VOLUME LXVIII • NUMBER 12 • DECEMBER 2016

Objective and Purpose:

To promote cooperation and friendship among the breeders and owners of Brittanys and to encourage higher standards in breeding, training and showing of Brittanys in the field and in the show ring; to discourage the breed from becoming split into groups of "field dogs" and "show dogs" and to strive to keep it forever a "dual dog".

2016 MICHIGAN CHAMPIONSHIP

PURINA
PRO PLAN

The 40th running of the Michigan Brittany Championship was held on April 4-7, 2016. The one-hour Open All Age Championship drew 17 entries. The Open Shooting Dog Championship, also an hour stake, garnered only 9 entries and an even lower number of entries caused us to cancel the Amateur Walking Shooting Dog Championship. There were lots of good young dogs this year resulting in an entry of 13 for the 45-minute Derby Classic.

Michigan's Ionia Recreation Area served as the Championship venue. Although weather was likely the worse prolonged stretch of Mother Nature's fury in April resulting in bitter cold, driving snow, and sleet, the grounds continue to be some of the premier grounds in this part of the country. This is due in no small part to the cooperation between the State of Michigan, Ionia Parks and Wildlife staff, and the Ionia Field Trial Grounds Committee comprised of representatives of all the breed clubs who run there. The weather conditions did not appear to penalize the dogs as we had many noteworthy performances but the horses were worn out by the end of the week due to the wet and muddy grounds.

The Championship is extremely grateful to the support provided by Purina for this event. We appreciate both the financial support and high quality dog food provided to the winners. Our dogs' health and wellbeing is one of the most important factors in preparing a competitive bird dog. We also appreciate our Purina Coordinator, Ray Trimble, for organizing the feed and shipping.

A big thank you goes to all of the hard working members of the Michigan Brittany Championship Association. Morning bird planters for the OAA and OSD were Wade Haines, Ed Janulis, and Ron Gulembo. Dick Lipski handled the morning planting for the derby. They were willingly assisted in those duties throughout the running by many members and participants. Hap Harrison and Dick Lipski once again also served as chefs for the Monday night championship dinner of pasta and meatballs along with grilled venison. Food for lunches were provided and served by Theda Langstaff, Kathy Gulembo, Donna Janulis, Judy Robin, and Judy Marinelli. Tom Kuzczak was the "official" pot stirrer in between his dog wagon services. Tom likes driving the Gulembo mini-van with its space age buttons. It is a mystery what was going on in that van however since at the conclusion of the trial we had an unclaimed pair of rain pants and men's briefs. Not sure if they belonged to the same person or not!

We would like to thank the professional and amateur handlers who come out, year after year, and support this championship. Without the support of professionals Chad Holman and Jimmy Johnson we would not have had enough entries to run any of the stakes. Amateur handlers in the two championship stakes included Ed Janulis, John Hall, Wade Haines, Ray Trimble, Chris Sennott, Jeff Stanton, and Vince Anderson. Additional amateurs participating in the Derby Classic also included Ron Harling Jr., John Marinelli, Tom Robin, and Ron Buchholtz.

The Association would also like to express its appreciation to Will Langley for providing horses and transport. His valuable wrangling service provided horses for some judges and amateur handlers who may otherwise not have been able to participate. Without Will's dedication, it would be even more difficult than already is to find quality judges able to officiate.

Open All-Age Championship

As with all Championships, one of the most important pieces in putting on a good event is hiring great judges. I think we did it right again this year by asking experienced judges from Michigan, Jim Cipponeri who competes with setters and Blake Rizzo who runs German shorthairs, to officiate the Open All Age Championship. Both of these gentlemen gave the dogs their full attention and were great to have at the trial. Their decisions, both during the running and at its conclusion, were well received by all the participants.

Standing out from a field of quality contenders, Whisky's Little Tip emerged as winner of the Open All-Age Championship. Proudly owned by Gaylord and Wes Jowett of Michigan, Tip, who has been on a winning roll, was handled in the last brace by Ohio professional Jimmy Johnson and scouted by Julie Romance. Tip had a forward snappy all-age race that held the judges' and gallery's attention. Unleashed from the Big Oak, Tip scored a find at 6 in the east end of the orchard. He made fast work of the ground through Course 2 and derby course, handling a stop to flush just after the wet crossing. At the Y between cardiac hill and the Boy Scout Bridge Tip made a move to the open fields on the left instead of swinging right up the long hill. Jimmy had to work to pull him forward as he headed towards the gravel pit. Redirected towards Course 1, Tip maintained his drive and groundspeed for remainder of the hour without any further bird contact.

The first brace of the championship had set a high standard as both the runner up and 3rd place dog were braced together to start the stake. The Runner up title was awarded to FC Hap's Spice Rum Beckham owned by Hap Harrison and skillfully handled by Jimmy Johnson. Beckham broke away up the stone wall and rimmed the field to the left. Continuing on, he backed brace mate FC Black Creek Deacon on his find across from the old barn. Beckham pointed at 14 in the Hires' field tree line but only a dead bird could be produced. Moving with a strong forward race, he was found pointing stylishly just before the Boy Scout Bridge. All was in order. Clearing cardiac hill and the derby course, Beckham was picked up at time in the course 2 orchard.

FC Black Creek Deacon, no stranger to the winners circle, received 3rd place for his efforts. With Chad Holman at the helm for owner Ron Harling, Dea broke away across the culvert and swung to the right. He came across the big orchard field on course 1 moving towards Hires' field along the second tree line to the west of the pond where he pointed with style at 7. After clearing Hires field, he moved past the day parking lot and continued onto the championship course. Dea had non-productive at 19. Chad moved him across the Boy Scout Bridge and onto the derby course for a second bird at 38. Dea finished the hour going strong.

Fourth place went to FC Black Creek Blaze, the second Harling owned entry. Also, handled by Chad Holman, Blaze had a bold breakaway from the Big Oak running east to the far end of the old orchard. Point was called at 8 and Blaze handled the bird with good manners. This was Blaze's only find and he finished the hour with a strong race that took a bit more work on Chad's part than the dogs that placed higher.

