The American Brittany

VOLUME LXIV • NUMBER 9 • SEPTEMBER 2017

Objective and Purpose:

To promote cooperation and friendship among the breeders and owners of Brittanys and to encourage higher standards in breeding, training and showing of Brittanys in the field and in the show ring; to discourage the breed from becoming split into groups of "field dogs" and "show dogs" and to strive to keep it forever a "dual dog".

ABC National Gun Dog Championship

2017 Judges

Dr. Roger McPherson – Chesterfield, SC

“I learned about bird dogs by hunting over Pointers with my dad and brothers; I believe that I got my passion for great bird dogs from Dad. After my return from Viet Nam, we owned and hunted some excellent quail dogs together.

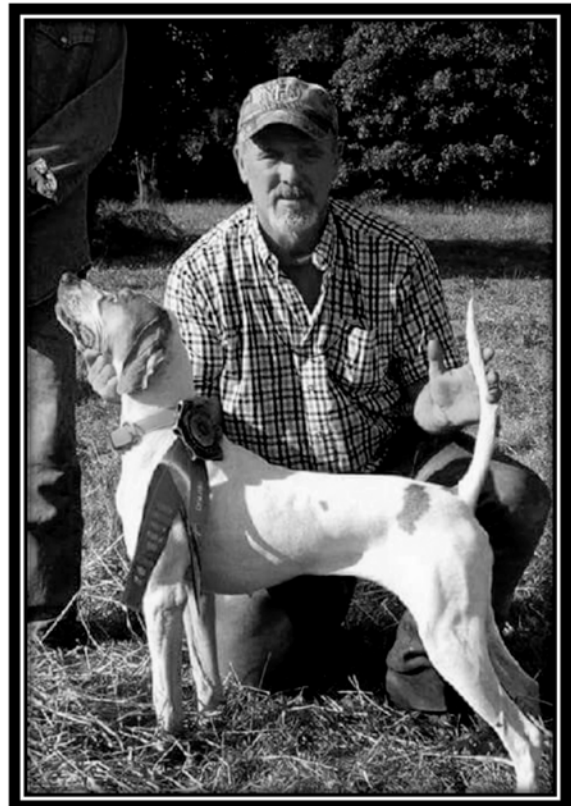

Dad gave my wife Susie and I a Brittany and that was the beginning of a long-lived love affair with the breed; we have owned Brittansys for more than 44 years now. Moving to Pennsylvania upon finishing my Ph. D. started a passion for Grouse hunting, field trials and cover dog events with our Brittansys; our dogs won numerous field trials, cover dog trials and Championships. Suemac’s Carolina Belle, Suemac’s Blazen Bibi, Suemac’s Bodacious Pride, Suemac’s Liberty Belle, and Suemac’s Coventry - all multiple title holders, are some of our notable dogs and include 9 AKC Field Champions. In 2014, Suemac’s Sky King won the ABC National Amateur Gun Dog Championship and was R/U Champion in the ABC National Open Gun Dog Championship in 2016.

Having retired to South Carolina, I’ve recently started to campaign English Pointers on the Horseback Shooting Dog circuit. I’ve judged many local and regional trials, both AKC and American Field. The Grand National Grouse Championship, The International Amateur Woodcock Championship, The New England Grouse Championship, The Keystone Championship, The National Shooting Dog Pheasant Championship are some of the Am. Field events I’ve judged. I’m honored being asked to judge the ABC National Gun Dog Championship and ABC Shooting Dog Derby Invitational and look forward to seeing some really good performances; best of luck to all competitors.”

Cliff Mesnard – North Bloomfield, OH

Born and raised in Ohio, Cliff resides in North Bloomfield. He has three children, all grown, and four grandchildren. His long term employment takes him all over the country working, from California to the Carolinas. His time off is spent field trialing. He has had several national wins with GSPs and has two American field pointers as well. Cliff has previously judged the 2010 & 2011 ABC National Amateur Gun Dog Championships as well as several other national field events including the APC NATIONAL. He likes a classy big running dog that can apply itself to the designated course. Best of luck to all exhibitors!

2017 Judges

Paul Katzel – Plainfield, IL

"I've been in birddogs since 1986, training and handling my own dogs. I won the 1993 ABC Amateur All-Age Championship and the 2010 ABC National Gun Dog Championship and have won The Prairie State Championship. I've judged the ABC Chukar Championship, The National Vizsla Gun Dog Championship, The Vizsla National Futurity and Regional trials of all breeds.

My proudest accomplishment is working with my Grandsons Zack, Trenton and their dogs; each of them winning Junior Handler of the Year honors for Field Trial Clubs of Illinois.

I am honored by being asked to judge the 2017 ABC National Amateur Gun Dog Championship and look forward to seeing high class performances by Amateur owned and handled Brittanys from around the country."

Charles Parietti - Maryville, MO

The Odyssey bird dog venture began in 1968 upon my discharge from the US army. Judy and I settled in northern Vermont and began serious bird hunting throughout New England and the Maritimes with mostly Setters; the fountainhead of our passion for top notch bird dogs. Transferred to Maryville, MO in 1975, we got our first German Shorthair. From '75 on, our focus and commitment has been to develop and breed superior real world bird dogs. Shorthairs that have very strong noses, natural hard hunting drive, correct structure and great personalities. Our dogs all hunt 30-40 days a year. No such thing as just a field trial dog.

Through the years we have finished over 25 Odyssey FC/AFC's, 10 DC's and won 2 National Amateur Championships.

I have judged hundreds of weekend trials for both AKC and AF venues and a number of National Championships across the various pointing dog breeds.

I sincerely look forward to the experience and opportunity to judge the 2017 Brittney National Amateur Gun Dog Championship. Good luck to all.

ABC Shooting Dog Derby Invitational

2017 Judges

Tommy Thomas – Somonauk, IL

“I’ve been in the American Brittany Club for 24 years; for the last 17 years, I have participated in Conformation and Field competitions on the Local, Regional and National levels. Believing that the Brittany excels as a true “Dual Dog”, I have bred, trained and handled my own dogs successfully to DC, FC, AFC, GFC, Am. Fld. CH, CH, GCH and JH titles.

