!

Specialty Shows

TIDEWATER
Hampton, VA
May 23, 2015

Tidewater Brittany Club's designated specialty was held on Saturday, May 23, 2015, in conjunction with Langley Kennel Club. The Memorial Day Cluster, held at the Hampton Roads Convention Center, Hampton, Virginia, included four days of shows hosted by Langley and Virginia Beach Kennel Club.

Ms. Terry Hilliard did a fine job of judging our sweepstakes, selecting Sigbrit's Grand Slam as Best in Puppy Sweepstakes and Sigbrit's See No Evil as Best of Opposite, both owned by Bobbie Sigmund and Jeffery Currier. From our Sweepstakes Veterans, she chose GCH Dogwood Hollow Bengal Zero Zero, owned by J. and Aaron Burlingame and Geri Clements, as Best. CH Canipat Happy Belle De Kstar, JH owned by Kathy Shannon, was Best of Opposite Sex.

Brian Meyer then took over to judge the classes, non-regulars, and Best of Breed competition. Winners Dog was Sigbrit's Grand Slam and reserve went to Dogwood Hollow Woodland Spirit, owned by Frank Watters, Geri Clements and Cheryl Mika.

Mr. Meyers tapped Wild Mtn's ShakeYaGrooveThing, owned by Helen Riggle, and Linda, Roy, and Kristyn McCartney, as Winners Bitch, Best of Winners and Best of Opposite Sex over two bitch specials for a 4 point major. Brigadier's Molly's Little Dolly CA DJ, owned by Albert and Gloria Stellwag and Page Giebel, was reserve.

GCH Dogwood Hollow Bengal Zero Zero again distinguished himself by winning Best of Breed. The ten-year-old veteran, as spry as a young dog, went on to a Group 4. He followed this with a Group 2 on Sunday.

GCH Labyrinth N Illusion Slippery When Wet, JH owned by Karen Hanson, competing out of the Hunting Dog Class, was honored with Select Dog and Best Owner Handled Dog, later placing second in the Owner Handled Group. Select Bitch was GCH Dogwood Hollow Irish Blessing, owned by Gar and Geri Clements and Cheryl Mika.

After breed competition, Kathy Shannon exhibited her brood bitch CH Canipat Happy Belle de KStar, with her two offspring.

We extend special gratitude to Ms. Terry Hilliard who traveled from Pennsylvania to overlook our sweepstakes dogs.

We were pleased to offer our exhibitors a spacious venue with reserved prime grooming space complete with electrical hookups, generously provided by Langley. With proximity to Langley AFB, historic Fort Monroe, and beautiful beaches, the Convention Center was the perfect location for a Memorial Day visit. We thank all who supported our entry and hope you were able to enjoy some of the special attractions in the area. And we hope to see you back next year.

Specialty Show Chair

LA SALLE

Grayslake, IL
June 13, 2015

Big changes happened this year for the LaSalle Brittany Club specialty show held on Saturday June 13, 2015. First, we had a new location at the Lake County IL fairgrounds in conjunction with the Little Fort KC All Breed shows on Friday and Sunday. Secondly, LaSalle hosted two specialties this year. This gave competitors four chances at points/BOB in three days. The response from those who attended was overwhelmingly positive.

We would like to thank our breed judges, Mrs. Virginia Murray and Mr. Clay Coady as well as our Sweeps judge Mr. Ed Fojtik. Mrs. Lorraine Gawlik was once again our show secretary/ring steward and did her customary outstanding job. We also want to thank everyone who came out to support the shows. Everyone was very patient and helpful as we figured out how to operate at the new site. Many also had a lot of fun dressing for the occasion in our 1970's themed morning show. A HUGE thank you to the show committee volunteers who have worked so hard for many months to make these shows top notch. The trophies, raffle, food and everything was supported so well by these volunteers. Congratulations to all the winning Brittany's, their owners and their breeders.