Open Shooting Dog Championship

The OSD was judged by Al Van Wieren, a Brittany competitor from Illinois with numerous placements to his credit and a seasoned judge. Al has judged this event in years past and we were pleased to have him return. He was originally slated to be joined by Jack Potter but due to a medical situation was unable to do so. We wish Jack continued good progress in his recovery. We were extremely lucky to have experienced judge, Chuck Langstaff, on hand to take over the reins after unforeseen circumstances forced us to replace Jack at the last minute. Chuck, an experienced championship judge, has served as a main stay of the Michigan Brittany Championship Association for many years and is currently the treasurer.

The Open Shooting Dog Champion title was declared for FC Jac's Over Aces handled by Chad Holman and owned by Judy and Ed Graves. The nine year old bested a field of nine to take the title. Although the stake was small, the caliber of the dogs was not lacking and performances of most challenged the winner. Breaking away from the headquarters in the first brace with a strong wide and forward race, Dan scored his first find in Hires' field tree line. Hunting the course naturally without excessive handling, he was found standing to the front on the west edge of the derby course after coming down cardiac hill. He handled the limb find with style and manners. Moving forward with strong groundspeed, Dan carded his third find just four minutes later in the clump of trees just before the wet crossing. He continued to handle kindly past the gun dog parking lot and was again found standing for a fourth time to the front in the orchard on course 2. Dan finished the hour at the big oak.

FC Bark River Queen of Diamonds was awarded the runner-up title. Owned and handled by Jeff Stanton, Daisy once again pleased the judges with her stellar performance. Breaking away from the big oak, she swung to the right taking the tree line forward towards the orchard. Her efforts were rewarded with a find in the orchard. "Lots of style" was a comment from the judge describing the bird work. Moving forward through the orchard and onto the derby course, Daisy had a second find immediately past the wet crossing in about the same spot Dan had his find earlier in the stake. On the top of the derby course before heading up cardiac hill, Daisy pointed but feathers were all that could be produced. Jeff didn't have to fire which was convenient not realizing he lost his gun on the previous find. Amazing since the conditions were so horrible you could barely see the dogs at times, it was found in the next brace. Continuing around the gravel pit, Daisy finished the hour running forward and strong.

Third place was garnered by FC Magnum High Velocity owned by Denise and Vince Anderson and handled by Jimmy Johnson in the last brace as a bye. Breaking away with a pleasing forward race from the headquarters, Gauge had one staunch find on the derby course in the brush clumps just before the wet crossing. The bird was between his back legs so Jimmy had to be creative about flushing. He displayed nice style and manners throughout. His efforts also resulted in one non-productive on the top part of the derby course where there were feathers by a hole in the tree. With a somewhat shortened race, Gauge finished the hour at the Big Oak.

Jimmy Johnson handled Sniksoh Little Diamond to a fourth place. Kate, braced with the runner up in the 4th brace, had a nice forward race hunting the tree lines and objectives that resulted in one find.

Derby Classic

The Derby Classic was judged by long-time Brittany competitor and experienced judge Wade Haines from Ohio along with Al Van Wieren who also judged the OSD and graciously agreed to step in for Ron Auten who hurt his back and was unable to judge. Likely both Al and Wade rued their decision to judge as the weather progressed from terrible to even worse the day of the derby. Wade continues to amaze the rest of us with his ability and willingness to participate at an age well into his 80's. He even stayed and judged the Oliver DeLuca Championship for the pointers and setters the next week.

The Derby Classic was run on course 1, breaking away and picking up at the headquarters using the typical all-age course but swinging towards the gravel pit after the Boy Scout bridge rather than continuing onto course 2. The judges commented that all the placing derbies had excellent groundspeed and they were impressed with the quality of the stake.

Running in the 5th brace, the derby classic winner, Jac's Ray of Sunshine with Chad Holman at the reins and owned by Judy and Ed Graves, broke away with a fast powerful race. His groundspeed carried him to the edges while showing to the front in the right places. While Ray's was not the most mature race of the stake, he exhibited the strongest all-age potential race with the drive to dig further and deeper than any of the other dogs in the stake. His efforts were rewarded with three finds and Chad was challenged to retrieve the birds from Ray.

Ruffwood Algonquin Cedar handled by Jimmy Johnson had application that could not be faulted and was reflective of a mature adult which garnered her the runner up title. Bird work was abundant and Cedar also had three finds pointed with derby manners.

Third place was awarded to Alder Grand Hopes Penny Ante who ran in the last brace as a bye and was also guided by Jimmy Johnson. Penny ran a nice race but fell just short of the top two dogs. Jimmy had to reel her in a few times and she was out of pocket a for a few minutes in the corner of Hires' field. Three finds seemed to be the magic number and Penny's bird count was no exception.

Lane's End Top Gun, owned by Judy and Tom Robin and handled by Tom closed out the placements with fourth. Maverick ran a very forward energetic race with impressive ground speed and good stamina for the entire 45 minutes. From the breakaway Maverick was always to the front. He established point in Hires' field before collecting his trophy and bringing it to his handler. Maverick seemed to have no trouble navigating the course as it changed direction even though he was usually well out in front. Although he was looking in all the right places he did not have any more birdwork. He finished the brace strong and to the front.

ABC PRAIRIE STATE CHAMPIONSHIP SPRING 2016

This was the 29th running of the Prairie State Championships. Many thanks to Purina who generously sponsors these championship venues. Without their support it would be hard to put this all together. This tradition is carried on mainly with the organizational efforts of Jerry McGee and Donna Janulis. This year, Jerry was unable to attend the running due to an illness, but Tommy Thomas stepped up to the plate as on-site chairman. Others, who without their continued help and support of the running of this event are Warren Montgomery, Dave Capstick and Tim Self. Like many trials, the background help needs to be given a debt of gratitude for their tireless work, including dog wagon drivers, bird planters, course marshals, and the cooks who tended the kitchen and the barbeque grills supplying the hungry participants with quality food.