I began judging Performance field events in 2007. My judging assignments have included the 2016 ABC National Amateur Gun Dog Championship, 2016 ABC Shooting Dog Derby Invitational, Regional Championships, Futurities, and Local trials. I’m honored having been invited back to judge the 2017 ABC Shooting Dog Derby Invitational this fall. I look forward to seeing the high caliber derby dogs showcased in this prestigious event.”

2017 ABC Summer Specialty Show

PURINA
PRO PLAN

July 8, 2017
By: Diana Kubitz

GARMIN

The Summer Specialty weekend began on Thursday, July 6th with judge's education; we had 3 judges in attendance. Later that afternoon we had a Pizza Party for everyone present and followed that with the event most enjoyed by everyone in attendance, the Mini-Me's! We had 4 kids ranging from two years of age to 9 years of age and they all had a wonderful time. Three of the children were Kassie Hamakers and the youngest showed Pup-Pup, her stuffed Brittany toy! Nickie Reddick's daughter was lovely and kept a happy grin on her face throughout the time in the ring. The kids are the future of our breed and the fancy, so I encourage all regional specialties too include Mini-Me's in your next specialty!

Mini-Me's were followed by an informal puppy match that gave the puppies an opportunity to be on the ground and stretch their legs a bit before the real competition began on Friday. Cathy Rigoulot presided over the Mini-Me's and the match. Thanks Cathy for helping out by judging!

Friday the Michigan Sporting Dog Association held its show and Brittans were first in the ring at 8:00! It was followed by the Western Brittany Club's concurrent show held at 10:45. Results will be published under the WMBC article.

Saturday morning bright and early with an 8:00 a.m. ring time for Sweepstakes judged by Kristopher Kelso. Kris did a good job on his first Brittany assignment and we enjoyed having him with us. Our judge for the classes was Dr. Indeglia. He carefully chose his winners with thought to type and movement. Thanks to both Mr. Kelso and Dr. Indeglia for judging our Summer Specialty!

Thanks go to my committee: Laurie Walters (trophies, shirts and memorabilia), Debbie Walters (State Baskets & Raffle), Cathy Rigoulot (Banquet), Thom Christnagel (WMBC Treasurer, Parking/Camping, Heavy Lifting!) and Andi for picking up Kris at the airport and delivering him to his hotel & an all-round helper, Carlos Gust (Assisted Thom and did any job that I found for him), Allyson Godfroid and Peggy Snider for putting together the list of things to do in the Monroe area and Peggy for generally helping out. A huge thank you to my husband Gary who put up with me for the entire year leading up to the specialty weekend! To my best buddy Deb Smelt, girl I truly do not know how I would have accomplished anything without your help and encouragement. She was the glue that held everything together. Mike Nagle your encouragement made me laugh and then cry, thanks so much. The Scobie's, members of the Michigan club leant their helping hands as did a myriad of other folks. To all of you my heartfelt thanks.

To those who showed their support with trophy donations, state baskets, silent auction items, raffle items and most importantly entries, thank you is just not enough to convey the gratitude that my committee and I have.

We also send a big thank you to Purina for sponsoring the summer specialty. Not only did they provide food for the winners and 2 lb. bags for all exhibitors, but they sent banners and the Purina show branch gave prizes that they listed separately in the premium list. They also sent us bags to be used for welcome bags! They went above and beyond!

ABC National Championship Judges

Chris Rider

My wife Kim and I still reside in southwestern Pennsylvania. We have 3 daughters and 6 granddaughters. Field trailing has been a large part of my life and that of my family. We have spent many weekends together enjoying the sport.

Judging is something that should be taken very seriously, but more importantly, must be enjoyed. I have been honored to judge the following trials, from California to New York on all types of terrain.

Included in these are National Championships: Brittany (6) times, Vizsla, Gordon Setter, German Shorthair Pointer, German Wirehair Pointer, English Setter, Irish Setter, Free for All, and AKC National All Breed. Other Championships include: Inez Smith, Keystone, Hobart Ames, Canadian, International, Pheasant, and Kentucky.

I've served as Chairman of the Pennsylvania Brittany Club, and also served on the committee to choose judges for our National Championship.

I am looking forward to judging the Nationals.

William Smith

I have been involved with Field Trials since 1981 when I attended my first trial on the Ames Plantation in Grand Junction, Tennessee and I was hooked. Since that time I have been actively involved in the four trials held annually on the Plantation and I am currently a Director of the Hobart Ames Field Trial Club.

I was invited by the late Ted Gardner to judge the Border International Championship Stoughton, Saskatchewan and that invitation introduced me to the grandeur of the prairies. Later I was invited to become a member of the board of directors for the Broomhill Field Trial Club in Broomhill, Manitoba, a position I held for twenty years. I was blessed to be able to return to the Canadian prairies for all those years to assist with the running of the Manitoba Championship.

I have had the honor of being invited to arbitrate in excess of fifty-five amateur and open championships including: Brittany Nationals (2012, 2013, and 2015), Red Setter Nationals, Irish Setter Nationals, German Shorthair Invitational, The Border International, Saskatchewan Chicken Championship, Dominion Chicken Championship, Manitoba Championship, Texas Championship, Missouri Championship, Alabama Championship, Kentucky Championship, Amateur Quail Championship, Western Open Championships, All American Championship, Mid America Championship, Southland Championship, Masters Championship, U S Chicken Championship, Georgia Derby Championship, Midwest Shooting Dog Championship and other championship and numerous weekend amateur and open trials.

I sincerely appreciate being asked to return to Boonville for the Brittany Nationals and am looking forward to another great experience.

ABC National Amateur Championship Judges

Stan Truksa

I am an avid bird hunter from the Midwest who resides in Firth, Nebraska with my wife Claudia. As a boy, I accompanied my father on many hunting trips and cared for the coon dogs I grew up with. In 1982, my course as a hunter and handler changed forever when I acquired my first Brittany. That dog, Cherokee, proved to be a relentless hunter and loyal friend and my heart was set on the Brittany breed.