The day had many highlights. Congratulations to GCH CH Triumphant's As Good as it Gets JH, owned by Linda McCartney-Roy and Kristyn McCartney, who was selected BOB for both specialties and the two all-breed shows. The morning show crowned two new champions: A Wee Trace of Weller (Winner's Dog) owned by Jennifer and Gary Robbins and Trio's Sovereign Alleluia JH (Best of Winners) owned by Dawn and Joe Droel. Trio's Sovereign Alleluia also won Best of Opposite in both shows. Sweepstakes was a family affair. GCH CH Star Flight Frankly My Dear RN CGC was selected as Best Puppy in Sweeps, while his sire, GCH Star Flight Jumpin Jack Flash RN OA OAJ CGC and dam, GCH CH Lyric's Shilo BN RN CGC, won Best in Veteran Sweeps and Best of Opposite in Veteran Sweeps respectively.

Our show was again held in conjunction with the Houston World Series of Dog Shows in the vast NRG Center building, thankfully in the air conditioning! The building hosted not only five days of conformation shows but agility, obedience, rally, flyball competition and this year barn hunt. A person could spend two or three days just enjoying these events and not have time to shop at the huge number of vendors, over 100, displaying their wares.

As usual, some of our local Texas Coastal and Alamo members came with Brittansys to the Meet the Breed ring and we thank Steve Hintzel, Willo Barfield, Sandy and Tom Schrank and Anne & Marla Parchman for making some fine dogs available for the public to see – young dogs, older dogs, orange/white and liver/white – a good representation of the breed.

We especially want to thank Purina for their attendance of this amazing weekend and, like all sporting events they sponsor, we couldn't have premier events like this without their financial support.

Our sweepstakes judge, Mrs. Nancy Pincus had a small but quality entry of five young Britts and selected Decartier's Dash of Ginger, owned by Cole Carter of Coppell, TX. Best of Opposite Sex was awarded to her littermate J&M High Flyer owned by Willo Barfield of Bulverde, TX.

Mrs. Benny Conboy of Tomball, TX judged the regular classes and breed. Our entry was down this year but we did have a 4-point major in bitches. From the classes, Big Oak's Maximus of Johnson's Hardwood Daybreak, owned by Suzanne Sparrow and Louise Brown, received Winners Dog. Winners Bitch and Best of Winners went to Hickory Hill's Love Song SH owned by Willo Barfield and Anne Parchman.

Of the four champions, GCH Rainbow Splash's Ruggedly Handsome, owned by Jim and Alisa Andras, C. and K. Hogan and A. Cone garnered the Best of Breed. CH My Dual Lanes Let Freedom Ring STKS owned by Sandra and Tom Schrank received Best of Opposite Sex. GCH Big Oaks Mamma Mia's Star Sophia owned by Barbara Brannan received Select Bitch.

AND, we must not forget our Junior Showmanship competition judged by Mr. Larry Chu. Christina Coe, Anne Parchman's granddaughter, took the trophy home for Best Junior Handler.

Our usual ring stewards, Sandy Faulkner, who came down from Arkansas, and Barbara Steel, keep the show ring going every year and we thank them immensely.

We also thank everyone who attend our show and we hope to see you again next year!

Current Veterinary Clinical Trials

CLEFT LIP AND/OR PALATE

UCDAVIS

VETERINARY MEDICINE
Veterinary Center for Clinical Trials

■ Background

- Cleft lip and/or cleft palate are developmental defects that result in the failure of the roof of the mouth to properly form. This results in an inability to properly nurse and often leads to euthanasia. The aim of this study is to identify the genes responsible for these birth defects and prevent them in future litters.

■ Participation Requirements

- Brittany's with a cleft lip and/or cleft palate; or,
- Parents or littermates of dogs with a cleft lip and/or cleft palate

■ Procedures

- Collection and submission of a whole blood sample by you or your veterinarian for DNA analysis

■ Owner Responsibilities

- Submission of the blood sample

■ Benefits

- Although there are no direct benefits to participating in this study, understanding the genetic basis of such a defect will allow for the prevention of it in future litters.