Unlike last year, the weather was cooperative, and we were able to run the following events – open all age championship, open derby classic, region 5 amateur all age championship and open shooting dog championship.

Jim and Janet Chase Memorial Open All Age Championship

The open all age championship started on Tuesday morning with beautiful weather. Birds were plentiful, sometimes too many.

Judges were Howard Burbach and Gailen Cooper. Both reside in Missouri. We thank both of them for their time and attentiveness. First place went to Black Creek Deacon, owned by Ron Harling, Jr., and handled by Chad Holman. Dea started and finished strong, running the edges to completion, with three flawless and nicely spaced finds. Second was Ru-Jem's Last Penny, owned by Jerry and Ruth McGee and handled by Tom Tracy. Penny ran a beautiful race, handling well, with four good finds, one non-productive and one stop on feathers. Both Dea and Penny are no strangers to the winner's circle.

Third went to JJ's Levi the Lionheart. Levi is owned by Joe Williams and for a young dog, has been knocking at the door hard. He had two finds and nice forward run. Fourth was The Ace of Spade owned by Dave Capstick and Tim Self, who recently won the open and amateur Illinois Championship this Spring. Spade ran the second course, birds were not scarce, he had eight finds and finished to the front just below the twin barns in corral field.

The Bill Schreiber Derby Classic

Judges Dave Capstick and Tim Self from Missouri commented before announcing placements on the quality of the dogs, "this was an impressive stake and first and second was a challenging decision."

First was awarded to Whizzle Stop Sammy handled by Bob Burchett and owned by Tom Wonderling of Wisconsin. Second place went to Georgia White Lightening handled by Tom Tracy and owned by Jim Berkowitz of Georgia. These dogs ran together in the third brace with Sammy having the more forward race. Third place was Ammo For My Gun owned by Charles Waites and handled by Bob Burchett who had one find on Apple Tree Hill and run a nice consistent race. Fourth was SKF Miss Cheap Bourbon Whiskey owned and handled by Steven Foster. She was snappy on the ground and had multiple finds.

Region 5 Amateur All Age Championship

Judges were Fred Smith of Missouri and replacement judge Barry Steinmetz of Illinois. We appreciate Barry stepping in at the last moment. We appreciate the participation and support of amateur handlers Tommy Thomas, Joe Williams, Dave Capstick, Tim Self, Ray Trimble, Ed Graves, Chuck Schaefer, Wayne Pepin, Frank Campbell, Burton Wice and Stan Williamson.

First place was awarded to Glade Run Irish, owned by David Webb and handled by Tim Self. Second was Ru-Jem's Last Penny, owned by Jerry and Ruth McGee and handled by Tommy Thomas. Penny had a great week, placing second in both the open and amateur all ages. Irish has three finds (1 divided) and Penny scored three finds and one stop to flush. Both dogs ran strong forward races finishing going away. Third was JJ's Levi the Lionheart owned and handled by Joe Williams. As did Penny, Levi also placed in both the open and amateur all age. He garnered four covey finds, the first one behind Andy Dougherty's house, next by the Twin Barns, another one in the Bull Pasture and the final one at the Clubhouse Loop. He ran his lines well and finished far to the front. TNT's Sirius Renegade Buddy Boy, owned and handled by Tommy Thomas took fourth. He had one divided find with Irish and a back. He had a snappy gait, ran the edges well and finished the hour going away.

Open Shooting Dog Championship

Judges were Stan Williamson and Rhett Burris of Illinois. Rico's Hi Proof Bootlegger took home the blue, owned and handled by Chuck Schaefer. He ran a fast, forward race, stayed on the edges well and covered lots of ground during the hour. He had four finds, all flawless. Ricochet Gunsmoke Mr. Dillon owned by Mickey Condron and handled by Bob Burchett came in second. Dillon had multiple finds and continued with forward casts, running the edges well. Third went to Sniksoh Little Diamond, owned by Tom Wonderling, with fourth going to Sanbar's Legendary Evening, owned by Robert and Carolyn West- both dogs were handled by Bob Burchett. Legendary ran with Mason the winner. This was a great brace to watch with multiple finds and backs. Both dogs ran hard to the front. Diamond was the last dog to run in the stake, had two finds and was easy to handle.

MINNESOTA
Lake Elmo, MN
August 26, 2016

The Minnesota Brittany Club held their specialty Friday afternoon. We were fortunate to have great weather, judges who enjoyed their assignment, and a top notch group of exhibitors and dogs.

I would like to thank everyone for their help in putting on a smooth running show. There are too many to list, but there are a few who need special mention: Karen Listgarten and Christine Ziegler for tackling the ring steward position for the first time, Vicki Lee for putting together a super raffle, and as always, Mary Tyson for the after show pot luck that everyone enjoys each year. Special thanks goes to everyone who so generously donated trophies – without them we could not have provided the stunning Walker Works items.

Our Sweepstakes judge was Carol Jean Hathaway and she gave careful consideration to all the entrants. In Puppy Sweeps her choices were Sovereign's CU Later Copper for Best in Sweeps and Twoemz Business Woman for Opposite. In the Veteran Sweeps, Best in Sweeps went to GCh Ginjac-Magic Me I'm the One BN RN JH with Opposite Ch Bantam's Bravo Duffy SH.

Junior Showmanship and Regular Classes was judged by Dr Ronald Spritzer. He was very thorough with a happy demeanor in the ring. Best Junior Handler went to Hannah Swanson with Dr Jac's Rumor Has It.

In the regular classes, Cookie Peterson's Cash, Confetti's Casting Shadows at Bantam won Winners Dog. Reserve went to the Ziegler's Copper following his Sweeps win. Winners Bitch and Best of Winners went to the Swanson's Coco, Dr Jac's Rumor Has It. As a side note, it's not often you see both winners that are liver. Reserve went to Rachelle Boettcher's young puppy Red Granite's Abbey Road.