I began field trialing in 1985 and have campaigned and finished numerous field champions as an amateur handler. Some of my finest moments as an owner and handler include winning the Region 17 Amateur All-Age Championship with two different dogs. I serve as the current and past President of the Nebraska Brittany Club. I like to spend all of my spare time with my two grandsons and in the field working with my dogs.

I have judged a wide variety of regional trials for various breeds throughout the Midwest including AKC and American Field sponsored events. I have had the privilege of judging some of the finest dogs of the era at a range of prestigious field trials. I have proudly sat in the saddle at the Vizsla Club of America Nationals, 2005 German Shorthair National All Age Championship, 2010 AKC Pointing Breed Gun Dog Championship, Gordon Setter Nationals (the first time that it was every ran as a hour stake), ABC Prairie Chicken Classic (3 times), ABC Central Field Futurity, ABC Pheasant Championship.

I was honored to serve as one of the judges for the 2005, 2006 & 2012 ABC National Amateur All-Age Championship in Booneville and I'm happy to have been chosen as the judge for 2017.

Charlie Collier

I have judged over 120 field trials for various pointing breeds and many championships including most recently the 2014 & 2016 Weimaraner Nationals, 2016 ABC Quail Classic, 2017 Region 17 Amateur All Age Brittany Championship & 2017 US Open Brittany Championship.

I'm honored to judge the upcoming National event!

CENTRAL MAINE
Cumberland, ME
June 24, 2017

The 2017 Central Maine Brittany Club Specialty Show on June 24 was well attended with 41 Brittany's entered. Held on the third day of the all-breed Maine Chickadee Classic our show was hosted by Penobscot Kennel Club who always rolls the red carpet out for our breed. The weather was seasonably warm and humid although clouds and breezes arrived just at the Brittany's went into the ring providing a brief but welcome reprieve. (On Sunday CMBC supported the entries.) CMBC members and friends generously sponsored this year's beautiful custom designed trophy prizes created by Affirmation Artworks. The awards included useful and various sized coolers, lunch totes, hairbrushes, luggage tags and notecards with original artistry of Brittany's of which words alone cannot adequately describe. Gun Dog Supply offered a number of gift certificates as well.

Our sweepstakes judge was Adam Conn. He was chosen because of the great job he did in Maine judging the junior showmanship classes in 2016. Presented with a total of six sweepstake entries, including one veteran. Mr. Conn's choices were as follows: Best in Sweepstakes CH Labyrinth Cheers to that JH, Best Opposite in Sweepstakes Tonan-Rao Just Because It's Clear Cut and Best Veteran in Sweepstakes GCH Triumphant's Saviour Machine. Later on Adam joined us for lunch and was very pleased to see that his choices had continued to do well in the regular classes.

We were pleased to have Mr. Dana Cline judge the regular entries. He was presented with 21 brittany's in the regular classes and 12 in Best of Breed. For Best of Breed Mr. Clines' choice was GCH Labyrinth N Illusion Slippery When Wet JH who also won a Group 2 handed by Rachel Kulp Wieder. His decision for Best Opposite Sex was CH Labyrinth Cheers To That JH handled by Reva Dickson. Tonan-Rao Just Because It's Clear Cut was his choice for Winners Dog and also Best of Winners. Triumphant Straight Up @ Blackdiamond won Winners Bitch handled by Lori Blockler. J&A's High Caliber Shamrock Special JH was Reserve Winners Dog handled by Roger Gilman. Hill's Blazin' Alpine Rose was Reserve Winners Bitch handed by Dawn Hill. Mr. Cline's choice for Select Dog was GCHS Hope's Exceeding The Speed Limit UD handled by Doug Tighe. Select Bitch was awarded to Hope's If not Now, When? handled by Stacy Threlfall. J&A's Heart Of Seumas JH was Best Bred-by-Exhibitor and also BBE Group 3 handled by Julie Harris. GCH/GCHB Triumphant Millstone Come to My World Rato (handled by Linda Taylor-Knight) and Triumphant's Saviour Machine (handed by Linda McCartney Roy) each earned a judges Award of Merit.

Invaluable describes each person who worked to make our specialty a success. Especially President John Short who supports this show vice president's responsibilities in a multitude of ways trucking everything to and from the site. The CMBC tent was raised Wednesday before the show and pizza was served for those present. On Saturday, the day of the Specialty, ring time was 10:45 a.m. CMBC members Travis and Sarah Labonte (VP of Membership) oversaw the trophy table and distribution of breed prizes. They also did a great job of making gift bags for each exhibitor which included color coordinated lobster dog toys! Also ringside was CMBC co-founder Donna Pride. Known for her delicious apple squares (which she did bring along) Donna faithfully kept track and made note of the placements in the catalog as they were awarded. Chair of the Hospitality Committee, Director Teri Plummer took care of grocery shopping, transported food, assembled platters and set a nice table for our sandwich bar. There were delicious food donations of salad and desserts with plenty enough for the next day. Director Denise Hue set up the annual raffle table with colorful bags and labels for the donated items. Busy balancing PVKC and CMBC duties she did a great job selling tickets. CMBC member Paige Davis and her daughter Elizabeth were on hand to wherever needed. Director Pamela Jackson was there with granddaughter Leila. There were wonderful prizes this year including an original engraved silver dog bell with an embedded jasper stone crafted by CMBC's very own David Herrington of Pyramid Studios in Ellsworth, Maine. Linda McCartney Roy of Distinctive Bedding by Creature Comfort in Bedford, NH donated a large gun dog theme dog bed. Dawn Hill of Hills Brittany's in Coventry, CT donated a custom kangaroo leather beaded key chain. Doggie Safe N Dry, Human Nature of Maine, and Gun Dog Supply also provided items for the raffle. I know there were other individuals who brought items as well and we thank you for your donation. Secretary/Treasurer Julie Harris was on hand to pay bills as needed. A shout out also to David Herrington, Daryl and Cheryl Friedman for the many ways they helped out over the entire four-day period. I appreciate the photographs taken by Daryl and every person who came alongside and wore whatever hat was needed to make the specialty enjoyable for all. Taking the tent down on Sunday and packing up was challenging due to the later ring time. CMBC member Sam Jackson and others previously mentioned were there that day to help wrap things up. Plans are already forming for 2018 when CMBC celebrates its 40th year. They include a bird hunting theme (think orange and upland hunting) and an end of the day barbecue bash. Stay tuned and save the date!