8 oz. Velveeta Cheese
1 pkg frozen chopped broccoli;

1 can cream of mushroom soup
1 small chopped onion
1 celery stalk, chopped

PHEASANT NACHOS

1/2 pound bacon
1 large onion
4 pheasant breasts (or chicken breasts)
1/3 bottle Zesty Italian dressing
Scoop tortilla chips
Grated cheese
Salsa of your choice
Chop bacon, onion and pheasant into 1/3-by-1/3-inch pieces. In large fry pan, cook bacon and onions over medium high heat. When about half done, add pheasant and Zesty Italian dressing. Cook until all ingredients are done and dressing is reduced. Lay out Scoop tortilla chips on either microwave-safe plates or a cookie sheet. Scoop ingredients into tortilla chips. Brittany Field Trial Hall of Fame

Ceremony set for New Inductees February 6, 2016

Congratulations to Lane's End Bowtie Annie owned by Tom and Judy Robin from Michigan, Jim Leverich and Tom Milam, both from Texas. They are the 2016 Brittany Field Trial Hall of Fame's newest elected members having earned their way into the Hall of Fame by making a positive and long lasting difference for the betterment of the Brittany breed.

On February 6, 2016 in Grand Junction, TN at the Bird Dog Museum, these three will be inducted. We invite you to attend the ceremony that will honor these worthy candidates and also visit the Brittany Field Trial Hall of Fame wing including a new museum space for Brittany history.

Please consider being a part of our fundraising effort to maintain the space that houses our Hall of Fame members and other Brittany memorabilia. Although we have already paid for the space, we need to build our endowment fund to sustain it.

Every visitor to the Bird Dog Museum has been impressed with what the Bird Dog World has built. Show your support for the new Brittany Field Hall of Fame members and attend the ceremony if you can! You will not be disappointed.

Again, CONGRATULATIONS to Annie, Jim and Tom.

Motel reservations must be made by Jan. 13, 2016.

HUNT TESTS

TIDEWATER South Hill, VA March 28-29, 2015

The Tidewater Brittany Club held their Spring Hunt Test in March at the Dick Cross WMA in Virginia. For the second year in a row, TBC combined the weekend for a double hunt test with the Wilderness Pointing Dog Club. Everyone had a great time and thought it was wonderful to have the chance to possibly qualify their dogs four times on the same weekend. The weather was dry but windy. Comments from the judges on both days were that they saw a lot of really nice pointing dogs of several different breeds over the weekend.

A few Brittanys were noted that finished a Hunt Test Title over the weekend. One is our Junior Handler Johnathan Rose who finished his Halo, Sigbrit's Soulful Eyes on Sunday. Johnathan and Halo have been a team for a couple of years now, and they put it all together for a qualifying score. Great job Johnathan and Halo! Another was Luann Box and her Brittany Cam (Soli Deo's D'Artagnan) also finished his Junior Title, too.

Thank you is not enough thanks for all the hard work that our President Joe Hudgins put out the entire weekend. Joe kept all of us going through the weekend to help make our event such a success. Tom West did his very best to help Joe with any task needed and also did a great job. Don Tellock was wonderful getting the dogs to the line for the judges to keep things moving along. Yvonne McKeag, AGAIN, kept us fed with some tasty and yummy food at every meal both days. Thanks bunches, Yvonne. Our patient Secretary, Tibby Rose, knew what to do to make sure that everything else was a go to keep the event running smoothly. All in all, it was a great weekend for all.

MINNESOTA

Marine, M
May 16-17, 2015

The Minnesota Brittany Club held a Hunt Test with the German Shorthaired Pointer Club of Minnesota, with one test being offered by each club on both Saturday May 16th and Sunday May 17th at Kelly Farm in Marine, MN.

The weather was near perfect on Saturday, and we were thankful to dodge storms on Sunday with just a bit of rain.

We had 3 Junior Handlers running dogs, 2 of them handling Brittany's. Brandon Hammes, a Junior who belongs to the MBC, had his dog receive scores of all 9's on Sunday. Congratulations Brandon!