We had a very competitive group of dogs under consideration for Best of Breed. The final nod went to Karen Hanson and Slick, GCh Labyrinth N Illusion Slippery When Wet JH coming out of the field trial class. Opposite was Michele Martin with her Ch Twoemz Kiss Me Deadly. Select Dog was the Droel's and Jessica Carlson's Ch Rivermist Broxden Sovereign MVP, with Select Bitch going to Michele's Veteran Girl GCh Ginjac-Magic Me I'm The One BN RN JH. Rounding out the judges picks was Rachelle's Puppy, Red Granites Abbey Road going Best Puppy.

We had our annual Pot Luck and Raffle following the judging. Thanks to everyone who donated items for the raffle – it was a big success. As always, the food was plentiful and delicious.

Thanks go out to this year's exhibitors, many coming from great distances, for your support. We look forward to seeing everyone at next year's specialty which will be at a new location and date to be held with the Cambridge Minnesota Cluster.

SHOWCASE

CONGRATULATIONS TO NEW DUAL CHAMPION KINWASHKLY TEMPO

Dual Champion Kinwashkly Tempo (Sire: FC/AFC Trademark's Iceman Dam: Canadian Dual/AFC Kinwashkly French Velour) Tempo earned his field championship in April by winning a 5 point Open All Age stake at the Iowa Brittany Club trial. This was his third all age major win. He began his show career in May when field trial season ended, and he finished July 10th. I would like to thank Ed Tillson, his trainer and handler, who had the patience to let him grow up and believed in him when he went through a serious illness----Jessica Carlson, for her superb skills as his show handler, and Ben Lorensen, who put him on the path to success when he was young. We could not have done it without these people in Tempo's life. Tempo's young daughter won the 2016 Central all age futurity in Colorado last spring. Tempo is co-owned by Joyce Miley and Leslie Andreas (also his breeder) www.Kinwashklybrittanys.com

SOUTHERN NEW ENGLAND Flaherty Field East Windsor, CT October 7-9, 2016

Our fall trial was held at Flaherty Field in East Windsor, Ct. This is a dedicated field trial area owned and maintained by the State of Connecticut. Their crew had done a suburb job of grooming the grounds. Our club's trial followed the New England Brittany Championships. We had almost a week of watching some of the best gun dogs. We appreciate the support of pro, Ben Lorensen, as well as the many other folks who came to the trial. We had 9 stakes with 113 dogs entered. The bird planters were seeding the courses early each morning. The judges spent many hours and their decisions were well received. As usual, the kitchen crew did an outstanding job keeping us well fed. Their efforts were truly apparent at the roast pork dinner on Saturday night.

A successful trial requires support and work from so many different people. We are very appreciative of each person's contribution. One of the highlights of the weekend was watching Loudon Swierczynski, age 7, handle his 6-month-old puppy, Zippy, to second place in the Amateur Walking Puppy. His dad placed the pup second in the Open Puppy. We thought you'd enjoy the picture of Loudon with his pup.

IDAHO
Prairie Wind Ranch
Payette, ID
September 23-25, 2016

The Idaho Brittany Club held its fall field trial at the Prairie Wind Ranch in Payette, Idaho on September 23-25, 2016. The accommodation and layout of the property was second to none with electric hook ups and water for trailers, corrals for the horses, bird pens and a club house for us to use to help with the cooking. The club would like to thank the Ranch for letting us fit into their busy schedule between trials that they were already scheduled. Hopefully we will be back at Mile Post 9 next year if BLM oks it. We would like to thank all of the judges, participants, ABC club members, family members, volunteers and kids that helped make it a successful trial. We couldn't have done it without you! Whether it was cooking, driving a dog/horse wagon, bagging the chukars, or cleaning up after lunch or dinner all of the help was greatly appreciated.

CALIFORNIA

Camp H

California City, CA

October 28-29, 2016

Weather was better than anticipated, despite the naysayers who kept predicting rain! It did rain briefly, and then there were rainbows. Lots of nice bird work from GSPs, Vizslas, a pointer and lots of Brittans. It took a village to get our tent up, and a small village took the tent down without any of us taking sail in the massive winds. A HUGE thank you to everyone who came to participate, eat, share in our happy hour celebration of five new Field Champion titles and help make our trial a HUGE success! A special "thank you" to my Northern California/Oregon friends who traveled a long way to come support us and help where we needed it. To our California Brittany Club "village" (Peggy, Paul, Joe, Dan, Nancy, Linda, Sheri & Amber, Mary, Linda & Shannon, and Ed Moody) - you all made it happen and we pulled it off! To our judges who spent LONG hours in the saddle - Eliz Herz, Ed Dixon, Joe Gower, Raul Pineda, Lou D'Alessandro, Steve Crabb and Arlette Hennessey - thank you all again! See you all in the Spring!

Versatile Brittanys in Action

Agility Rule Changes

Goodbye Chute

Over the years, many agility enthusiasts around the globe have raised concerns about the safety of the chute. Dogs sometimes became entangled inside the fabric portion, which might detach, resulting in negative experiences or injuries. Recently, clubs experimented with rubberized stagecoach designs geared at improving chute safety, straighter approaches, and increasing the required distance between the chute and adjacent obstacles since the dog exits the chute blind.

One Mind Dogs, based in Finland, elaborated that some obstacles may be dangerous when placed in an unsafe way on course, or depending on the weather. They cited the example of the chute, saying, "Here in the US course design often includes a turn at the exit and an off course jump straight ahead of the chute. Cueing the turn as the dog enters the chute often causes the dog to come out of the chute sideways and tangled. Most of our shows are outside and with wind etc., the obstacle is not the same for every dog".

The issue culminated in 2016, when many agility organizations followed suspending the chute, including AKC, UKI, UKC, USDAA, TDAA, AAC, and CKC.