Respectfully Submitted,
Ann H. Short

July 7, 2017

Our morning started with the Michigan Sporting Dog Association show where Britts were shown at 8:00 a.m. The WMBC Specialty started at 10:45, which meant a mad scramble to pick up the steward's bag and set trophies up! Cathy Rigoulot stewarded for us for the specialty that was judged by Nancy Gallant from Battle Creek. Nancy and I have been in the Battle Creek Kennel Club for years and she has become an esteemed judge in our breed.

A big thanks to my club for giving me all that I needed to host two specialties and the Summer Specialty! Thom Christnagel, Carlos Gust and Deb Smelt were the three mainstays from our club that came to help. Thanks go to everyone outside our club that helped as well. Carole Alff sold catalogs and picked up the flowers for our trophy table. So nice to see Carole involved again and enjoying see old friends and making new ones! Thanks to all the exhibitors who supported our show and the specialty weekend, it was truly special.

The Bells of Autumn

PART ONE

Chief Master Sergeant (Retired) Benny P. Heald is a retired Air Force veteran with 30 years of active duty service. He was the Senior Enlisted advisor (Command Chief) for the 22 ARW at McConnell AFB, Kansas, as well as for the 375th Wing at Scott AFB, Illinois. Prior to that, he was the "SAC Boom Operator." In that capacity, he served as the functional manager for the 1100 individuals within the career field responsible for the training and manning of all the boom operators in the Air Force. He was the Wing Boom Operator at Castle AFC, California and was the SAC operational airlift manager. He also held positions as the SAC flying hour program manager, the SAC Boom Operator training manager, and as a SAC alert facility manager. He had two combat tours in Vietnam, one on the ground with the 101st Airborne Division and one flying tanker missions over Vietnam. As a civilian, he managed the Aureus Group technical division. His company placed senior pilots and engineers with major aerospace firms. Most recently, he worked for DynCorp as a consultant. The Bells of Autumn is a book of stories written by him about his Brittany, Bonnie, during all the moves required by his work in the Air Force.

THE BELLS OF AUTUMN

Prologue

This is the story of a life lived to its fullest. For Bonnie there were very few shades of gray, things were either black or white, you were her friend or her enemy. Compromise was not a word she learned because, unlike the rest of us, she never had to do it. Bonnie taught me all I know about bird hunting. To illustrate my ignorance, I named her Ben's Bonnie O'Hara. I thought Brittany's came from Ireland. I was later to discover that the poor peasants of France developed Brittany Spaniels. They used them to sneak onto the rich landowners land and poach game from him. That was the reason the peasants developed a small dog with little or no tail. I'm sure results (food on the table) was a lot more important to those peasants than style, I'm also sure that Bonnie's great, great grandmother was probably responsible for some very well fed French peasants and some pissed off landowners.

This story is all true, at least as I remember it, except for the epilog Fantasy, hopefully that is true, too.

From our first minutes together until I held her at the end was one great adventure for both of us. I wouldn't trade the memories for the world.

This book is for my bride, Les. She has shared a quarter of a century of Brittany's with me. She has held them at their birth, comforted me at their death, and, like me, come to realize what truly magnificent creatures they are.

The Beginning

We walked thru the house where the Brittany puppies were "for sale", went thru the screen door and arrived on the back porch. There were about 20 people in the back yard, one very concerned mother Brittany and 10, six week old puppies.

All of the pups were sleeping, except for one. She was the smallest of the litter, and was the only one of the group that was covered with dust due to playing with great abandon. She seemed to select me the minute she saw me, running past all the other people to pick me out as her human. To me it was as if there were no other pups in the litter, apparently I passed muster too.

When young, Brittany puppies have bright blue eyes; this coupled with orange and white fur makes them irresistible.

My wife and I had a long conversation over finances. The dogs had been advertised at $100 and that was a great deal of money in 1973, especially for an Air Force Staff Sergeant trying to make do with his income in the high cost of living area of Sacramento, California.

The owner was a good man, and apparently his wife had heard our conversation. He told me the females were $35. I thought it a little strange that when I went to pay him, the man in front of me handed him a $100 check for a female.

Although I didn't understand it at the time, this was an act of kindness I would repeat many times over when my dogs had litters. Sometimes there is an instant bonding between the prospective owner and the pup, sometimes the life they will share is much more important to the seller than the money. I've refused to sell pups for $500 that I've given away the same day!

A New Home

There is nothing as happy and as much fun as a puppy's first day in a new home. All the new sights and smells and all the things with which to play. Conversely, there is nothing that is as big a pain in the ass as a puppy the first night in a new home, lonely and away from its siblings for the first time. We tried everything; the alarm clock in the bed to simulate the other puppy's heartbeat, a heating pad next to her to simulate their warmth, fuzzy toys, nothing would work! Nothing that is, except for me to hold her. That was fine except that she would sleep for about 30 minutes and then decide it was time to play, my ear was a favorite target for those little sharp teeth.

When it comes to housebreaking there is one major rule; you have to be smarter than the dog. My wife developed the opinion early on that, with regards to Bonnie and Ben; Bonnie probably had the upper hand. We tried everything; paper training, frequent trips outdoors, great praise for using the outdoors, even that commercial product. Nothing worked until one morning when I arose for a very early flight (for some reason U. S. Air Force planes can only take off at 3AM or 11PM), There is nothing quite like the feeling of putting your bare foot in a recently deposited pile of warm puppy excrement to really get your day started off with a bang. I hollered at Bonnie and launched her out the door. That was the end of her pottie training. She got the message.