One of the Brittany's entered finished her JH title qualifying at all 4 tests in the weekend – Sovereign LET IT GO "Elsa" handled by his owner Doug Ziegler. Congratulations!

Thank you to all the volunteers, we couldn't have these events if it weren't for you!

Respectfully Submitted,
Joe Droel, President MBC and Hunt Test Chairman

TRAININ' DOGS

THE OVERPROTECTIVE OWNER

Dogs are a loved and valued member of the family for many of us. We take great pains to make sure they're cared for and healthy, and we do our best to keep them safe from harm. They are our partners in the field and in our homes, and they love bird hunting probably even more than we do, which is a big part of the reason we hunt birds at all. Life just wouldn't be the same without our dogs, and bird hunting would seem, well, "pointless" (groan).

However, being a hunting dog is a fairly high-risk occupation, and it's one that our dogs would choose even without our participation given the opportunity. There are all sorts of pitfalls awaiting our dogs in the field. They can step in holes, get scraped up by barbed wire, be bitten by snakes, tangle with various other critters that can do them harm, get scratched by briars and thorns, tear a toenail and, strain/sprain/break body parts. There is also the possibility of getting into a scuffle with another dog. It happens, and whether the dog is the aggressor or the recipient, they both can incur injuries – usually not severe and more cosmetic than anything. In extreme cases, they can be, and some are, killed.

As hunters following our dogs, we face the same threats. The difference is in the way we handle the issue when they arise. Let's take a barbed-wire scrape for example. If we manage to nick our arm while crossing a fence, leaving an angry red scrape and scab, we will likely clean it up, make a note to check our last tetanus shot, and then laugh off our clumsiness as we tell the story to our hunting companions over dinner later that evening. But what if the dog is the one that gets scraped? That's where differing reactions come in. Most of us will treat the injury and go on, whether it's minor and can be done ourselves or more serious and requiring a trip to town for veterinary attention. The best response is to deal with the injury, take care of the dog, and move on.

Bird dogs that hunt will get scuffed up and scraped up. Dogs that stay absolutely perfect throughout their lives aren't doing much hunting. That's a fact of life, and there's no way to guarantee a dog will never get a scratch or dent. Those are considered honorable scars, earned in the field and on the job, and they add to the dog's character. Every mark tells a tale, so if we can look at scars and recall how they were earned; the story becomes part of the dog's history.

This brings us to the point of our column: the overprotective and over-controlling owner. They come in various forms, and it is our sincere hope that perhaps we can redirect some of their ideas and help them better understand their dogs.

First, and the most rare, is the owner with the perfectly groomed dog who cannot bear to think of a hair out of place, much less losing some of that hair to burrs or a wire fence. The dog's coat and body have to be perfect all the time, and the idea of a permanent scar makes them see their dog as damaged goods. The dog can be doing some brilliant bird work, but if the owner spies a scratch, the dog's good work is forgotten, left in the shadow of the supposed defect. And heaven forbid that the dog should get muddy or roll in something unsavory!

The second type – and this is often combined with the first – is the micromanager. Every detail and every minute of the dog's life is orchestrated, choreographed, documented, and recorded. We absolutely agree that good record-keeping and routines are important for such things as keeping track of vaccinations and vet records and heat cycles and remembering to feed the dog at around the same time. But watching the clock so the feed pan hits the ground at precisely 6:15 p.m. every single day, or weighing every bowel movement and keeping track of that (and yes, we know a few who have actually done that!)? The micro-managed dog has such a strict routine that any slight change often causes mental upset.

Rick Smith has spent a lifetime breeding, training, and handling National Championship bird dogs. His highly popular training seminars teach the "Silent Command System" to dog owners world-wide. During hunting season, Rick can be found on the Mariposa Ranch in south Texas.

Sharon Potter has a strong background in animal behavior, and has been training both horses and dogs for many years, with several National titles to her credit. She is an avid hunter and archer, and in her spare time is working on the first of a series of books on bird dog training with Rick Smith.