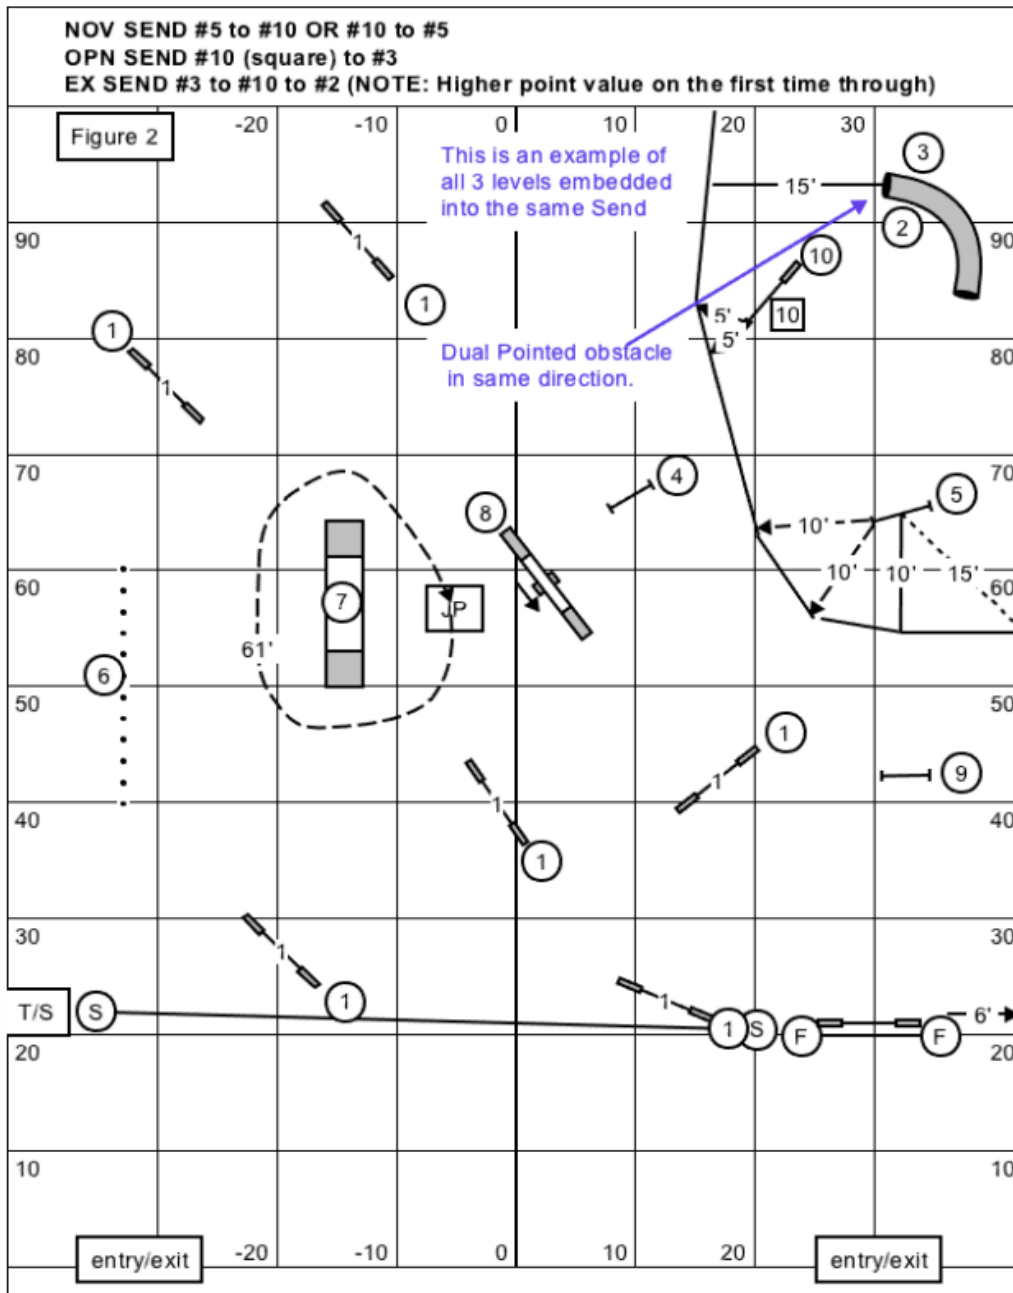

The AKC suspended the use of the collapsed tunnel as an agility obstacle, effective Aug. 2016. Carrie DeYoung, Director of Agility, noted that the AKC Board concurred that safety of dogs is the top priority, and agreed unanimously to suspend the use of chutes in all agility courses until the concerns can be resolved (see <http://www.akc.org/news/akc-agility-suspends-use-of-the-collapsed-tunnel/>).

UKC deferred its ruling, and released a statement to the effect that "it is unfortunate that dogs have been injured on this obstacles while participating in agility...Dogs are vulnerable to injury on any agility obstacle... The UKC course times, judging philosophy, and course requirements are designed to minimize these risks for all dogs participating". UKC plans to address the safety of the chute along with all revisions scheduled revisions for 2017.

Whether you loved it or hated it, the chute has (mostly) disappeared. Once again, these discussions highlighted the awareness of safety as an ongoing, key issue in performance dog sports.

AKC FAST Getting Faster

Do you hate waiting all weekend for a few minutes of adrenaline on course? Effective Jan. 3, 2017, AKC is changing FAST class rules to help trials run faster. Clubs may offer one FAST course for all levels (Novice, Open and Excellent/Master). This revision will accelerate course building, and all levels can walk and run together. According to AKC Agility Judges Blog, "any of 3 levels courses may be combined into one course with embedded Sends (which will allow one course build and walk through for all levels); or may be run as separate courses". The tire and triple are no longer allowed. Additionally, Novice dogs will need to do 9-12 weaves in FAST because those are required obstacles for the higher levels. There will also be new send distances in Open and Excellent/Master as follows:

New nested FAST course 1 (see <https://akcagilityjudges.wordpress.com/>)

- Open – 2 or 3 obstacles are required at a minimum distance of 5' to a maximum distance of 20' depending on the number of obstacles used. If only 2 obstacles are used in the send then one of the obstacles must be between 10' and 15'. If 3 obstacles are used then at least one obstacle must be between 10' and 15'. No more than one obstacle may be less than 10' and no more than one obstacle can be greater than 15'.
- Excellent/Master – 3 obstacles are required at a minimum distance of 5' to a maximum distance of 25' with a change of direction or obstacle discrimination. No more than one obstacle may be less than 15' and no more than one obstacle may be greater than 20'.