Playtime for Bonnie was anytime she wasn't sleeping or eating. These are some of her favorite puppy games. Dive under the dividers- this game was played by running at full speed and diving under the butt ugly red plastic and wood dividers that separated the kitchen from the laundry room. This game came to an abrupt end when Bonnie was about 12 weeks old. The space under the dividers was only about 6 inches high and she had grown a little too much to fit. The result was the dividers crashing down on the kitchen table and a less than happy wife. Roll the tent- I bought a small Arabian style dog tent for her at the thrift shop. She loved sleeping in it almost as much as she loved hitting it at full speed and rolling in it half way across the room or until she hit the wall (whichever came first). Chase and be chased-this could last for hours and had many variations that included a little roll the tent and dive under the dividers. Dig up the carpet-this was not one of my wife's favorite games! This game was normally played when we wouldn't play with Bonnie or God forbid had the audacity to go somewhere and not take her with us. Tear down the shower curtains. Played for the same reasons as dig up the carpet, always played when left home alone. Fetch if I want to- Bonnie was indeed a natural retriever, if she wanted to. As a small puppy she would retrieve perfectly and knew exactly what the word meant. I believe this is the age when she started developing what my wife calls selective hearing.

One night Leslie and I were having a few drinks when I decided to see if Bonnie would like a little taste. I know now that this was dangerous and should not have been done. Bonnie had quite a little bit of peach schnapps and began staggering around, acting really silly, and in general, being the life of the party. In a little while she became sick and got rid of the schnapps. The next morning she was hung over (so was I). That was the last time any type of alcohol ever crossed her lips. She learned the results of overindulgence and never drank again. Obviously she was smarter than most people.

SOPHIE AT THE LAKE

It was now time for her first training session. I read all I could find on the subject and finally the big day arrived. Experts all say to be very careful the first time you take a new pup out. The biggest concern is that of a new pup becoming gun shy. The conventional wisdom is to start with a .22 caliber blank from a long way away, and gradually move closer to the dog, a few days later go thru the same routine with a 410 gauge shotgun, then move up to a 12 gauge shotgun. That was my plan; the whole thing should have taken about a month. Bonnie just wanted to know what the hell I was shooting at so she could “get it”. The entire session took about 30 minutes. She really seemed to know what the gun was for and what her “mission in life” was. This was my first experience with the “memories” she seemed to have from other times, other hunters and other hunts. Memories passed down from generation to generation in a way we humans can’t possibly understand. We pass it off as “instinct”.

The only season open was squirrel so I decided to take her out and see what she would do. As soon as I started walking she began running ahead and circling back to me, after all, she was 3 months old; of course she knew what to do! Sure enough, we came up on a quail. She pointed with a beautiful little crooked point I’ll never forget. Her nose quivering while her entire body shook with the excitement of this strange new scent and the inherent understanding of what her life was all about.

That was the first time I had ever seen a bird dog point, it would be a decade before I realized how truly special she was. We went over and sat down on a little hill at the edge of the woods to see if a squirrel might show up. Unlike any other dog I’ve had, Bonnie loved to still-hunt. Sure enough, in about half an hour I noticed she was looking intently at the top of a large tree. I shot the squirrel with the .22. Bonnie was there in a flash, proudly bringing it back to me. The squirrel was almost as big as she and getting her to let go of it after she brought it back was a little more of a challenge.

Well, here we were at three months old, we are gun-broke, range close, retrieve, and still hunt. My TRAINING HAD BEGUN!

Baked Beans with Burnt Ends Submitted by Henry Wierzbicki Member of SNEBC

1 lb great northern beans, picked over
4 cups water
1 small Spanish onion, thinly sliced
2 large garlic cloves, finely chopped
3 cups ketchup
½ cup brown ale or malty beer
¼ cup Worcestershire sauce
½ cup packed dark brown sugar
2 TBL Coleman's mustard powder
1 TBL kosher salt
1 TBL freshly ground pepper
½ tsp cayenne pepper
1 bay leaf
1 lb brisket burnt ends or assorted
bbq, diced. About 3 cups

Put the beans in a medium bowl and cover with water by two inches. Soak for at least 8 hours at room temp. Preheat oven to 250 F. Drain beans and put in Dutch oven or other large pot. Add all remaining ingredients, except for any leaner pieces of meat, and bring to a boil. Cover the pot, transfer to the oven, and bake for 2 hours. Uncover the pot and stir in any remaining meat. Return to the oven and bake an additional 2 hours. Remove the bay leaf and serve.

Fette Sau Dry Rub

1 ½ cups packed dark brown sugar
1 cup kosher salt
1 cup ground espresso beans
¼ cup freshly ground black pepper
¼ cup garlic powder
2 tablespoons ground cinnamon
2 tablespoons ground cumin
2 tablespoons cayenne pepper

Combine the sugar, salt, espresso beans, pepper, garlic powder, cinnamon, cumin, and cayenne in a re-sealable container, cover tightly, and shake well to combine. Store in a cool, dry place. The rub will keep for up to 2 months, at which point the coffee will begin to taste stale. Makes 4 cups.

Smoked Brisket

1 whole beef brisket (10 – 14 lbs)
1 cup Fete Sau dry rub
Wood chunks or soaked wood chips

Trim the briskets fat cap to about ¼ inch thick, removing any hard lumps of fat. Place on a rimmed baking sheet and coat all over with dry rub, patting it into the surface until the meat has an even layer of rub (you may not need to use all of the rub). Let the meat rest for 1 hour at room temp, or until the rub turns into a pasty coating. Preheat smoker to 225° F. Place the brisket, fatty side up, in the smoker and smoke, maintaining a smoker temp of between 210° and 225°. Replenish the wood as needed. After about 8 hours, start checking the meat periodically. Poke the brisket in a few places – the fat cap should be soft and pliant and the meat should separate under your finger. The bark should be dry and crisp and the meat should be moist and tender – not mushy. An instant read thermometer inserted in the center should read 185° F – total smoking time can be 12-16 hours. When brisket is smoked to your liking, remove and let rest for at least 30 min. Slice meat across the grain just before serving. Makes 10-12 servings

Is Your Dog Ignoring You?

Do you ever get the idea that your dog has tuned you out? You've given a cue or command, you absolutely know the dog heard or saw it, yet the dog ignores you and goes on doing what it was doing. Why? Of course, the obvious possibility is that the dog hasn't completed enough training to understand that your commands always require a correct response. There's another option: Your dog has become desensitized to your commands.