The third type (and again, often combined with the first two) is the paranoid owner. These owners are afraid to let the dog range out of sight for fear of losing the dog, and they usually want their dogs to stay within a few yards. Those dogs don't find many birds, mainly because they are kept in so close that the owner is just as likely to walk the birds up. These owners are often guilty of micro-managing their dogs when hunting, using constant hand signals and shouts to direct the dog to go to a specific patch of cover, paying no attention to scent conditions or wind direction, and giving the dog no credit for having a nose. One caveat: Those who have had a dog killed in the field can be forgiven for being a little too overprotective with the next one.

If you're identifying with any of the above types, don't worry. There is a way to change your way of thinking. Go back to your childhood. Did you fall off your bike and skin your knees? Fall while climbing a tree and break your arm? Bump your head and need stitches? Those injuries become part of the story of our lives, part of what makes us interesting and individual. The bumps and bruises and scars are all part of a learning process. The skinned knees helped us become more cautious bike-riders, and the broken arm a better tree-climber. And we'll bet that if you had stitches, you knew exactly how many sutures the doctor put in and your proudly bragged about them to your friends. On the flip side, if you had an overprotective parent that didn't let you climb trees or ply contact sports or take any kind of risk, didn't it make you feel restricted and frustrated because you didn't have that freedom?

While we certainly advocate minimizing the risks our dogs take, we also have to let them learn from their errors. Obviously, that doesn't mean letting them run across a busy road or chase cars. But it may mean letting them run into that first barbed-wire fence, since the fence will educate them and the lesson will be learned, even if it comes with a scar. And it means letting the dog learn that running over and jumping on a strange dog rather than doing a polite sniffing introduction is a good way to get a torn ear. That scar will be a reminder. It's simple pack behavior and part of the social skill set every dog is born with, but they never learn to use it unless given the opportunity. Don't deprive your dog of learning the consequences of its behavior. It's the same kind of educational and social process we as human beings have all gone through.

If we can learn to take the risks in stride and look at them as part of the process instead of as flaws, our dogs will have the freedom to do their jobs better and will enjoy it more. And as we look at our dog years later, the scars are woven into their stories as well as the stories of our families: "See that notch on Phideaux's left ear? He got that when he tangled with Bob's old setter, the same morning we found four coveys up on the south ridge and my son shot his first double."

Scars and scrapes and marks aren't defects. They're memories. Let all the honorable scars be part of the wonderful memories you'll share of hunts gone by, and let dogs be dogs and do what they love best: hunt

None Held Back and Other Bird Dog Stories

Part Five -Isaac Fox

By Tom Word

Remember Isaac Fox? Of course I do. The Mystery Man—that's what we called him. Nobody knew how he made a livin'. He'd just show up for every major circuit trial in a near-new Model T with two dogs—a derby and an all-age. Like as not when the whistle blew to gather us for the announcement, ole Isaac would be in the money. He'd take his check, shake hands all around, pay his scout and rattle down the road. Nobody knew what he did between trials—or during a trial when a dog of his wasn't runnin'. He'd just fade off into the countryside, dogs on the seat beside him. He'd be on the line when his brace was called, but he didn't spend no daylight around the clubhouse. Like everyone in the days before horse trailers, he rented his handlin' horse from a local farmer—always had a good horse 'cause he treated the locals right. Boarded with farmers too—or farmers' widows.

Isaac Fox was a likable little fellow, polite to everybody. Us pro handlers liked him well enough, 'cept we resented his takin' part of our livelihood. Truth is, we were jealous, 'cause Isaac Fox won more than his share of the purses. We couldn't figure how he did it. He had no home trainin' grounds so far as we could figure. In the summer he'd show up and pitch a tent for a few days at most every handler's prairie camp, then move on, always leavin' some money to help with expenses. Only address he ever gave was a post office box in Vermont. But when we came into a town for a trial—we'd be on the train usually in them days—Isaac Fox would be there in his Model T, already settled into the neighborhood, knowin' where every bevy on the grounds roosted.

There was no wasted motion in Isaac Fox, not a lick of laziness. All business he was. But just what his business was, we couldn't figure. We knew it had to be sales, though he never tried to sell us nothin'.