Solving Mid-Season Retrieving Problems

No matter how many years you've hunted, it's always a thrill to see your dog doing what he was bred for. The two of you, out in the field in the brisk autumn air, shotgun in your hands, and your dog working out to the front. Then, seeing your dog pin down a tough bird with an intense and stylish point, you take a moment to appreciate the sheer beauty of the dog's work before walking in to flush and shoot the bird. Your shot is true, and the bird is earthbound. What happens next depends on your dog and his training.

There are several ways this can play out. Ideally, your dog is sent to retrieve, he runs out, scoops up the bird with a soft mouth, and proudly brings it directly to your hand. But what if a different scenario presents itself? Suppose the dog runs to the bird, sniffs it, flashes you a look that says, Hey, this one is dead; I'd rather go find a live one, and leaves the bird where it fell. Or maybe the dog picks the bird up, runs in your general direction, and then plays keep-away, parading and showing off his prize. Or he brings it to you and then clamps down hard, refusing to release it. Even worse, he starts pulling feathers, rips the bird apart, and eats it.

The obvious solution to all of the above is take the dog through a formalized trained retrieve program (also called force-fetch). That's by far the best thing to do, and what we recommend. However, what if it's right in the middle of hunting season when the problem occurs and you really can't take the time to do all that training? Is there a temporary patch that can help you limp through the rest of hunting season while planning to accomplish the full training in the off-season? Sure. It'll still take some training, but it should be more of a tune-up than anything.

The first and most important thing you'll need to do is tighten up on the basics, mainly the here command. Here means come straight to you, as fast as possible. No dawdling, no slowing down, no zigzagging...now. For retrieving, this actually solves quite a bit. If your dog will pick up a bird, the here command can eliminate the parading and showing off of the bird, and it also makes it hard for a dog to eat or tear a bird apart. If you call your dog to you and you see him start to slow down, immediately reinforce the here command and don't allow the slow recall.

And, especially if you've got a bird muncher, this is very important: Insist on here even if the dog drops the bird. If that sounds a bit counterproductive, think of it in steps or stages, and from the dog's perspective. What the dog really wants is to pick up the bird and keep it. If you call the dog and insist on his coming back to you promptly, even if it means leaving the bird. It won't take but a few repetitions for the dog to realize that if he wants to keep the bird, he'll need to hang on to it. Additionally, it's difficult for a dog to eat a bird if he is running fast.

He needs to slow down first, and that's the precise moment you need to remind him to get to you, fast. If you need to, start with a checkcord and a dead bird. Toss the bird a short distance and let the dog run to it. As soon he puts his mouth on the bird – don't allow any rolling or playing or feather pulling – reel the dog in using the checkcord. After a few tries, most dogs will grab the bird because he knows if he doesn't, the game is over.

One thing that's important to focus on is the delivery of the bird. It doesn't matter how you want it done, as long as you're consistent. That means deciding where the dog should be in relation to you. Do you want him to come to heel? Or stop right in front of you? Whatever you decide, stick with it and stay consistent. And don't grab at the bird the second your dog gets within arm's length. Think of the dog presenting you the bird as if it's a gift. If you want to reach for the dog's collar to steady him, that's fine initially; but let him hold the bird for a few seconds while you pet and praise and reward him for bringing it. That gives the dog a little payback for giving up the prize, and makes playing keep-away less rewarding.

When you do take the bird, don't pull it from the dog's mouth. Pulling encourages a tug-of-war, and that, in turn, results in ripped up birds that aren't fit for the table. Ideally, you'll have a release command such as drop or give, and the dog will open his mouth and let go. But if you don't have that command taught yet, how can you get a dog to release the bird? Two ways: First, put your thumb in the corner of the dog's mouth and push the lower lip in over the bottom teeth and press down hard. Be ready to get your thumb out quickly once the dog lets go of the bird. The second method works very well on dogs that really insist on not letting go of a bird. Start with your hand on the dog's shoulder, then slide it down the ribcage to the spot where the belly meets the hind leg. Grab that flap of loose skin and lift the dog's hind legs up. Be ready, Rick Smith has spent a lifetime breeding, training, and handling National Championship bird dogs. His highly popular training seminars teach the "Silent Command System" to dog owners world-wide. During hunting season, Rick can be found on the Mariposa Ranch in south Texas.

Sharon Potter has a strong background in animal behavior, and has been training both horses and dogs for many years, with several National titles to her credit. She is an avid hunter and archer, and in her spare time is working on the first of a series of books on bird dog training with Rick Smith.

because the dog will drop whatever he has in his mouth in order to react to the discomfort.

What if you have one of those dogs that isn't interested in a bird that's dead and isn't all that keen on retrieving? The best thing for these dogs is to go through a formalized training program for the trained retrieve. Sometimes you can get a start on it by actually putting the bird in the dog's mouth and gently holding it so they do understand that it's okay to touch the bird. Then try having the dog walk forward a step or two and take the bird out of the dog's mouth. Some dogs will catch on to this fairly easily; others may need to wait until hunting season is over to go through a training program.

How about the bird cruncher? This dog will pick up the bird and bring it to you, but it's flattened, with broken bones, and not fit for the table. The fix for this is to teach the dog good mouth habits and make him realize that whatever is in his mouth belongs to you, not him. This is accomplished by, initially, using your gloved hand and teaching the dog how to hold something. Always wear gloves while doing this, for safety. Your hand closest to the dog will hold his collar, while the other hand will go under his jaw, palm facing up. Using the middle finger and thumb, push the lower lips in and over the teeth, pushing down until the dog opens his mouth.