There are things we want our dogs to be desensitized to, and we train specifically for those, gunfire being one of the more obvious examples. We want our dogs to focus on the birds and let the sound of the gun be background noise that's just part of the game with no fear or apprehension attached to it. This requires a dog to be more interested in something else (birds, birds, and more birds!) while they get used to the sound and learn to relate it to the birds and the fun. This is good desensitization training.

There's another kind of desensitizing that people do, and it's not so good... in fact, it's downright harmful, and we usually don't even realize we've done it. This makes both hunting and training harder, because we've created a situation where we must do way more than we should to get a response from our dogs.

The numerous ways we teach our dogs to not respond to our cues are, for the most part, linked together. One leads to another, which starts the snowball rolling downhill fast. The problem usually begins with repeating a verbal command. Let's take here or come as an example.

Our dog is a distance away from us and we say "Spot, here." Nothing happens... and now it's, "Spot... here!" Still no reaction from the dog; in fact, good old Spot looks our way and then meanders off on his own. Now we turn to shouting at full volume and with some serious frustration (and perhaps a few more colorful words) added to our voice. The neighbors heard you a quarter-mile away, and good old Spot finally decides he'd better quit what he's doing and come to you – or maybe he decides to go in the opposite direction because he doesn't want to deal with an angry person. This happens several times a day, and has gotten to be standard practice at Spot's house. And when Spot finally does come to you, he sure doesn't look confident or happy about it, which is a reflection of the anger and frustration he's gotten from his handler.

What just happened? First of all, if Spot finally comes when you get to the third time or more and are yelling, you've taught Spot to count to three and wait for your loud voice. He knows exactly how many times he can ignore you before he finally has to give in and listen. Spot also has learned that he only has to come when you shout at him at full volume. He has become desensitized to anything but that routine.

Why did it happen? The best answer is inconsistency on the part of Spot's trainer. When the dog was learning to come, it was taught via handler inconsistency to ignore – or become desensitized to – quiet commands.

How do we fix it? As with training in general, it's much easier not to start the problem in the first place than it is to fix it after it has become habit. To retrain the dog after it has formed a behavior pattern will take many more repetitions than it would have had the dog been trained to respond to quiet cues initially. With any command, say it once in a firm and quiet voice. Then enforce it. Do not repeat it while you're enforcing it, as that leads to the whole counting thing again.

That's one big reason we rarely use verbal commands in our training. We get the dog to do what we want and develop a pattern of learned behavior, and then give the cue a name after the dog is doing it correctly and consistently. This means spending a lot of time on the checkcord and never verbally asking the dog to come unless you have the checkcord in your hand and can enforce the command. When the dog does come to you, quietly give Rick Smith has spent a lifetime breeding, training, and handling National Championship bird dogs. His highly popular training seminars teach the "Silent Command System" to dog owners world-wide. During hunting season, Rick can be found on the Mariposa Ranch in south Texas.

Sharon Potter has a strong background in animal behavior, and has been training both horses and dogs for many years, with several National titles to her credit. She is an avid hunter and archer, and in her spare time is working on the first of a series of books on bird dog training with Rick Smith.

This dog is definitely distracted, and without some communication from the handler...

... it only gets worse and the dog disconnects.

your verbal command, but say it just one time.

Remember, dogs aren't born speaking English. Most of the time, all the talking we do around our dogs is done more for our benefit than for them. And when the voice is used constantly, it becomes background noise to the dogs and they learn to ignore it. Again, we've desensitized them to our voice by using a lot of meaningless chatter. Have you ever been around a person who talks non-stop about nothing, and you can't get a word in edgewise? Think about not being that person around your dog.

Desensitizing comes in more forms than just verbal. The physical cues we give can also be overdone to the point that dogs don't respond to the first cue, or they wait for the stronger cue because they've learned it won't be enforced until the stronger cue is given.

This is usually a result of the cue being increased so gradually that the dog has no reason to respond. Always start soft, but if you need more, get your point across and then go right back down to a soft touch with your cues. Don't nag. It's sort of like the radio in your car. When you're on a long trip by yourself and you've got the radio or CD layer on, the tendency is to gradually turn it up a little at a time because it sounds better and covers the road noise. Then you arrive at your destination and shut the engine off without turning the volume back down, and when you get back into your car for the trip home and start the engine, the radio is so loud it about knocks you out of your seat. You had no idea it was set so loud because you turned up the volume so gradually, you didn't notice how loud it had become.

There are going to be times in training where you need to "turn up the volume." When you do need to, turn it up fast to "loud," then go all the way back down to the softest cue. This teaches the dog to respond to a quiet cue because the loud one is unpleasant and is a correction rather than a normal cue. And you won't desensitize your dog in the process.

When using physical cues, whether it's with our hands or body language, a lead, the checkcord, a whistle, or an e-collar, we need to start softly. If more is needed to make a correction, don't increase the cue so gradually the dog doesn't notice it has been increased. Turn the "volume" up, make your point, then go all the way back to a quiet cue.

It's easy to pick out a dog that has been desensitized. They typically do one of two things: They act a little fearful and are looking at their handler almost constantly, or they ignore the handler and do whatever they want. The first comes from being too controlling and heavy-handed; the second comes from not enforcing commands after one cue.

A soft touch leaves the style in the dog, while a dog that has been dominated will still perform but will lack the confident, classy look of a dog trained with a lighter touch. The light-touch dog is trained; the dominated dog is "broke." If we keep our commands/cues to a minimum, we allow the dog to concentrate on doing its job rather than listening to us chatter. A person who is overcontrolling is usually a person who gets a dog broke but not trained. The dog is reacting more out of domination and fear instead of boldness and confidence.

Believe it or not, it's also possible to desensitize a dog to praise. Over-rewarding with effusive praise takes the dog's focus off its job and desensitizes it to a gentle touch, while a light touch or quick pat on the shoulders tells the dog it has done well yet allows the dog to continue doing its job.

The end product of a desensitized dog is a dog that exhibits boredom, confusion, or fear (and fear includes bolting and running away from the situation). Slow down, take your time to teach the dog what you want, and don't be in a hurry to name the commands. When you do name them, be consistent and quiet. Give a command once and then back it up with a correction other than verbal.