When we'd come into the café for breakfast, he'd have finished his—and read a stack of newspapers. He'd ask how the running had gone the day before, and then take his leave—for the trial grounds if he had a dog to run, for parts unknown if he didn't. Nobody could figure where he went, but we knew it was on some errand of business, in his starched collar and suit creased sharp enough to cut you.

Somebody would get a little likkered up at a drawin' now and then and ask Isaac Fox what his job was. He'd smile and slip into telling a little joke, and before you knew it, everybody was laughing at the questioner—nothin' vicious mind you, just a clever twist on the fellow's name or some unusual feature, like his too-big ears or his red hair.

Yes sir, Isaac Fox had a silver tongue—another reason we figured he was in sales. And we were right, but no one nailed down his line while he lived. It got so the boys took turns trying to follow him, but no one ever caught him pitchin' a sale or carryin' a sample case.

Meanwhile, Isaac kept showin' up for the trials with them two dogs curled up on the seat of that Model T like they owned it. But when Isaac swung up on some farmer's horse and hit his whistle, the dog would take off like a scalded cat and be on the horizon before we got our feet in the stirrups.

We were jealous of Isaac Fox, but we all liked to scout for him, 'cause he paid a bigger slice of his winnings than the usual 10%. And he paid it with a thank you and a handshake, and never a word of criticism, even if you hadn't tried too hard to find his dog on point. (He understood the temptation to slack off if you had already run a dog that had done a good job.)

Folks are all different, but one thing they've got in common is curiosity. Curiosity about Isaac Fox kept us entertained through many a rained-out day. The boys would gather 'round the fire for hours, speculatin' on what Isaac was up to out in his Model T, with them two dogs. He'd come in at dusk, have one drink, share the evening meal and the poker table. He won his share at poker too, but never too much. Lookin' back I guess the thing that sticks out the most about Isaac Fox—besides his secrecy—was his moderation—never did nothin' to excess, except win more purse money with two dogs than any of us could with a full string. Yes sir, Isaac Fox was a piece of work. Like as not, we'd never have knowed what he did for a livin' if he hadn't up and died. Had a heart attack the night of the drawing for the National Championship in 1922. Afterwards we all felt like fools for not figurin' out his line.

The week after Isaac Fox croaked his employer ran a full page tribute in the American Field.

Yes sir, Ole Isaac Fox was a tombstone salesman. We should have knowed it from the names of his dogs: Granite, Marble, Quartz—and his all-time favorite, a rangy old setter named Dead to Rights—call name was Rock.

Them dogs won him money in trials, helped with his sales too, we found out later. Old Isaac would read all the obituaries, then call on the widows exactly two weeks after the plantin'. Isaac had it figured that was the day of the widow's greatest guilt for all the hell she'd given her man. He'd walk up to the widow's front door with those two bird dogs at heel, and the sight of 'em wagging their tails would warm the widow's heart, put her in the mood to buy a fittin' tribute to her Dear Departed.

On the one-year anniversary of a sale, Isaac would be on the widow's porch again with them bird dogs to pay his respects and make sure the merchandise suited. With a full year of grievin' under her corset, the widow would invite Isaac in for tea and cake and who knows what else...only Isaac knows...he was a man who kept his business strictly to hisself.

MEMBERS OF THE AMERICAN BRITTANY CLUB

Give the gift of a new membership... to give the opportunity to someone to learn about and participate in the American Brittany Club.

This membership campaign is really quite simple, we are asking every member to donate/sponsor a membership in the American Brittany Club. This "gifted" membership might be to a puppy purchaser, or a friend/acquaintance who has a Brittany. All of us encounter people who may just need a little encouragement to become members.

This can work, but it is totally dependent upon your support. Please use the ABC application form in the back of the magazine to enroll a new member today. You may donate/sponsor multiple new memberships. The names of new members & ABC sponsors will be published in the magazine on a quarterly basis.

THIS IS OUR CHANCE TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE!