Quickly roll the gloved hand up and over so your hand is in the dog's mouth, palm down. It's very important not to grip or grab the jaw, as that will create resistance that we don't want. Instead, just rest your hand in his mouth, staying toward the canine teeth in front so you don't trigger the gag reflex; be careful to move with the dog's head and don't allow the dog to spit your hand out, even if he struggles. Some dogs will try to bite down hard and chew, and you can stop this by pushing your hand down on the jaw, which take away the power to bite.

Another evasion would be trying to use the paws to push your hand out of his mouth. Raise your elbow up so the dog can't get a paw over it. Hang onto the collar and quietly work through it until the dog relaxes and holds your hand calmly. Then give your release command and take your hand away. Immediately put it back in and again, wait for the dog to relax and settle before taking it back out. When the dog accepts this easily, you can repeat it with a dummy, and then a bird.

Remember, these are all temporary fixes meant to help you get through the hunting season. They aren't a substitute for thorough training, so plan on working on your dog's retrieving during the off-season. You'll end up with the total package: a hard working bird dog that not only finds the game but brings it back and offers it to you.

A Little Competition

A Novella and Twenty-Two Short Stories

By Tom Word

Return to Delilah

He stopped his dually rig at the famous entrance marked by bronze statues of a pointer and setter; they shone ghostlike in his headlights, as they had the first time he saw them, twenty years before. He pulled the note from his shirt pocket and read it again in the dim light of the truck's dashboard.

Dear Robert,

I hope you will bring your string to the old South Championship this year, though I know you usually take our week off to rest up for the last half of the season. Our board of directors and I extend a special invitation to you to come celebrate the twentieth anniversary of your first championship win here at Mossy Swamp Plantation.

Sincerely,
Lucy Slade

Dust stirred by earlier rigs glowed orange in the truck's headlights as he eased up the lane beneath the long, drooping limbs of the giant live oaks. A mile off the highway, the lights of the horse barn came into view, and beyond them he glimpsed the porch lights of the Big House where the drawing party was in progress.

He unloaded his horses into a paddock and settled his dogs in kennel runs with their rations; then he unhooked the trailer and drove his dually the final half-mile to the Big House.

Inside, the usual crowd clutched their cocktails and talked dogs, nibbling hors d'oeuvres set out on candle-lit tables. Lucy Slade greeted him beneath the chandelier in the wide entrance hall. Their eyes met as she took his right hand in both of hers.

"Robert, I'm so pleased you've come," she said with a smile that lit up the room.

"I'm so sorry about Mr. Sam," he said in a whisper.

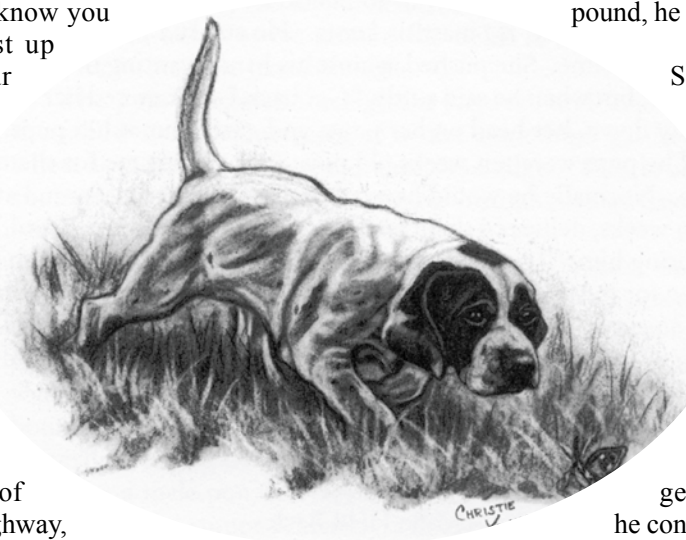

"Thanks, Robert...under the circumstances, it was for the best."

Her husband Sam, squire of Mossy Swamp and A Wall Street investment banker, had died of cirrhosis of the liver five months before after a long struggle with alcoholism. Most thought Sam's death would mean the end of the Deep South Championship, but an ad in the Field in November had proclaimed the venerable championship would continue at its usual time slot, the first week of January, with Lucy Slade as the club's new president, and the same board of directors. Lucy had inherited Mossy Swamp from Sam-earned it, those in the know said, for Sam has surely been a hard man to live with, as he'd been a hard man in business.

Robert melted into the gathering, shaking hands and exchanging greetings with fellow pro handlers and their dog owners from around the country and local people who helped put on the trial.

Then Lucy Slade rang her table bell for attention, called on a man in a clerical collar to say grace, and announced the buffet open. The guests lined up for fried chicken, frog legs, salad, snaps, candied sweet potatoes and mashed white ones, pecan pie with vanilla ice cream, sweet tea, and chicory coffee. Robert filled his plate and took a seat in a porch swing. After all the guests had been served, Lucy came out with her plate and sat beside him. The years had given her face character, a few smile lines, but had not dimmed her good looks. She's not gained a pound, he thought.

She asked knowingly about his dogs-she obviously follow the trials through the Field though he'd never seen her in a gallery away from Mossy Swamp. Then she asked about his wife by name, and he told her of his divorce (he suspected she knew of his wife's abrupt departure last summer with one of his long-time customers, although her condolences seemed genuine). There were no children, he confirmed.

Soon the club's secretary called for all to gather in the living room for the drawing.

"We have sixty entries, ladies and gentlemen. Are there any more? Are you ready for the drawing? Very well. No further entries will be accepted. Don't anyone answer the phone if it rings."

To draw the slips, he summoned the five-year-old daughter of an owner, dressed in blue jeans, a bright gingham shirt, and cowboy boots. Beaming shyly, she stood on a chair to reach into the big silver punch bowl. In no time the dogs were paired. Robert noted the time his six entries would run, tried to remember the courses they'd drawn. Then he realized that his partner, the pro handler he traded scouting duties with, had no entries.

"He called in this afternoon, scratched his entries, said he had the flu," Lucy said. On an impulse, she added: "My son Tom could scout for you-he knows the courses like the back of his hand, pretty good hand with a dog."