Less is more: Train and handle your dog with that short phrase in mind. Teach your dog to respond to a quiet cue the first time so you don't desensitize it, and you'll spend a lot more time hunting and a lot less time correcting.

Four

The Lexus SUV zoomed by us throwing gravel and horn blasting, then stopped on a dime right in front. Mr. Willie like to put our horses down trying not to hit it. That woke up Pop—he was riding shotgun. A pretty blond lady jumped out of the Lexus and ran to Mr. Willie, waving her arms.

“Oh, Mr. Sutphin, we’ve got another dog for you to take to the prairie, a very special dog,” she gushed.

The driver of the Lexus pushed his card through the window; Mr. Willie handed it to me to read:

Richard
Worthington IV
Investment
Banker
America-
Union Bank
Charlotte,
NC

Pop heard me say “banker” and muttered “repo man.”

Out the Lexus’ back window, a white setter with one brown ear smiled at us. The lady—she said her name was Betty—got the setter out on a leash, told us all the things she’d taught him.

“What’s his name?” Mr. Willie asked.

“Four,” Mizz Betty said.

“Four?”

“After my husband Richard—his name is Richard Worthington the Fourth.”

“Oh,” Mr. Willie nodded.

Richard IV gave Mr. Willie his check for $1,200.

“I’m a grouse hunter mostly, want him to hunt close, quarter his country, retrieve to my left hand.”

“Uh huh,” Mr. Willie said as he inspected the check.

Pop took Four’s lead and headed to our trailer.

“Oh, no,” Mizz Betty said, “He can’t ride there.”

“Let him ride with me,” I said, easing him into the back seat of our dually. Mr. Willie grumbled, but didn’t say no.

In seconds, we were back on the road to North Dakota, one spoiled setter and $1,200 richer.

Pop turned and grinned at me, “Quarter his country and retrieve to the left hand—looks like work for you, Whitt.”

“Quarter his country,” Mr. Willie muttered. He’d spent forty years teaching dogs not to quarter, to get on out front and hunt the edges. He and Pop were strictly all-age men. Richard IV and Mizz Betty were greenhorns, you could tell from their new clothes from Stafford’s, their Russell boots.

“Bet that’s his first dog,” Mr. Willie speculated.

“Right good lookin’ setter though,” Pop said. (Mr. Willie didn’t cotton to setters, but Pop and me sort of liked ‘em.)

Four and me were already pals. He stared out the window at the passing scenery, turned now and then to lick my face.

We made our camp at Mott in three days, only two flats. I chained Four to a barrel in the shelter break, and he commenced to bark. Soon as we got unloaded,

Mr. Willie said, “Turn that shag loose—I can’t stand his barkin’. Maybe a rattlesnake will get him.”

I turned him loose, but he didn’t run off, just hung around like a house dog—which of course he was.

We couldn’t run dogs legal ‘til July 15, so we patched fence, cleaned up camp, roaded on the section roads, fooled with pups on the pigeons I trapped in town at the grain elevator. Four pointed the first one I planted for him, tail straight up.

“My, my,” Pop said.

“Shag,” Mr. Willie said.

Finally July 15 came, and at daylight we loaded the dog trailer. I slipped Four in a box when Mr. Willie wasn’t lookin’. After Pop and Mr. Willie had worked the others, Mr. Willie said, “I didn’t see nothin’ in that bunch could win a cow-pasture trial.”

I got Four and led him to Pop.

“Let’s try the shag, Mr. Willie,” Pop said.

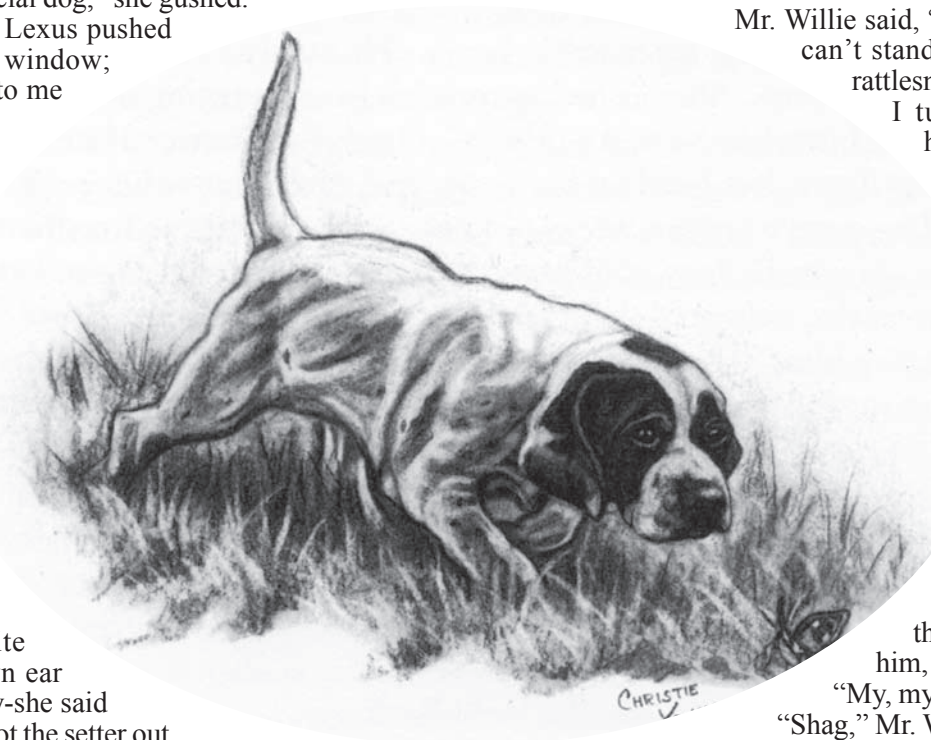

“You’re supposed to teach him to hunt close, quarter his ground-horseback work won’t help you do that,” Mr. Willie said.

“Can I ride your horse, Mr. Willie?” I asked. He handed me the reins, got in the truck, pulled his hat brim down for a nap.

I turned Four loose, and Pop tooted his whistle. Before I got on the bumper to mount, Four was out of sight.

Next time we saw Four, he was a quarter-mile off, going away like a jet plane. Then he stopped real sudden, for an instant, and pheasants flew. He’d flash-pointed three more bunches before we caught up to him.

“That’s enough for today,” Pop said. We watered Four, fitted a harness, rode back to the truck. Pop grinned all the way. It was one of them summers. Lots of pheasants and sharptails, good weather—and our derby string just trash. All except Four, that is. He got better every time Pop and me turned him loose.

"You better took a look at this shag, Mr. Willie, I believe he's all-age," Pop said one night at supper.

"All-age setter's like a unicorn, just a myth," Mr. Willie said. But next day Mr. Willie rode Four's workout, and when that thirty minutes was over, he was a believer.

"Strangest thing I ever saw... not sure I believe my own eyes," Mr. Willie said.

From that day on, Four got all our attention.

Meanwhile, Mizz Betty called three nights a week to check on Four. Mr. Willie made me answer the phone.

"He's doin' just fine, ma'am. Yes, he's learning a lot... Quartering his country? Well, we're working on that."

Then one night when Mr. Willie was in town for groceries, Pop used the phone.

"Mizz Worthington, Ma'am, has you and Mr. Worthington ever considered takin' up field trials?... Not interested... I understand. Just thought I'd ask."

Mid-August Mizz Betty called, said they wuz comin' up to see what we'd taught Four. That set off a panic.

"Best setter prospect I've seen since Tekoa Mountain Sunrise," Pop said, shakin' his head.

"Only decent shag ever been in my string," Mr. Willie said.

Momma called Saturday night as usual to check on us.

"Let me speak to her a minute when you finish," Mr. Willie said.

"Mizz Hazel, if I sent you some dog hair, could you match the color with hair dye?"

(Momma ran a beauty parlor in Rockingham, Hazel's House of Heavenly Hair.)

"Why sure, Mr. Willie. What you need that for?"

"I'll explain that later," Mr. Willie said.

We mailed a clip from Four's brown ear to Momma. Few days later we got a brown bottle back with instructions how to use it. Mr. Willie puzzled on the instructions, then he called Momma.

"Mizz Hazel, get you a plane ticket and get up here. We'll meet you at the Bismarck Airport."

For the first time, Pop understood what Mr. Willie had in mind; he explained it to me after Mr. Willie was asleep.

Ever since Mr. Thor, setter folks has been breeding for white ones—"snowballs" they call 'em. A dozen trainers had camps within an hour of us, and Mr. Willie started calling 'em to see if anybody had a close-huntin' snowball male, medium size, high tailed. Finally Mr. Willie called Marshall Loftin. (Mr. Loftin had a string of famous setters years before, Wonsover setters for Doctor Morrison.) He said he had one that fit the description. So we lit out for Trail City. Sure enough, Mr. Loftin's setter looked just like Four, 'cept he was all white. And he hunted close and quartered, which was why Mr. Loftin was willing to sell him.

Momma flew into Bismarck next day. She'd been mighty scared when she got on at the Charlotte Airport, but the Bloody Marys the stewardess brought cured that. She'd always said she wanted the see the prairie country Pop talked about.

"Miles and miles of absolutely nothing," was her opinion when we finally got back to camp.

I styled our new setter up on the board between the cottonwoods where we taught dogs to whoa and retrieve. Then I put Four on the picnic table so Momma could see how she was to make the new white setter look. In half an hour, she'd created Four's double.

That night Momma fixed my favorites for supper-pork roast, turnip greens, sweet-potato pie.

"How long will that dye job last," Mr. Willie asked her after downing his third piece of pie.

"Till the hair grows out, same as with people," Momma said.

"Whitt, your job is to teach this new setter to retrieve—to the left hand, mind you," Pop said with a laugh.

Next morning, on the board between the cottonwoods, I started the lessons. The new setter (we called him Four Two-you write it "Four II") learned quick.

The season's first field trial was set for that weekend—the Iron Nation Trial down in South Dakota. Mr. Willie called in our entries. Gave Four's name as Sunrise Big Surprise, his owner as H. Stokes.

"Mr. Willie, you better let me do a little more beauty work," Momma said at breakfast.

"What do you mean, Mizz Hazel?" Mr. Willie asked.

"We better dye the real Four's other ear brown. If he's as good as you claim, he's going to be famous, and you don't want the Worthington IVs figuring our you made a switch."

"You're right as usual, Mizz Hazel," Mr. Willie said.

The real Four won the Iron Nation Derby, got his picture in the Field with me posing him and Momma, Pop, and Mr. Willie standin' behind us.

Week after that, the Worthington IVs came to camp. Before they arrived, Mr. Willie took off with the real Four to hide out. Four II worked close, quartered his country. Pop let Mr. Worthington IV shoot some pigeons over his points; he retrieved to Mr. Worthington IV's left hand. Two days later they left, Four II in the back of the Lexus, all three passengers grinning like possums. (Mr. Worthington IV gave Pop and me a $100 tip for the good job we'd done. Pop let me have it all.)

Next day Momma and I flew back to Charlotte so I could start eighth grade and she could get back to Hazel's House of Heavenly Hair. Pop and Mr. Willie started down the field-trial circuit.

Four was a sensation that fall, won or placed most every week, became the talk of the field-trial fraternity. A week didn't pass that Four's picture wasn't in the American Field. Momma pinned the pictures all over the walls of Hazel's House of Heavenly Hair. She ordered a subscription to the American Field for the Worthington IVs.

To be continued next month.

MEMBERS OF THE AMERICAN BRITTANY CLUB

Give the gift of a new membership... to give the opportunity to someone to learn about and participate in the American Brittany Club.

This membership campaign is really quite simple, we are asking every member to donate/sponsor a membership in the American Brittany Club. This "gifted" membership might be to a puppy purchaser, or a friend/acquaintance who has a Brittany. All of us encounter people who may just need a little encouragement to become members.

This can work, but it is totally dependent upon your support. Please use the ABC application form in the back of the magazine to enroll a new member today. You may donate/sponsor multiple new memberships. The names of new members & ABC sponsors will be published in the magazine on a quarterly basis.

THIS IS OUR CHANCE TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE!