He had not known she had a son.

"That would be great...sure he wouldn't mind?"

"He'd love it. He's going to marshal, so he'll be riding anyhow. He's due in any minute, been at a wedding in Birmingham this weekend."

The drawing's results had been entered in a laptop computer, and as soon as the last dog's name was drawn from the bowl, draw sheets were printed and stacked on a table by the front door. One by one the trailers thanked Lucy and departed, taking copies of the draw sheet. Robert asked Lucy about motel accommodations in town.

“Handlers stay in the guest lodge now, Robert, didn’t you know?”

He didn’t. He was relieved not to face the twenty-mile drive into town and back in the morning. Suddenly, he felt very tired.

The lodge, usually occupied by shooting guests, had been built since his earlier visit to Mossy Swamp Plantation. Its entire second story consisted of a cathedral-ceilinged great room with a huge fireplace, a kitchen in one corner, and French doors leading to a surrounding deck. Below were suites of bedrooms, reached from above via a central staircase, each room with its own door opening to the lawn, and the forty-acre millpond adjoining the namesake swamp. He found his name in Lucy’s handwriting on a card thumbtacked to the door a corner bedroom.

First class, he thought as he carried in his duffel. In moments, he was lulled to sleep by a chorus of bullfrogs. He woke by habit at 4:00, showered and shaved, walked up to the kitchen and started coffee. Soon six other handlers stumbled up the stairs, poured themselves coffee and grabbed donuts and sweet rolls laid out on the counter. They sat silently at the long dining table and watched the sunrise, its first rays filtering through the gossamer tops of the swamp’s stately bald cypress, their limbs draped with shawls of Spanish moss. Wood ducks traded nervously above the tree-tops. When Robert walked out on the deck to check the weather, he heard from all directions a chorus of quail coveys whistling off their roosts. It had rained briefly in the night, and the air was crisp and clean. Scenting conditions would be good, at least until the midday heat arrived.

None of Robert’s dogs had been drawn to run the first day, so he’d be free to study the course before handling on them, a fortunate break. When he reached the first breakaway, fifty riders were gathered. Lucy was there on a brown and white paint gelding. She introduced her son Tom, who rode a large athletic bay. The boy was six feet two, Robert guessed, muscular but trim, with his mother’s nose and ready smile.

“Mom says you need a scout. I’d be proud to help,” Tom offered. “I’m front marshal this morning. Ride with me, and I’ll reacquaint you with the courses.”

“Thanks. I’ll take you up on both offers,” Robert said.

Two pointers were removed from the dog truck and let to the front by their scouts. The judges asked the ritual “Are you ready, gentlemen?” The handlers mumbled good luck to one another (field trialing’s ritual hypocrisy) and the dogs lit out on opposite edges of the big cotton field, surrounded by stands of towering longleaf pine, their trunks scorched black to shoulder height by the annual burns that nurtured and controlled the wire grass and weeds beneath.

The day passed in a moment. Landmarks unseen for two decades were reestablished in Robert’s memory; before the week ended Mossy Swamp’s 12,000 acres would be as familiar as a score of other trial grounds across the continent where he ran his string in competition each year. Mossy Swamp’s gently rolling acres were a sea of brown shades, punctuated by the greens of the pine tops and ancient live oaks. Quail were everywhere. When he counted up the coveys moved the first day, the dots in his brace book numbered thirty-three. But despite Mossy Swamp’s beauty and abundant quail, the courses held many traps; five of the day’s twelve dog were lost from judgement.

As Robert hosed down his afternoon horse at the barn after the sixth brace, Tom approached.

“Mom would like you to join us for supper if you’ve got no commitments.”

“Thanks. What time?”

“About seven-can I lend you a hand with anything?”

“No, thanks, won’t take me but a few minutes to feed. No, wait, could you help me give a Combiotic injection to old Butch? He’s got an ear infection.”

Robert held the squirming pointer, and Tom expertly handled the syringe; he noticed Tom was left-handed.

The other guests for supper included the two judges and reporter, but no other handlers, which made Robert feel uneasy. Then he recalled the club’s tradition of having the handlers to dinner one or two at a time through the week. Lucy led the conversation with reminiscences of funny things that had happened at the trial over the years. Not mentioned, but on every guest’s mind, was her dead husband’s notorious insobriety.

“Robert, tell us about your win here with Lighting Bolt-your first championship as I recall,” the senior judge asked.

“Yes, sir. In ’81. He had four finds and a big race. I was proud, I can tell you. I hadn’t won a placement that season ‘til old Bolt finally got it together here. He was a second-year dog, and I’d almost given up on him the year before, the sophomore thing you know, but after that win he got his self-confidence, won four more championships for me before he was killed by a car at Como when he was seven. I guess he’s mostly responsible for my staying in the game all these years.”

“He was a good one, for sure,” the other judge said. “Half the dogs entered this year carry his blood.”

“What in particular do you remember from that week, Robert?” the senior judge asked. Robert & Lucy’s eyes met for an instant, then disengaged.

“It’s mostly all a blur now, Mr. Sam. But I remember hearin’ Miss Lucy read the name of the runner-up and then calling old Bolt’s name as champion. I remember that like it was yesterday—that and the feel of the check. I sure needed that check, I can tell you.”

MEMBERS OF THE AMERICAN BRITTANY CLUB

Give the gift of a new membership... to give the opportunity to someone to learn about and participate in the American Brittany Club.

This membership campaign is really quite simple, we are asking every member to donate/sponsor a membership in the American Brittany Club. This "gifted" membership might be to a puppy purchaser, or a friend/acquaintance who has a Brittany. All of us encounter people who may just need a little encouragement to become members.

This can work, but it is totally dependent upon your support. Please use the ABC application form in the back of the magazine to enroll a new member today. You may donate/sponsor multiple new memberships. The names of new members & ABC sponsors will be published in the magazine on a quarterly basis.

THIS IS OUR CHANCE TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE!
